Louisiana's Estimated Tax Income To Be $725 Million

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 27 (AP)—Louisiana's estimated income for fiscal 1952-1954 is $725 million while budget expenditures total $701 million, $29 million more than for 1950-52.

This was the overall financial picture for the next two years in a new budget estimate prepared by J. H. Rester, assistant budget director.

The $725 million includes $142 million in federal aid.

In addition, Rester reported that the total estimated surpluses in various state funds totaling $56 million will drop down to $37 million by the end of 1954. The $37 million would include $11 million in a state general fund surplus, he estimated.

In a budget report Rester prepared before the 1952 Legislature convened in May, the total estimated state revenues for 1950-52 amounted to $739 million, including $159 million in federal aid.

Of the $701 million in budgeted expenditures for the 1952-54 biennium, Rester said $689 million would be for purposes of recurring nature, meaning general expenses of state operations.

The new budget shows education will get a $321 million or 33.58 per cent slice of the state revenues.

Next in line is public welfare, which will receive $222 million or 22.32 per cent.

Highways will get $58 million, or 8.5 per cent and after highways is hospitals and mental institutions, $44 million or 6.48 per cent.

The $58 million for highways during the 1952-54 biennum compares with the greater amount of $105 million for 1950-52. The state will have about $47 million less in highway funds.

The administration supported legislation which slashed two cents from the nine-cent a gallon gasoline tax. The Highway Department receives revenues from the gasoline tax.

Rester's report placed total public welfare assistance at $222 million against $202 million for 1950-52. The new budget gives an estimated $109 million for 1952-53 and $112 million for 1953-54.

U. S. Can't Gamble On Russia, Bradley Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley thinks the chance of Russia making war by 1954 is lessened but that the possibility "is so great we can't afford to slow down" the defense buildup, as Britain is doing.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said so in talking with reporters today about his recent inspection trip to Europe. He presumably gave a similar although more detailed account to President Truman.

In answer to newsmens' questions, he also expressed these other thoughts:

1. Although there is no idea of telling the secrets of atomic bomb manufacture, won't the top military leaders of the other NATO countries need to have some idea how many atomic weapons they can count on as part of the Western European defense plan?

2. With the military organization now a going concern of commands and forces in being and emphasis turning more toward overall administration of the international structure, where do the member nations look henceforth for leadership? To the secretary general of NATO's permanent council, a post now held by Lord Ismay of England? Or should the military commander, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, be continued for a time as the central figure who makes decisions and does negotiating?

3. There is no split among military leaders over strategy for the defense of Western Europe against a Russian attack. "The people over there are studying two or three or maybe more methods" for stopping a Russian strike into the free areas of Europe.

Bradley said "some of the countries over there are trying to seize on our possession of the atomic bomb as an excuse for not increasing" their mutual defense forces to the originally contemplated strength. He added also that "there has been some little indication that some people in our country want to depend on the A-bomb." But Bradley declared:

"I don't believe that is sound. You must have bround troops to compel an enemy to concentrate and make a profitable target."

If troops were dispersed, the effect of atomic attack would be dissipated.

THOMAS MAY IS CRASH VICTIM

Well Known Monroe Man Killed; Funeral Today At Mulhearn's

Thomas E. May, 41, 1315 Spencer, was killed Saturday at approximately 8:25 a. m. when the 1950 Crosley he was driving was struck by a 1952 Chevrolet at the intersection of Louisville and Riverfront, directly under the light signal at the foot of the new bridge.

Mrs. Verna L. DeLouche, 39, Westlake, La., was identified by Monroe police officers as driver of the 1952 Chevrolet sedan. District Attorney Fred Fudickar, Jr. issued a warrant late Saturday charging Mrs. DeLouche with negligent homicide.

Traffic officers of the Monroe police department stated that May, who was proceeding south on Riverfront, was struck by the DeLouche automobile when the driver ran the red light. Witnesses also stated that Mrs. DeLouche ran the light and hit May who was proceeding across the intersection. The 1950 Crosley was turned over three times, pinning May underneath.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, stated that death was due to a fractured skull and crushed chest.

May was associated with May and Guthrie Hardware Company, 101 North Grand. He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Kiwanis Club, and alumni of Louisiana Tech. He served as a sergeant in the Air Corp during World War II.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p. m. in the chapel of Mulhearn's Funeral home with Dr. H. L. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will follow in Riverview

Ouachita Valley Fair Will Open Next Monday Night

One week from tomorrow the Ouachita Valley Fair will open in West Monroe. The fair will run nightly for one week.

The Ouachita Valley Fair, the show place of Ouachita Valley agriculture, will feature a cattle show this year that will bring some of the prize herds of the state into West Monroe. John H. Birdsong, fair manager, said yesterday that cattle show entries "are pouring in and many more are expected by show time."

Birdsong and Fair Association President Tom E. Hicks have announced that the fair grounds, located on North Seventh St., are in good shape and will be ready for the opening.

In addition to the hundreds of agricultural and home exhibits, the fair will offer a vast variety of mechanical amusement gadgets, many of them different from any ever brought here.

Birdsong said he had engaged the Wallace Brothers Shows to supply the amusement equipment this year. Snapp's greater Shows was here last year.

TIMES ENDORSES GEN. EISENHOWER

Shreveport Paper Calls It 'Last Chance To Bring Back Americanism'

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 27—The Shreveport Times tomorrow will endorse General Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in an editorial urging southern Democrats to unite behind his ticket as "the last chance to bring back Americanism to America."

"Victory can be won in Louisiana and the south," the editorial will say, "only by southern Democrats who place their country, their homes, their families above party labels and ballot emblems."

The editorial also will say:

"We urge every Democrat to vote for the Eisenhower ticket in November.

"We believe that this is the only way this nation can be regained from the taxers and wasters, the corruption-breeders and Communist-coddlers.

"We believe that Louisiana's future economic and social gains rest with this state freeing itself from the Washington brass collar that the National Democratic party again is trying to ring around the necks of Louisiana Democrats.

"We believe that the heart and soul of America can be reclaimed from the degradation of the past dismal decade of Washington dealism only through complete political destruction of the evil forces now controlling the National Democratic party and seeking to dictate to the Louisiana Democratic party.

We believe that this is our last chance to bring back Americanism to America, and that this can be done only by electing Dwight Eisenhower as president.

"We fear that if the cancer that has been eating at the body of the American republic is not removed this time, Stalin's communism, which for years has been engaged in a program designed to take over this country, may succeed by default."

GRACE CHURCH SCHEDULE NEW

Emphasis To Be Placed On Family Worship; Nursery Is Planned

New schedules for Sunday services and for Church School classes, effective October 5 were today announced at Grace Episcopal Church by the Rector, the Rev. John M. Allin. The new schedule is as follows.

The Holy Eucharist will be Celebrated at 7:30 a.m. This will be followed by the very popular Koffee Klatch (a friendship period in the Parish House). Morning Prayer will be read at 9:00 a.m. There will be a Choral Eucharist and Sermon at 9:45. This is the big family service, replacing the 11:00 o'clock service on the old schedule. There will be no service at 11:00 o'clock after this Sunday.

The emphasis of the new schedule is on family worship. Children 7 years and older are asked to attend the 9:45 service with their parents. Children 3 to 6 will be in the Parish House Chapel for their own service at 9:45. There will be a nursery to care for all children under three years of age.

"This new service schedule," Father Allin said, "is linked with an expanded educational program. Under the new program there will be a class period of at least 45 minutes for every member of the family regardless of age."

The Nursery and primary department will be run as separate units, with achievements planned from 9:45 until 12:00 sharp. The lower school (ages 7 through 11), while attending the opening part of the family Church service, will be dismissed during the sermon

LITTLE THEATRE SCHEDULE GIVEN

Miss Lallage Feazel Is Chairman Of Play-Reading Committee

The Little Theatre of Monroe, Inc. announced today its full schedule of theatrical events for the coming 1952-53 season. Miss Lallage Feazel, chairman of the play-reading committee, and Stocker Fontelieu, executive director of the local group, say that the five selections for production this season promise one of the most diversified seasons in the Little Theatre's colorful twenty year history.

A list of the five plays, their authors, production dates and total number of cast members, is as follows: "Room Service," by John Murray and Allen Boretz has a cast of twelve men and two women and is scheduled for its eight night run from Wednesday, October 15 through Wednesday, October 22.

The play-reading committee has chosen for the second play of the year Clifford Odet's profound study of people "The Country Girl." This play has a cast of six men and two women, and will run from Wednesday, December 3 through Wednesday, December 10. The first production of 1953 will be John Van Druten's riotous story of modern day witchcraft "Bell, Book and Candle." The smallest cast of the season will take over with this production when three men and two women appear for public pres-

ALLIED NATIONS HAD REQUESTED LONDON MEETING

West Wanted Session To Settle Austrian Independence

LONDON, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP)—Russia has rejected the latest Western bid for a Big Four meeting to draw up a treaty to restore independence to occupied Austria, Moscow radio announced early today.

The U. S., Britain and France submitted to Russia Sept. 5 proposals for an Austrian independence treaty which they said met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact.

The three Western Powers asked for four-power talks in London beginning Monday to draft the treaty.

To meet Russian objections, the Western Allies said they would agree reluctantly to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they would be willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free election, basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

GROUP CHOSEN ON RED SHIELD

Appointees Will Be Responsible For Problems Of Organization

Miss Juanita Porter, chairman of the local Salvation Army advisory board, appointed at the last meeting, a Red Shield committee composed of Dr. N. L. Moncrief, chairman; J. P. Norris, Jr., J. R. Plaisance, and Fred Riser. These men will be responsible for problems facing the Red Shield program of the Salvation Army.

Dr. Moncrief, as chairman of the committee would like to point out that the Red Shield program is not for boys only. This program of the Red Shield Club has several girl activities going on. A group of girls known as Girl Guards which is a similiar program to that of the girl scouts. Certain nights of the week are set aside for activities for girls only. Included in the program for girls, are sewing, shell craft, music and many other crafts.

An invitation is given to all citizens to drop in at The Red Shield

The Fund

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson announced tonight his "gifts" totaling $18,150 to eight top Illinois appointive officials from money left over from his 1948 political campaign fund.

The Democratic presidential nominee said the gifts came out of a surplus of $18,744.96 left from the campaign plus $2,900 in subsequent contributions from certain Chicago businessmen.

He did not account for the difference between the total of the gifts and the fund total.

Stevenson said his financial showdown with the Republicans will go further—he will make public his income tax returns for the last 10 years after he returns to Springfield, Ill., tomorrow.

Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, his vice-presidential running mate, has promised to do the same thing, Stevenson said.

TEXAN KILLED NEAR BASTROP

Crash Victim Believed To Be Federal Housing Inspector

BASTROP, La., Sept. 27 (Special)—Morehouse parish sheriff Robert Harp reported today that Howard Lee Carlin, 43, of Dallas, Tex., had been killed one mile west of here on the Monroe highway at 12:30 p.m. when he lost control of his automobile.

Harp stated that the 1952 Chevrolet, which Carlin was driving, was completely demolished after leaving the highway and turning over.

Deputies were attempting to locate relatives late today. Identification papers stated that he was an inspector for the Federal Housing Authority working out of the Dallas office. Officers stated that they believed Carlin only worked in Dallas and that his family lived elsewhere.

The body was taken to the Robinson Funeral Home.

Silverstein Asks Citizens To Help In Chest Campaign

David C. Silverstein, chairman of the 1952-53 Twin City Community Chest drive issued an appeal today to all citizens of the Twin Cities to work in behalf of meeting this year's quota of $75,000.

Silverstein, well known Monroe merchant, along with C. D. McAdams, co-chairman of the drive, stated that only 23 per cent of the goal had been reached as of today. This per cent totals $19,921.25 of the $75,000 goal.

The campaign officially closes October 11.

The Community Chest finances the operation of 10 organizations. They are: Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, Y. W. C. A., West Monroe Recreation Council, Salvation Army, Red Shield Boys Club, Twin City P.-T. A. Council's Child Health and Welfare program, Monroe Maternal and Infant Welfare Clinic, The Colored Community Welfare Organization, and the West Monroe Colored Recreation Council.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts program is a character and training building program dealing with young boys and girls.

The Young Women's Christian Association, which maintains a home on Jackson street, is an organization for young girls, young business women and the housewife with a purpose devoted to Christian thought and whose aim is creating good fellowship among women and girls of the world.

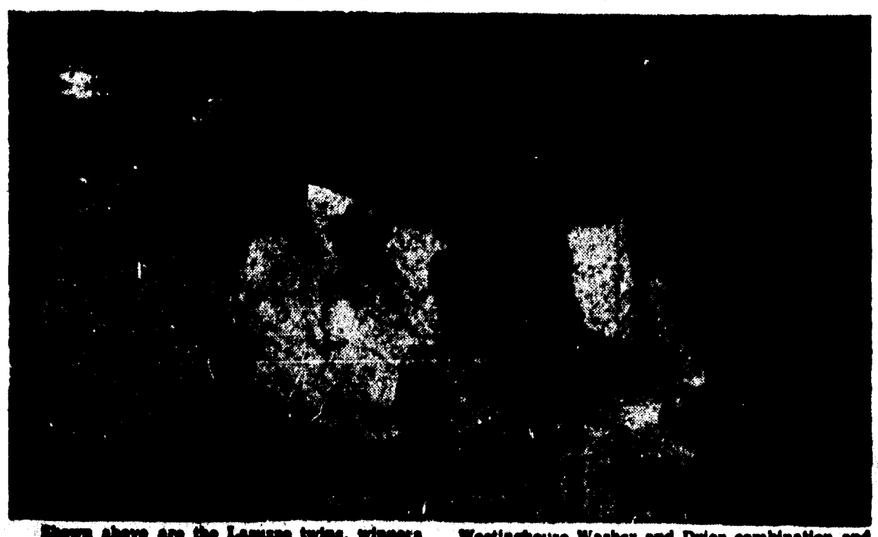

The West Monroe Recreation Council's program is devoted to providing supervising playground and recreational facilities for boys and girls in the city of West Monroe.

The Salvation Army, whose purpose is Christian also, administers to the body as well as in the soul of the needy and those in distress. Throughout the Twin Cities and the nation word of praise can be heard for the good works which this organization of the Community Chest has administered.

The emphasis of the new schedule is on family worship. Children 7 years and older are asked t oattend the 9:45 service with their parents. Children 3 to 6 will be in the Parish House Chapel for their own service at 9:45. There will be a nursery to care for all children under three years of age.

"This new service schedule," Father Allin said, "is linked with an expanded educational program. Under the new program there will be a class period of at least 45 minutes for every member of the family regardless of age."

The Nursery and primary department will be run as separate units, with achievements planned from 9:45 until 12:00 sharp. The lower school (ages 7 through 11), while attending the opening part of the family Church service, will be dismissed during the sermon

Miss Lallage Feazel Is Chairman Of Play-Reading Committee

The Little Theatre of Monroe, Inc. announced today its full schedule of theatrical events for the coming 1952-53 season. Miss Lallage Feazel, chairman of the play-reading committee, and Stocker Fontelieu, executive director of the local group, say that the five selections for production this season promise one of the most diversified seasons in the Little Theatre's colorful twenty year history.

A list of the five plays, their authors, production dates and total number of cast members, is as follows: "Room Service," by John Murray and Allen Boretz has a cast of twelve men and two women and is scheduled for its eight night run from Wednesday, October 15 through Wednesday, October 22.

The play-reading committee has chosen for the second play of the year Clifford Odet's profound study of people "The Country Girl." This play has a cast of six men and two women, and will run from Wednesday, December 3 through Wednesday, December 10. The first production of 1953 will be John Van Druten's riotous story of modern day witchcraft "Bell, Book and Candle." The smallest cast of the season will take over with this production when three men and two women appear for public pres-

ALLIED NATIONS HAD REQUESTED LONDON MEETING

West Wanted Session To Settle Austrian Independence

LONDON, Sunday, Sept. 28 (AP)—Russia has rejected the latest Western bid for a Big Four meeting to draw up a treaty to restore independence to occupied Austria, Moscow radio announced early today.

The U. S., Britain and France submitted to Russia Sept. 5 proposals for an Austrian independence treaty which they said met previous Soviet objections to the long-delayed pact.

The three Western Powers asked for four-power talks in London beginning Monday to draft the treaty.

To meet Russian objections, the Western Allies said they would agree reluctantly to limit Austria's future armed forces. They said they would be willing to demand that an independent Austria guarantee free election, basic freedoms and anti-Nazi measures.

GROUP CHOSEN ON RED SHIELD

Appointees Will Be Responsible For Problems Of Organization

Miss Juanita Porter, chairman of the local Salvation Army advisory board, appointed at the last meeting, a Red Shield committee composed of Dr. N. L. Moncrief, chairman; J. P. Norris, Jr., J. R. Plaisance, and Fred Riser. These men will be responsible for problems facing the Red Shield program of the Salvation Army.

Dr. Moncrief, as chairman of the committee would like to point out that the Red Shield program is not for boys only. This program of the Red Shield Club has several girl activities going on. A group of girls known as Girl Guards which is a similiar program to that of the girl scouts. Certain nights of the week are set aside for activities for girls only. Included in the program for girls, are sewing, shell craft, music and many other crafts.

An invitation is given to all citizens to drop in at The Red Shield

The Fund

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson announcd tonight his "gifts" totaling $18,150 to eight top Illinois appointive officials from money left over from his 1948 political campaign fund.

The Democratic presidential nominee said the gifts came out of a surplus of $18,744.96 left from the campaign plus $2,900 in subsequent contributions from certain Chicago businessmen.

He did not account for the difference between the total of the gifts and the fund total.

Stevenson said his financial showdown with the Republicans will go further—he will make public his income tax returns for the last 10 years after he returns to Springfield, Ill., tomorrow.

Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, his vice - presidential running mate, has promised to do the same thing, Stevenson said.

Jes' Ramblin'

A personable young woman in Liege, Belgium, Ginette Wuildschutz, by a twist of fate chanced to meet a Monroe soldier, Cpl. Davis E. Owen. After a whirlwind courtship, they were married there July 23, 1946. She came to the United States, arriving July 13, 1947, and has resided in Monroe ever since. She admits she could speak only several words of English at her arrival, but today she speaks as perfectly as any native.

Right now this blue eyed, brown-haired young woman is happy in that she has secured naturalization papers and has become a new American citizen. She will cast her ballot in the coming national election, and there will be no happier person in all Monroe than she.

Ginette (it is our Janet but spelled the Belgian way) has been able to exchange her native Liege for Monroe and feels that her new

Roy O. Hale Dies In Kerrville, Tex.

Roy O. Hale, 69, well known Monroe resident and for years connected with the Motor Supply Company here up to time of retirement, died in Kerrville, Tex., hospital early Saturday morning. His entire immediate family was present at the time he died.

The body will be brought to Monroe for the funeral and interment.

Mr. Hale was a prominent member of the First Methodist Church here and was one of its liberal contributers.

He had been in Kerrville for a month.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Etta Hale, three daughters, Mrs. R. K. Haines, Bay City, Tex.; Mrs. E. R. Hammonds, Bay City, Tex.; Mrs. Ross McDade 111, El Campo, Tex.; two nephews, Lelas Hale, Monroe; Horace Hale, Tallulah; two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of Mulhearn's Funeral Home.

Truman Seeks Peace In Aircraft Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP)—President Truman today called upon both workers and management to end the strike at the Douglas and Lockheed aircraft plants in California in the interest of national defense.

The White House disclosed that the President had sent a telegram to the heads of both aircraft companies and the union officials involved.

Some 40,000 workers have been idled by the strike at the two plants.

ANOTHER BISHOP TO BE INDUCTED

Rev. Iveson Noland Will Be Consecrated To Suffragan Office

NEW ORLEANS, (Special)—The Rev. Iveson B. Noland, a native Louisianian, will be consecrated suffragon Bishop of the Diocese of Louisiana of the Episcopal Church here October 1, 10:30 a. m.

After consecration, which includes the traditional act of laying on of hands by three Bishops of the Church, the Rev. Mr. Noland will become the first Suffragan Bishop in the history of the church in Louisiana.

As suffragan bishop of the diocese, he will reside in Alexandria, near the center of the state, and travel to churches throughout the diocese, conducting visitations, confirmations and other Episcopal duties of his high office, and will serve as an assistant to Bishop Jones.

The act of consecration is accomplished by the laying on of hands by at least three bishops of the Church, and is one of the most impressive services of the Church. The consecrators for the Rev. Mr. Noland will be the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones, Bishop of Louisiana, the Rt. Rev. Duncan M. Gray of Mississippi, and the Rt. Rev. Bland

Crash Victim Believed To Be Federal Housing Inspector

BASTROP, La., Sept. 27 (Special)—Morehouse parish sheriff Robert Harp reported today that Howard Lee Carlin, 43, of Dallas, Tex., had been killed one mile west of here on the Monroe highway at 12:30 p.m. when he lost control of his automobile.

Harp stated that the 1952 Chevrolet, which Carlin was driving, was completely demolished after leaving the highway and turning over.

Deputies were attempting to locate relatives late today. Identification papers stated that he was an inspector for the Federal Housing Authority working out of the Dallas office. Officers stated that they believed Carlin only worked in Dallas and that his family lived elsewhere.

The body was taken to the Robinson Funeral Home.

Silverstein Asks Citizens To Help In Chest Campaign

David C. Silverstein, chairman of the 1952-53 Twin City Community Chest drive issued an appeal today to all citizens of the Twin Cities to work in behalf of meeting this year's quota of $75,000.

Silverstein, well known Monroe merchant, along with C. D. McAdams, co-chairman of the drive, stated that only 23 per cent of the goal had been reached as of today. This per cent totals $19,921.25 of the $75,000 goal.

The campaign officially closes October 11.

The Community Chest finances the operation of 10 organizations. They are: Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, Y. W. C. A., West Monroe Recreation Council, Salvation Army, Red Shield Boys Club, Twin City P.-T. A. Council's Child Health and Welfare program, Monroe Maternal and Infant Welfare Clinic, The Colored Community Welfare Organization, and the West Monroe Colored Recreation Council.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts program is a character and training building program dealing with young boys and girls.

The Young Women's Christian Association, which maintains a home on Jackson street, is an organization for young girls, young business women and the housewife with a purpose devoted to Christian thought and whose aim is creating good fellowship among women and girls of the world.

The West Monroe Recreation Council's program is devoted to providing supervising playground and recreational facilities for boys and girls in the city of West Monroe.

The Salvation Army, whose purpose is Christian also, administers to the body as well as in the soul of the needy and those in distress. Throughout the Twin Cities and the nation word of praise can be heard for the good works which this organization of the Community Chest has administered.

Negro Charged With Aggravated Battery

The Ouachita Parish sheriff department is holding a Monroe Negro on a charge of aggravated battery as a result of a shooting scrape early Saturday morning. The Negro was apprehended on a warrant charge by the Monroe city police and turned over to the sheriff department.

Officers identified the Negro as James Sullus, 25, 32 Blanks Alley, and said the shooting occurred about 4:30 a. m. on the Fred Johnson place, Milhaven Road. Sullus is reported to have shot another Negro, Robert Ellis with a 38-calibre pistol. The two Negroes were reported to have been arguing, apparently over a gambling game.

Ellis was taken to the Charity hospital where his condition was reported as "not critical." He suffered a wound of the stomach and right thigh.

MARINE DEPOT GRADUATES

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Sept. 27.—(Special)—Two Monroe young men have been graduated from the platoon leaders' course (junior) at the Marine corps recruit depot here. They are Cpl. Wayne H. Woods, left, son of Harold L. Woods, 518 Hilton street, and Cpl. Alvin Bodan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bodan, 705 Stubbs avenue.

Corporal Bodan is attending Northeast Louisiana State College, where he is majoring in pharmacy, and Corporal Woods is attending Louisiana State University, where he is majoring in geology.

The first or junior, of the two six-week summer programs, provides a general background of basic military training; weapons instruction and range firing. On a rotation basis, each individual candidate performs duty as a unit commander, member of the guard and is in charge of the policing of the living area.

Leadership evaluation is the most important part of the course. It is subdivided into command presence (confidence, example, enthusiasm and voice) and the tactical handling of troops. Candidates must pass rigid inspection under the eyes of Marines Corps officers specially chosen for their own high qualities as leaders.

A second, or senior course of six weeks is offered to successful graduates of the junior course. It is given at another Marine Corps activity.

LEGION INSTALLS NEW OFFICIALS

Tallulah Group Holds Formal Exercise; Orchard Inducts

The officers of Scott - Nicoll-Voak Post No. 100 American Legion was installed at the American Legion Home in Tallulah, Thursday night, by Post Commander Sam Orchard of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13. The following officers were installed:

Commander, Jas. Wallace; first vice-commander, H. W. Massey; second vice - commander, Clay Crawford; adjutant, Will Harvey; Sgt. at arms, C. Ramegos and A. H. Willett, Jr.; chaplain, R. G. Waugh; historian, A. H. Sevier, Jr.; finance officer, James Bryan.

This post has a building program in progress and the following men have been named on the building committee:

James Wallace, chairman; James W. Davis, Ernest Stocks, James Young R. G. Waugh and B. H. Pruitt.

This building will be of ranch style of brick and asbestos siding. It is hoped to have it ready for use by Christmas when it is proposed to have a party for Legionnaires and the Auxiliary. The building will cost $20,000 approximately.

A chicken supper, barbecue style, was served as a climax to the installation exercises.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Pictur postcards to picture people:

Having collected the last leg of my vacation on the sunny sands of Balboa, I am catching up with the movie news again. I think I'll exercise the vacationist's privilege and toss a few postcards to people who have been making the headlines.

Howard Hughes—So you've sold out your interest in RKO, eh, Howard old boy? Well, I hope this doesn't mean that you and your sneakers are walking off the Hollywood scene. We need you. Not that you have contributed anything to the art of the cinema. But columnists must have characters to write about, and you certainly qualify in that league. Stick around.

Humphrey Bogart — I saw you on television last week. You were presenting a tennis award to Maureen Connolly. What is this? Are you harking back to the days when you used to romp onstage and remark, "Tennis, anyone?" Does this mean you are going in for outdoor sports? Maybe you'd better stick to being an indoor sport.

Mary Pickford — Gee, the saddest news I've seen recently was your bow-out on the movie you were goint to do. I wish you'd find another script you like and go through with it. That might be just the thing to get the over-35 audience back in the movie theaters.

Betty Grable — how come you take another suspension after telling me you'd do a "Smoky" remake before you'd be suspended? And just because the studio wanted the queen of the musicals to play a former B girl who is duped into carrying secrets for the Communists. Now is that a good reason?

Mario Lanza — I have a new theme song for you, Slim. It's that old spiritual, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've seen."

Charlie Chaplin — You can use it, too.

Rosemary Clooney — I like digging your jive on the TV set and hereby predict you will soon be pushing Doris Day for top honors among the film chirpers. But puh-leeze sing anything besides that "Botch-a-me."

Martin and Lewis — I am sending under separate cover one pound of detergent to use on your comic material. And a reminder that most of the great comedians—Will Rogers, W. C. Fields, Ed Wynn, Jack Benny—got that way because they kept it clean.

UNITED STATES POLL

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 27.—Results of the latest Princeton Research Service "trial heat" of voter preference for president in the southern states, show Dwight D. Eisnhower to be running 12.8 per cent ahead of the vote obtained by the Republican nominee for president in 1948, Thomas E. Dewey. However, Adlai Stevenson has a substantial lead over Eisenhower.

Eisenhower is still 9.5 per cent behind the southern vote for Herbert Hoover, the Republican opponent of Al Smith in 1928, when Hoover obtained 52 per cent of the majority party vote in the 13 southern states and carried Florida, Kentucky, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

It must be understood that today's poll findings reflect only current sentiment and that opinion can change between now and election day.

As the poll was being made, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina an important figure in the Roosevelt administration, joined the southern Democratic leaders who have announced support of Eisenhower.

Princeton Research Service's United States Poll Staff asked a representative cross - section of voters in the 13 southern and border states: "Right now, which of the two candidates — Stevenson, the Democrat, or Eisenhower, the Republican — do you personally favor for president?"

This was the result among all those who expressed a definite preference, or who, if undecided, stated toward which candidate they "leaned":

Southern Presidential Vote
(Va., Ga., N. C., S. C., Fla., Miss., Ala., La., Tenn., Ark., Ky., Tex., Okla.)

Stevenson 55.5 per cent
Eisenhower 42.5 per cent
Undecided, 2.0 per cent

In the 1948 presidential election, the vote in the south broke down as follows: Dewey, 29.7 per cent; Thurmond, 17.4 per cent; and Truman, 52.9 per cent.

The split in sentiment among the various population groups in the south offers some interesting and perhaps significant information.

1. The more education people have had, the more inclined they are to favor Eisenhower. The poll by educational levels:

South, Regionwide

	Grade or no Schooling	High school	College
Stevenson	62%	54%	47%
Eisenhower	37%	43%	51%
Undecided	1%	3%	2%

2. The larger the community, the greater the sentiment for Eisenhower. The poll by size of community:

	Rural Areas	2,500-24,999	25,000-99,999	Cities 100,000 & Over
Stevenson	58%	56%	54%	51%
Eisenhower	40%	42%	44%	48%
Undecided	2%	2%	2%	1%

3. Majority sentiment among business and professional people favors Eisenhower; whereas majority sentiment among all the other occupational groups favors the Democratic candidate. The poll by occupational groups:

South Regionwise
(Figures show percentage)

	Bus. Prof.	Sales	Clerical	Skilled workers	Semi-skilled unskilled	Farmers
Stevenson	45	53	60	54	66
Eisenhower	53	46	38	42	32
Undecided	2	1	2	4	2

4. Rank and file Independents in the south prefer Eisenhower to Stevenson by a nearly 2 to 1 margin.

At the same time 1 out of every 5 persons who normally vote Democratic say they favor Eisenhower, whereas only 1 out of every 10 regular Republicans favors Stevenson. The southern poll by political parties:

5. There is not too much difference of opinion among the various age groups in the south. In every age group, Democrat Stevenson holds about a 5 to 4 lead over Republican Eisenhower. This ratio holds for the 21-29 year olds; for those between 30 and 44 years of age; and for those 45 years of age and older.

A new United States Poll report will appear in this newspaper on Wednesday.

Eisnhower to be running 12.8 per cent ahead of the vote obtained by the Republican nominee for president in 1948, Thomas E. Dewey. However, Adlai Stevenson has a substantial lead over Eisenhower.

Eisenhower is still 9.5 per cent behind the southern vote for Herbert Hoover, the Republican opponent of Al Smith in 1928, when Hoover obtained 52 per cent of the majority party vote in the 13 southern states and carried Florida, Kentucky, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

It must be understood that today's poll findings reflect only current sentiment and that opinion can change between now and election day.

As the poll was being made, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina an important figure in the Roosevelt administration, joined the southern Democratic leaders who have announced support of Eisenhower.

Princeton Research Service's United States Poll Staff asked a representative cross - section of voters in the 13 southern and border states: "Right now, which of the two candidates — Stevenson, the Democrat, or Eisenhower, the Republican — do you personally favor for president?"

This was the result among all those who expressed a definite preference, or who, if undecided, stated toward which candidate they "leaned":

Southern Presidential Vote
(Va., Ga., N. C., S. C., Fla., Miss., Ala., La., Tenn., Ark., Ky., Tex., Okla.)

Stevenson 55.5 per cent
Eisenhower 42.5 per cent
Undecided, 2.0 per cent

In the 1948 presidential election, the vote in the south broke down as follows: Dewey, 29.7 per cent; Thurmond, 17.4 per cent; and Truman, 52.9 per cent.

The split in sentiment among the various population groups in the south offers some interesting and perhaps significant information.

1. The more education people have had, the more inclined they are to favor Eisenhower. The poll by educational levels:

South, Regionwide

	Grade or no Schooling	High school training	College training
Stevenson	62%	54%	47%
Eisenhower	37%	43%	51%
Undecided	1%	3%	2%

2. The larger the community, the greater the sentiment for Eisenhower. The poll by size of community:

	Rural Areas	2,500-24,999	25,000-99,999	Cities 100,000 & Over
Stevenson	58%	56%	54%	51%
Eisenhower	40%	42%	44%	48%
Undecided	2%	2%	2%	1%

3. Majority sentiment among business and professional people favors Eisenhower; whereas majority sentiment among all the other occupational groups favors the Democratic candidate. The poll by occupational groups:

South Regionwise
(Figures show percentage)

	Bus. Prof.	Sales clerical	Skilled workers	Semi-skilled unskilled	Farmers
Stevenson	45	53	60	54	66
Eisenhower	53	46	38	42	32
Undecided	2	1	2	4	2

4. Rank and file Independents in the south prefer Eisenhower to Stevenson by a nearly 2 to 1 margin.

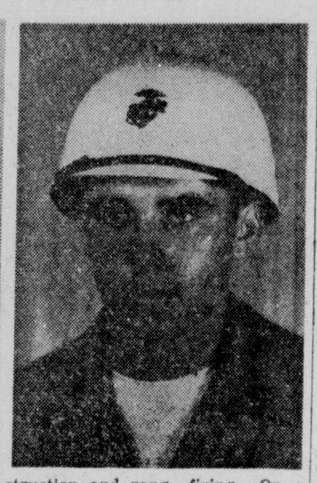

At the same time 1 out of every 5 persons who normally vote Democratic say they favor Eisenhower, whereas only 1 out of every 10 regular Republicans favors Stevenson. The southern poll by political parties:

5. There is not too much difference of opinion among the various age groups in the south. In every age group, Democrat Stevenson holds about a 5 to 4 lead over Republican Eisenhower. This ratio holds for the 21-29 year olds; for those between 30 and 44 years of age; and for those 45 years of age and older.

A new United States Poll report will appear in this newspaper on Wednesday.

MARINE DEPOT GRADUATES

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C., Sept. 27.—(Special)—Two Monroe young men have been graduated from the platoon leaders' course (junior) at the Marine corps recruit depot here. They are Cpl. Wayne H. Woods, left, son of Harold L. Woods, 518 Hilton street, and Cpl. Alvin Bodan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bodan, 705 Stubbs avenue.

Corporal Bodan is attending Northeast Louisiana State College, where he is majoring in pharmacy, and Corporal Woods is attending Louisiana State University, where he is majoring in geology.

The first or junior, of the two six-week summer programs, provides a general background of basic military training; weapons instruction and range firing. On a rotation basis, each individual candidate performs duty as a unit commander, member of the guard and is in charge of the policing of the living area.

Leadership evaluation is the most important part of the course. It is subdivided into command presence (confidence, example, enthusiasm and voice) and the tactical handling of troops. Candidates must pass rigid inspection under the eyes of Marines Corps officers specially chosen for their own high qualities as leaders.

A second, or senior course of six weeks is offered to successful graduates of the junior course. It is given at another Marine Corps activity.

LEGION INSTALLS NEW OFFICIALS

The officers of Scott - Nicoll-Voak Post No. 100 American Legion was installed at the American Legion Home in Tallulah, Thursday night, by Post Commander Sam Orchard of the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13. The following officers were installed:

Commander, Jas. Wallace; first vice-commander, H. W. Massey; second vice - commander, Clay Crawford; adjutant, Will Harvey; Sgt. at arms, C. Ramegos and A. H. Willett, Jr.; chaplain, R. G. Waugh; historian, A. H. Sevier, Jr.; finance officer, James Bryan.

This post has a building program in progress and the following men have been named on the building committee:

James Wallace, chairman; James W. Davis, Ernest Stocks, James Young R. G. Waugh and B. H. Pruitt.

This building will be of ranch style of brick and asbestos siding. It is hoped to have it ready for use by Christmas when it is proposed to have a party for Legionnaires and the Auxiliary. The building will cost $20,000 approximately.

A chicken supper, barbecue style, was served as a climax to the installation exercises.

Bob Thomas IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Pictur postcards to picture people:

Having collected the last leg of my vacation on the sunny sands of Balboa, I am catching up with the movie news again. I think I'll exercise the vacationist's privilege and toss a few postcards to people who have been making the headlines.

Howard Hughes—So you've sold out your interest in RKO, eh, Howard old boy? Well, I hope this doesn't mean that you and your sneakers are walking off the Hollywood scene. We need you. Not that you have contributed anything to the art of the cinema. But columnists must have characters to write about, and you certainly qualify in that league. Stick around.

Humphrey Bogart — I saw you on television last week. You were presenting a tennis award to Maureen Connolly. What is this? Are you harking back to the days when you used to romp onstage and remark, "Tennis, anyone?" Does this mean you are going in for outdoor sports? Maybe you'd better stick to being an indoor sport.

Mary Pickford — Gee, the saddest news I've seen recently was your bow-out on the movie you were goint to do. I wish you'd find another script you like and go through with it. That might be just the thing to get the over-35 audience back in the movie theaters.

Betty Grable — how come you take another suspension after telling me you'd do a "Smoky" remake before you'd be suspended? And just because the studio wanted the queen of the musicals to play a former B girl who is duped into carrying secrets for the Communists. Now is that a good reason?

Mario Lanza — I have a new theme song for you, Slim. It's that old spiritual, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've seen."

Charlie Chaplin — You can use it, too.

Rosemary Clooney — I like digging your jive on the TV set and hereby predict you will soon be pushing Doris Day for top honors among the film chirpers. But puh-leeze sing anything besides that "Botch-a-me."

Martin and Lewis — I am sending under separate cover one pound of detergent to use on your comic material. And a reminder that most of the great comedians—Will Rogers, W. C. Fields, Ed Wynn, Jack Benny—got that way because they kept it clean.

One expedition to explore the ocean depths found that sharks fear men who swim far below the surface, but often charge at men swimming at or near the surface, the National Geographic Society says.

Southern Magazine Carries Big Story On Twin Cities

Pictures This Area As Second Richest In State Of Louisiana

The following article, which was written by Bert Hatten, head of the West Monroe news branch of the News-Star—World Publishing Company and night telegraph editor for the World, was published in the September 15 issue of Southern Advertising and Publishing. The magazine, published in Atlanta, goes to all of the larger advertising and publishing houses in the south.

Following is the article as published:

In every section of 1952 America, especially in the rural and small town areas, the people look to larger trading center where they may shop, sell and find entertainment.

Around that trading center, industry flourishes and expands, if it is blessed with forsighted leaders and an abundance of natural resources. And it is natural that the bigger city fortunate enough to be recognized as such should cater to those customers from out-of-town.

That is the role of the Twin Cities on the Ouachita. Monroe and West Monroe are the "big city" to nearly half a million people living in northeast Louisiana and southeast Arkansas. Because the Twin Cities have catered to the needs and expectations of these people and played the role of a good "big city" host, goodwill has flourished — and so has business.

Located where the rich delta land meets the rolling hills to the west, Monroe has continued to develop and expand as a farm market center. The manufacturing industry, meanwhile, has grown almost unbelievably.

Interesting and traditionally Southern cities, Monroe and West Monroe are located on opposite banks of the Ouachita river, often referred to as the most beautiful stream in the country. Although they are two separate municipalities, the Twin Cities present a solid phalanx in civic unity and cooperative effort.

The two cities are a vivid contrast of the old, romantic South. The latest architecture has been employed in modern community development. Though many of the landmarks bear the theme of the old South, modern architecture has taken over, and the New South greets the eye.

The Twin Cities are a staunch pillor in the economic, commercial educational, religious, political and social structure of Louisiana.

During World war II Selman Field was operated as a bombardier and navigation school. Shortly after hostilities ended the base was closed by the government and turned over to the jurisdiction of the City of Monroe.

Selman Field, according to high Washington authority, will be reactivated in the near future and made a permanent part of the sprawling system of Supreme Air Command.

Monroe and West Monroe lie in the heart of the world's largest gas field, one of the contributing factors to the industrial progress. Paper mills, chemical plants, bag factories and carbon plants find natural gas the cheapest and most suited fuel they can buy. And it is here in abundance.

WAS A TRADING POST

Years before the "Louisiana Purchase," which eventually changed the course of empires in the western hemisphere, Monroe was nothing more than an exchange point for fur traders and Indians on the banks of the Ouachita River.

As water travel was the most dependable means of transportation in those days, the Ouachita River made inevitable the eventual establishment of a city of commercial importance at precisely the point where Monroe now stands. The river furnished a direct route to New Orleans for early settlers and trappers in the sparsely populated territory.

Don Juan Filhiol, one of the most colorful figures in Louisiana history founded both Monroe, and West Monroe. By doing so he carved an everlasting monument to himself. Local historians always play him up and both cities have a street named for him. Filhiol was an adventurous Frenchman of noble heritage who came to Louisiana in the 1800's. Some of his relatives still live in Monroe.

Filhiol first named the town Fort Miro, but about two years before his death in 1871 the first steamboat ever to appear on the Ouachita River landed in Fort Miro and so thrilled the populace that a successful move was started to change the name of the settlement to Monroe. The steamboat had been named after the president Monroe. From that time on Monroe has steadily grown.

TRADE IMPORTANCE

The Monroe - West Monroe trade area is rated the second highest in Louisiana with a 30 per cent greater purchasing power than the average American city, that means that for every dollar spent in the average city, $1.30 is spent in Monroe and West Monroe.

And that purchasing power is continually growing. From 1945 to 1950, Sales Management figures show retail sales nearly doubled from $113,932,000 to $211,254,000.

The two independent post offices serving Monroe and West Monroe had a total of $685,193.64 in receipts during 1951. Until July of 1946 the postal system of the two cities was consolidated, but growth and development led to the establishment of an independent operation in West Monroe instead of the branch.

Freight carload shipping runs about 30,000 annually. Outbound shipments of manufactured goods are responsible for some 20,000 carloads a year.

Industry

Topmost in Twin City industry are: Paper mills, agriculture, lumbering, chemicals, foundries, furniture plants, gas and oil.

Paper mills: Four large paper mills operate within 40 miles of Monroe and West Monroe, pumping millions of dollars annually into the lucrative trade area. One mill is located just outside the city limits of West Monroe, two are 30 miles to the north in Bastrop and one is situated 40 miles to the south in Hodge. These plants manufacture paper from the almost inexhaustable supply of pine and hardwood forests that thrive in the balmy Louisiana climate.

Working in conjunction with and in some cases as subsidaries to the paper manufacturing mills are numerous paper bag mills. Finished paper products from the local industry is shipped all over the world.

The recent consolidation of the sprawling Frost Lumber interests, in North Louisiana with Olin industries has given birth to another gigantic paper plant north of Monroe. Olin-Frost have announced intentions to construct a $30,000,000 refined paper products plant 12 miles to the north. Speculation by well placed authority is that the Olin-Frost investment will go as high as $150,000,000 before the ultimate completion of the factory.

Role Of Agriculture

Farming has long been the backbone of this Delta edge section. However, there are many signs that manufacturing has become a strong contender. But agriculture manages to stay in step through diversification and mechanization. Cotton has long been recognized as "the" crop in the Ouachita valley. Cattle and poultry, relatively newcomers on a large scale, are becoming of greater importance each year. Soy beans are another representative of diversification that will undoubtedly be a common sight in north Louisiana fields in the near future.

Gas and Oil: Drilling and transmssion constitute most of the petroleum and oil activity in northeast Louisiana. Natural gas tapped from beneath the soil of this section is pipelined to the greater metropolitan center of the nation.

Another oil in abundance is cotton seed oil which is extracted by numerous oil mills in the north Louisiana Delta.

Thus the twin-city metropolis is the natural focul point of trade and distribution in a region that is rich and growing richer. Here a quick view may be had of what products may be expected to do in the merchandising field. A homegeneous people with tastes easily gauged by those who know the region, this market has ability to buy and up-to-the-minute desires for luxuries and necessities.

The average yearly income of Monroe families is $5,155, high not only for the South but 30 per cent above the national average. The people are progressive and alert, eager to keep their city and region in the front ranks of a balanced economy and standard of living.

Dictaphone Machine For Concordia Clerk of Court

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27. (Special) —The office of Victor P. Campbell clerk of court will have a court dictaphone recording machine probably by the November term of petit jury.

The Concordia parish police jury awarded the contract to the Dictaphone Corporation, Jackson, Miss., for the equipment at a cost of $1,761.56.

In addition to the machines, the equipment will include six microphones, five microphone desk stands and one long stand.

WANT PROPER FENCING

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27. (Special) —Voters of the tenth ward petitioned the Concordia police jury to call an election for proper fencing of hogs in the parish. Petitioners asked that a four - wire barbed fence replace the present legal fence law. It was decided that the petitions be placed in the hands of District Attorney D. W. Gibson in order to define the present fence law, and that the petition be advertised immediately so that action might be taken at the next meeting of the jury.

AWARDS OF OUTSTANDING SERVICE

Representatives of the Missouri Pacific railroad are shown above receiving awards proclaiming the outstanding service which the railroad gave during last year's Twin City Community Chest drive. The local employees of the company exceeded their set goal by a greater per cent than any other company and also out did any other group in the Louisiana division. Evans Ethridge, co-chairman of the Public Service division, is shown presenting R. H. Dollar, train master, with his plaque. A. B. Clarkson, extreme right, chairman of the division, is presenting G. M. Holzamann, superintendent of the Louisiana-Little Rock Division, a plaque in behalf of C. H. McAmis, master mechanic who was out of the city at the time of the presentation.

Traffic

Another tragic accident on the streets of the twin cities Saturday morning snuffed out the life of Thomas May, the son of one of Monroe's well known merchants.

This newspaper is not going to dwell upon whose fault the accident rested, but on the fact that the life of a man, a useful life, one full of promise for the future, is no more. It is easy to say that these accidents can be prevented, but the bringing about of this fact is a difficult task. To stop accidents is the sole responsibility of everyone who takes the wheel of an automobile in his hands.

The Monroe Police Department is doing everything in its power to eliminate accidents. They are fighting a losing battle if you, the driving public, do not jump into the fight and help.

How many times have you come home in the evening and exclaimed to your wife or husband, "I really had a close one today" and gone into the gory details of how the other fellow almost spread you and himself all over the street? There are few people who in their lifetime have not had a close shave if they drive a car.

Perhaps one of the main calamities lies in the lack of just plain politeness shown by many drivers. When a driver gets behind the wheel, all that is brutal in him seems to come out. He is a forceful being ready to show not the least bit of courtesy to his fellow driver.

Add the horn blowing, the leaps ahead of the other fellow in traffic, the screeching of brakes, the many various oaths taken at one's fellow man and you have a terrible situation.

Traffic laws are not made for the other guy, they are made for all of us. That yellow caution light means for you to stop. It does not mean to go through. The light system is about the best method of traffic control. You are taking your life in your hands when you run a light.

Instead of complaining when you receive a summons for the breaking of a traffic law, you should be thankful you are alive to face the judge. The traffic officers do not like to arrest people; they would rather never do this. However, their job is to protect you and the other fellow and if the patrolman sees you making a mistake or committing an offense he will be doing you a favor to tell you about it.

Let's all get into the fight here in the twin cities and help our law enforcement agencies with the traffic problem. Winter is coming, there will be many more automobiles on the city streets generally in bad weather and under extremely dangerous conditions. These conditions put every driver to the test.

Let us all pass this test with flying colors. Instead of not permitting a driver who is hopelessly pinned in a parking place in a line of traffic to go ahead of you, put yourself in his position.

Let him out. It may delay you for a few moments, but you will have earned a friend. Is there any better reward?

Watch those traffic lights and give hand signals. Just ask yourself, "What's the hurry?" Remember that when you try to save a few minutes by speeding and driving recklessly you may have the rest of your life to think about the terrible accident you caused. Is it worth it?

Fate Of Piney's Government

October may well be the month which tells whether the government of France's Premier Pinay keeps its head above water or sinks.

It is then that the French Parliament reassembles, and fireworks could be started immediately which could mean that another French premier had bit the dust, though he's been in office only seven months.

Pinay, the conservative small-industrialist, has probably surprised himself as much as others by adopting some views that might almost be called liberal. As a matter of fact he used the word by implication recently to describe his government.

In a major speech he declared, "It is the role of liberalism to work without cessation for the reduction of costs and through fair competition to develop the prosperity of the greatest number."

And that from the man who took office only last March on a pledge that there would be no increases in taxes and that delinquent taxpayers would be gently treated if they ante up.

By this, both his backers and his opponents took it that he would favor industrialists and important agricultural interests and show less concern than previous premiers for the workers on farms and in factories.

But the mercurial Pinay has pulled a switch. He's become a bitter foe of too much profit-making and the artificial maintenance of high prices. In fact, he's against everything which will interfere with his program of reducing spiraling prices and so helping to cut inflation.

Only a few weeks ago he set forth a program to raise worker's living standards and their social security benefits.

Pinay's problems have not all been those of an ivory tower political nature. They have included such down-to-earth matters as the shortage of meat and the overabundance of wine, and the consequent price levels of each.

His government also got a blow when it found out that the United States was going to spend only $185 million, not $625 million, on the purchase of French armaments. The larger amount would have been a sizable shot in the arm to the stumbling French economy. The smaller amount is not going to be much help.

There have been criticisms of Pinay that he is too much of a small-town boy for his country's own good. That is, he hasn't had an international - enough viewpoint to keep France out with the world's front runners in trade and finance.

As it is, the prices of French products are so high as to almost eliminate them from many channels of world trade. That, in addition to the fact that the growing gap between wages and prices works an increasingly severe hardship on the French consumer.

As a key nation in the Western Europe defense program, as well as a recipient of much American aid, both military and non-military, France and her future are a matter of prime importance to this country.

Whether the Pinay government stands or falls in October will be a strong indication of how France may be expected to fare in future months. And the next few weeks should tell the tale.

IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Just a year ago, Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois, Wayne Morse of Oregon and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota introduced a bill intended to make one stab at improving the ethical standards of government.

It goes almost without saying that this bill died a-borning. Nobody was interested and not even the hearings of Senator Douglas' Committee on Ethics could stir up any enthusiasm.

The purpose of the Douglas-Morse-Humphrey bill was to require all senators, all congressmen, and all other government officials earning more than $10,000 a year to report publicly on what they were worth.

It would require them to report all their outside earnings in addition to their government salaries, list all their assets and liabilities, and give details on all their dealings in securities and commodities.

There was a sincere doubt among many people that this bill would have accomplished what it set out to do—which was to keep public servants honest and uninfluenced.

There was a feeling among many Constitutional experts that such a law would violate guarantees of rights to privacy. Furthermore, it might make many honest and competent private citizens refuse to take government jobs.

Hullabaloo Would Be Over

Whether the passage of this bill would have prevented or checked the government scandals that have been disclosed in the past few years, or whether it would have uncovered even more skullduggery is something for debating societies to argue.

But it is fairly safe to say that if such a law had been passed in 1951, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California would not be in the hot water he is in today.

Under this law, Senator Nixon would have had to report that, in 1951, $11,000 worth of his extraordinary expenses in the conduct of his office had been paid by a group of from 50 to 100 of his California constituents.

This would have been on the record. Any hullabaloo about it would have been all over and done with before the Chicago nominating convention of the Republican Party.

This might have prevented Senator Nixon from getting the nomination. But even that would have spared him his present embarrassment, and the clamor to have him resign as Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Victim of His Own Frankness

In a way, Senator Nixon is today the victim of his own frankness in revealing that he received this outside help. He could have denied it. The collector of the fund, Attorney Dana C. Smith, could have denied it. Unless one of the secret list of donors had talked, the whole thing would have been hushed up.

There is still considerable dispute over whether Senator Nixon should have reported this additional financial help he received as income, for tax purposes. His argument, and the argument of Dana Smith, who is a tax attorney, is that the senator never received any of the money, so it was not income to him.

But as Senator Nixon told this reporter when he first revealed the facts of the case, "If I had not received this help, I could not have made the down payment on my house."

Senator Nixon recently bought a new house in Spring Valley, a Washington suburb. What he meant by this disclosure was that if his extra - office expenses had not been met by the California contributors, he would have had to use part of his $12,500 salary to meet the bills, and he could not have bought his house.

In effect, by disclosing these payments, Senator Nixon was complying with the intent of the unpassed Douglas-Morse-Humphrey bill. He is the first victim of his own intent to come clean.

CAP Over Monroe

Maybe you will consider this "old" news, but we thought you might be interested to know that top honors in Civil Air Patrol's annual national drill contest held at Mitchel AFB, N. Y., on July 26, were captured by Puerto Rico's crack CAP cadet drill team. Runners up, in this order, were New Jersey, Utah, New Jersey, Michigan and Colorado. The latter was an all-girl team. The 1952 champions won the opportunity of competing with the 1951 champions, from New York, for the Col. George F. Stone Memorial trophy, and later vied for recovery of the Maj. Gen. Lucas V. Beau trophy at the International Drill Competition, and won. Because of transportation difficulties, the 1951 winners from Scotland were unable to defend the title this year. The 1952 International Champions were a composite team made up from the finalists in the national competition listed above.

Jimmy Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27—There is too much kissing in movies.

You may think that's a funny thing for a French girl to say, especially for a French girl who is grateful she is considered "sexy" by critics and fans. (I am thinking all this in French, but the Typewriter is completely American so it comes out okay.) Anyway, my French accent is not as Parisian as it once was — not since I appear in my first western for 20th Century - Fox, "Powder River."

The reason there is too much kissing in movies is that there is too much kissing in America. Oh, please believe me, I am in favor of kissing. I like it. But over here it is meaningless. Everybody kisses everybody else so much that it is no more sexy than a handshake, when you say hello or goodbye.

I am talking of kissing with the lips. A peck on the cheek is pleasant, a tiny kiss on the forehead is nice, but a kiss with the mouth is a very intimate exchange and should be saved for special and private occasions. A girl ought to save her lips for the man she really loves.

I know that Americans think French girls are bold and daring, but I must admit I was quite surprised when I came to this country and saw all the lip - to - lip kisses.

We have two customs in France that Americans think are funny, but that is only because you do not understand them. First is the accolade—the kiss on each cheek. Second is a man kissing a woman's hand. In either case, a kiss on the mouth would be an insult, a liberty. That is saved for when people get to know each other better. Maybe French women like the slow and subtle approach —or maybe American men are more direct and forceful. A kiss on the hand is much more polite than a mere handshake, and much more flattering. It builds up a woman's ego and makes her more receptive to any ideas a man may acquire later in the relationship. It is only a tiny gesture—but the implications are tremendous.

Kissing in the movies is terribly important because a kiss is the sexiest thing you can show on the screen. Oh, I know some men will claim that cheesecake is more exciting and there are some women fans who love to see the hero bare his chest and ripple his muscles. Those displays are stimulating and provocative, but they are not sexy. One person alone cannot be sexy. It takes a man and woman together to strike sparks.

That brings us back to kissing and what I think is wrong with it in movies. The hero kisses the girl hello—right on the lips. Later on, in the big romantic scene, he kisses her again—right on the lips this time, too. They may try to indicate the passion of this scene by the way her hands dig into his back or by the way he looks at her but it is difficult to avoid the fact that he has already kissed her. It isn't something new.

We followed my plan in "Powder River." In the picture I decide that Cameron Mitchell, and not Rory Calhoun, is the man for me. The trouble is that he isn't interested. He doesn't dislike me; he just doesn't notice me. So I go to work. I am near him whenever I can arrange it—and I am a pretty good arranger. I find excuses to lean close to him. I sing to him. It takes a little time but slowly he begins to realize what he has been missing. He begins to make a play for me. He falls in love.

All this time we have not had one embrace. Then comes the romantic scene. Now he takes me in his arms. Now we kiss—and Viola!—It means something. This is it, this is business, this is sexy.

I want to say one more thing about kissing. Most men do not know how to kiss a girl properly. A girl wants her man to be strong and manly. I watch in the movies, and in real life, too, and the men are mostly polite about it—like a boy kissing his mother goodnight. Sure there are some rough ones, but they are rough the wrong way. Watching them make love is like watching a couple of wrestlers on television. It looks more like a fight than a love match. The man should be determined, but not overpowering; he should be gentle, but not too shy; he—

Say, I have been talking a lot about kissing and it is a subject that calls for action, not conversation. Like swinging a golf club, riding a horse or any other kind of activity, it requires practice to become perfect.

Happy practicing!

Pine Grove Methodists Holding Revival Series

The Pine Grove Methodist Church is holding a series of revival meetings this week with the pastor and a visiting minister from Chatham bringing the messages. Tonight through Tuesday the Rev. C. K. Brooks, pastor, is preaching. He will be relieved Wednesday night by Rev. J. T. Garrett of Chatham.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meetings which will begin at 7 p. m.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

Though there is no precedent, the electoral college, which actually chose the president and vice president, could elect General Eisenhower as president and Sen. John Sparkman vice president.

That suggestion has been made by Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who has announced his support of Eisenhower, but recently said he preferred Sparkman as vice president to Sen. Richard M. Nixon.

It could be that the electors of several southern states where the swing to General Eisenhower raises Republican hopes that he will get a majority of the popular vote, would cast their votes for vice president for Sparkman, which they have a right to do under the Constitution.

Sen. Russell long (Dem.-La.) has said that he knows of no way in which a vote can be cast for president on one ticket and vice president on another. That is true of the popular vote in a presideatial election but it does not apply to the electors. The Constitution does not require them to vote for both candidates on the same ticket.

In Gov. Kennon's own state of Louisiana which has 10 electoral votes, the names of electors appear on the ballot. In several other states, particularly those which have 25 or more electors, the names are usually left off the ballot, and only the names of the candidates for president and vice president appear, but that would make no difference if those pledged to Eisenhower also wanted to vote for Sparkman.

The Constitution provides that electors in each state shall vote separately for president and vice president, and contains no direction that they shall be of the same party. It would be possible, therefore for electors of any state carried by Eisenhower to vote for Sparkman if they chose, and that could happen in the south, where the feeling against the Alabama senator is much less than against Governor Stevenson. There is also the factor that the south has not had a vice president since John N. Garner, and feels that it is entitled to one.

In a close election with a comparatively small difference in total numbers of electoral votes, one or more southern states, having been carried by the Republican residential ticket, could swing their votes to Sparkma and make him the vice president, having previously voted for Eisenhower for president.

Governor Kennon has not said that he would urge southern electors to vote for Sparkman in the event the Republican ticket has carried their states, but he and other pro - Eisenhower Democrats in the south could well start a movement in that direction. Granting that its chances of success would be slight, it would nevertheless solve the problem for many Democrats whose consciences bother them about voting for a Republican candidate for president.

Divided state electoral votes on presidential candidates have been rare, and there has been no instance where electors have voted for a president of one party and a vice president of another. That may have been because there has been no incentive comparable to that which now seems to exist.

The electoral divisions appear to have been grouped in presidential years ending in the figure 2. In 1892 James B. Weaver, the Populist candidate for president, received 22 electoral votes and split the electors in Oregon and North Dakota. But the electors in Michigan, Ohio and California also divided that year between Republicans and Democrats — Grover Cleveland was elected president—largely because of differences of opinion between different sections of the states. North Dakota established some sort of record by splitting three electoral votes three ways — one for Cleveland, one for Benjamin Harrison and one for Weaver.

In 1912 California split its electoral vote, 11 for Theodore Roosevelt to 2 for Wilson. Other instances are scattered over other election years, but those mentioned serve to prove that regardless of which presidential ticket carries a state, the electors still may vote as they please.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

ATONEMENT

In the faith of my fathers, atonement is an essential expression of the relationship of man to God. It is accepted that man is fallible. His judgment is often wrong. His acts often bring harm to others; his failures may result in calamities even to those who are strangers.

In the philosophy of my ancestors, a man could not shirk his responsibility. When he sinned, when he transgressed, when he did evil, he could not lean on the crutch of human weakness. He could not claim that he had done his best. He had to atone for his errors.

The fast of Yom Kippur, to which Jews throughout the world consecrate themselves Monday, is called in English, the Day of Atonement. It is a day on which men, women and children of the Jewish faith confess their sins and atone for them. All confess together and atone in the presence of each other.

The experience of my people is long upon this earth. This year is 5713 of known history for them, and although the record of a people is not transmissible in blood and memory, it is handed down from father to son in traditions, in the knowledge of life and character and conduct.

And this we know: that hard times follow good times; that the seven lean cows, as Joseph knew, would consume the seven fat cows; that after great prosperity always come troubled times and fearful people. This has been human experience and perhaps what often makes the Jew so touchy is that from Abraham until this very day, he has witnessed the curious phenomenon that wise and competent men, as well as knaves and fools, foul their own world once they have grown rich and powerful and sure. Only those who live in the fear of retribution live prudently.

Thus, we, in this country, have ourselves witnessed the change-over from good times to bad, from profligacy to the need for frugality, from sureness to fear. We were the richest people on earth before 1929 and little taxed; we are now the most taxed people on earth and constantly going deeper in debt. We were proud and independent, each man sure in his own home, providing for his family by his own ingenuity and hard work, begging of no one, surely not of his government. Since 1932, we have become increasingly dependent upon government.

For more than a century, we lived in peace with all the world (except for the slight Spanish-American War). Since 1917, we have engaged in what seems to be a constant, unending, costly war in which our sons are being devoured and our wealth consumed.

It is unbelievable that these changes are without cause. Everything in life has meaning. Everything in each man's life is related to all that has gone before. Therefore, when the greatest and richest and most powerful of all nations faces disaster and piles confusion upon confusion, the cause must be sought, the explanation must be found.

We have sinned. We have sinned as individuals; we have sinned as a people. We have erected false idols; we have followed false prophets. We have deserted God and God's natural law; we have accepted the sly speeches of glib men rather than the majesty of tradition. We have deserted liberty and human dignity for wanton security, for promises of plenty. We have preferred wisecracks and gags to wisdom and experience. We have listened to the siren of internationalism and have forsaken patriotism. We have forgotten Moses, Christ, Aristotle and toyed with Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

We have pursued fun as an end and abandoned our children to self-indulgence. We have tolerated corruption and watched our families disintegrate by divorce.

For these sins we are being punished inexorably. The ultra-modern will laugh at this; they ridicule the supernatural and the eternal. But troubled times have come upon our generation. We are discontented. We are worried. We live in fear of insecurity, of war, of lost sons. Those are the facts of our times.

For these facts, we need to atone, for we are the authors of our errors. Proud of our great scientific knowledge and abundant engineering skill, we do not even approximate the contentment of our grandparents, who knew not the automobile, the radio, television, the washing machine, antibiotics or the atom bomb. But they did know God.

Traffic

Another tragic accident on the streets of the twin cities Saturday morning snuffed out the life of Thomas May, the son of one of Monroe's well known merchants.

This newspaper is not going to dwell upon whose fault the accident rested, but on the fact that the life of a man, a useful life, one full of promise for the future, is no more. It is easy to say that these accidents can be prevented, but the bringing about of this fact is a difficult task. To stop accidents is the sole responsibility of everyone who takes the wheel of an automobile in his hands.

The Monroe Police Department is doing everything in its power to eliminate accidents. They are fighting a losing battle if you, the driving public, do not jump into the fight and help.

How many times have you come home in the evening and exclaimed to your wife or husband, "I really had a close one today" and gone into the gory details of how the other fellow almost spread you and himself all over the street? There are few people who in their lifetime have not had a close shave if they drive a car.

Perhaps one of the main calamities lies in the lack of just plain politeness shown by many drivers. When a driver gets behind the wheel, all that is brutal in him seems to come out. He is a forceful being ready to show not the least bit of courtesy to his fellow driver.

Add the horn blowing, the leaps ahead of the other fellow in traffic, the screeching of brakes, the many various oaths taken at one's fellow man and you have a terrible situation.

Traffic laws are not made for the other guy, they are made for all of us. That yellow caution light means for you to stop. It does not mean to go through. The light system is about the best method of traffic control. You are taking your life in your hands when you run a light.

Instead of complaining when you receive a summons for the breaking of a traffic law, you should be thankful you are alive to face the judge. The traffic officers do not like to arrest people; they would rather never do this. However, their job is to protect you and the other fellow and if the patrolman sees you making a mistake or committing an offense he will be doing you a favor to tell you about it.

Let's all get into the fight here in the twin cities and help our law enforcement agencies with the traffic problem. Winter is coming, there will be many more automobiles on the city streets generally in bad weather and under extremely dangerous conditions. These conditions put every driver to the test.

Let us all pass this test with flying colors. Instead of not permitting a driver who is hopelessly pinned in a parking place in a line of traffic to go ahead of you, put yourself in his position.

Let him out. It may delay you for a few moments, but you will have earned a friend. Is there any better reward?

Watch those traffic lights and give hand signals. Just ask yourself, "What's the hurry?" Remember that when you try to save a few minutes by speeding and driving recklessly you may have the rest of your life to think about the terrible accident you caused. Is it worth it?

Fate Of Pinay's Government

October may well be the month which tells whether the government of France's Premier Pinay keeps its head above water or sinks.

It is then that the French Parliament reassembles, and fireworks could be started immediately which could mean that another French premier had bit the dust, though he's been in office only seven months.

Pinay, the conservative small-industrialist, has probably surprised himself as much as others by adopting some views that might almost be called liberal. As a matter of fact he used the word by implication recently to describe his government.

In a major speech he declared, "It is the role of liberalism to work without cessation for the reduction of costs and through fair competition to develop the prosperity of the greatest number."

And that from the man who took office only last March on a pledge that there would be no increases in taxes and that delinquent taxpayers would be gently treated if they ante up.

By this, both his backers and his opponents took it that he would favor industrialists and important agricultural interests and show less concern than previous premiers for the workers on farms and in factories.

But the mercurial Pinay has pulled a switch. He's become a bitter foe of too much profit-making and the artificial maintenance of high prices. In fact, he's against about everything which will interfere with his program of reducing spiraling prices and so helping to cut inflation.

Only a few weeks ago he set forth a program to raise worker's living standards and their social security benefits.

Pinay's problems have not all been those of an ivory tower political nature. They have included such down-to-earth matters as the shortage of meat and the overabundance of wine, and the consequent price levels of each.

His government also got a blow when it found out that the United States was going to spend only $185 million, not $625 million, on the purchase of French armaments. The larger amount would have been a sizable shot in the arm to the stumbling French economy. The smaller amount is not going to be much help.

There have been criticisms of Pinay that he is too much of a small-town boy for his country's own good. That is, he hasn't had an international - enough viewpoint to keep France out with the world's front runners in trade and finance.

As it is, the prices of French products are so high as to almost eliminate them from many channels of world trade. That, in addition to the fact that the growing gap between wages and prices works an increasingly severe hardship on the French consumer.

As a key nation in the Western Europe defense program, as well as a recipient of much American aid, both military and non-military, France and her future are a matter of prime importance to this country.

Whether the Pinay government stands or falls in October will be a strong indication of how France may be expected to fare in future months. And the next few weeks should tell the tale.

Peter Edson IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Just a year ago, Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois, Wayne Morse of Oregon and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota introduced a bill intended to make one stab at improving the ethical standards of government.

It goes almost without saying that this bill died a-borning. Nobody was interested and not even the hearings of Senator Douglas' Committee on Ethics could stir up any enthusiasm.

The purpose of the Douglas-Morse-Humphrey bill was to require all senators, all congressmen, and all other government officials earning more than $10,000 a year to report publicly on what they were worth.

It would require them to report all their outside earnings in addition to their government salaries, list all their assets and liabilities, and give details on all their dealings in securities and commodities.

There was a sincere doubt among many people that this bill would have accomplished what it set out to do—which was to keep public servants honest and uninfluenced.

There was a feeling among many Constitutional experts that such a law would violate guarantees of rights to privacy. Furthermore, it might make many honest and competent private citizens refuse to take government jobs.

Hullabaloo Would Be Over

Whether the passage of this bill would have prevented or checked the government scandals that have been disclosed in the past few years, or whether it would have uncovered even more skullduggery is something for debating societies to argue.

But it is fairly safe to say that if such a law had been passed in 1951, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California would not be in the hot water he is in today.

Under this law, Senator Nixon would have had to report that, in 1951, $11,000 worth of his extraordinary expenses in the conduct of his office had been paid by a group of from 50 to 100 of his California constituents.

This would have been on the record. Any hullabaloo about it would have been all over and done with before the Chicago nominating convention of the Republican Party.

This might have prevented Senator Nixon from getting the nomination. But even that would have spared him his present embarrassment, and the clamor to have him resign as Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Victim of His Own Frankness

In a way, Senator Nixon is today the victim of his own frankness in revealing that he received this outside help. He could have denied it. The collector of the fund, Attorney Dana C. Smith, could have denied it. Unless one of the secret list of donors had talked, the whole thing would have been hushed up.

There is still considerable dispute over whether Senator Nixon should have reported this additional financial help he received as income, for tax purposes. His argument, and the argument of Dana Smith, who is a tax attorney, is that the senator never received any of the money, so it was not income to him.

But as Senator Nixon told this reporter when he first revealed the facts of the case, "If I had not received this help, I could not have made the down payment on my house."

Senator Nixon recently bought a new house in Spring Valley, a Washington suburb. What he meant by this disclosure was that if his extra - office expenses had not been met by the California contributors, he would have had to use part of his $12,500 salary to meet the bills, and he could not have bought his house.

In effect, by disclosing these payments, Senator Nixon was complying with the intent of the unpassed Douglas-Morse-Humphrey bill. He is the first victim of his own intent to come clean.

CAP Over Monroe

Maybe you will consider this "old" news, but we thought you might be interested to know that top honors in Civil Air Patrol's annual national drill contest held at Mitchel AFB, N. Y., on July 26, were captured by Puerto Rico's crack CAP cadet drill team. Runners up, in this order, were New Jersey, Utah, New Jersey, Michigan and Colorado. The latter was an all-girl team. The 1952 champions won the opportunity of competing with the 1951 champions, from New York, for the Col. George F. Stone Memorial trophy, and later vied for recovery of the Maj. Gen. Lucas V. Beau trophy at the International Drill Competition, and won. Because of transportation difficulties the 1951 winners from Scotland were unable to defend the title this year. The 1952 International Champions were a composite team made up from the finalists in the national competition listed above.

Jimmy Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27—There is too much kissing in movies.

You may think that's a funny thing for a French girl to say, especially for a French girl who is grateful she is considered "sexy" by critics and fans. (I am thinking all this in French, but the Typewriter is completely American so it comes out okay.) Anyway, my French accent is not as Parisian as it once was — not since I appear in my first western for 20th Century - Fox, "Powder River."

The reason there is too much kissing in movies is that there is too much kissing in America. Oh, please believe me, I am in favor of kissing. I like it. But over here it is meaningless. Everybody kisses everybody else so much that it is no more sexy than a handshake, when you say hello or goodbye.

I am talking of kissing with the lips. A peck on the cheek is pleasant, a tiny kiss on the forehead is nice, but a kiss with the mouth is a very intimate exchange and should be saved for special and private occasions. A girl ought to save her lips for the man she really loves.

I know that Americans think French girls are bold and daring, but I must admit I was quite surprised when I came to this country and saw all the lip - to - lip kisses.

We have two customs in France that Americans think are funny, but that is only because you do not understand them. First is the accolade—the kiss on each cheek. Second is a man kissing a woman's hand. In either case, a kiss on the mouth would be an insult, a liberty. That is saved for when people get to know each other better. Maybe French women like the slow and subtle approach —or maybe American men are more direct and forceful. A kiss on the hand is much more polite than a mere handshake, and much more flattering. It builds up a woman's ego and makes her more receptive to any ideas a man may acquire later in the relationship. It is only a tiny gesture—but the implications are tremendous.

Kissing in the movies is terribly important because a kiss is the sexiest thing you can show on the screen. Oh, I know some men will claim that cheesecake is more exciting and there are some women fans who love to see the hero bare his chest and ripple his muscles. Those displays are stimulating and provocative, but they are not sexy. One person alone cannot be sexy. It takes a man and woman togethr to strike sparks.

That brings us back to kissing and what I think is wrong with it in movies. The hero kisses the girl hello—right on the lips. Later on, in the big romantic scene, he kisses her again—right on the lips this time, too. They may try to indicate the passion of this scene by the way her hands dig into his back or by the way he looks at her but it is difficult to avoid the fact that he has already kissed her. It isn't something new.

We followed my plan in "Powder River." In the picture I decide that Cameron Mitchell, and not Rory Calhoun, is the man for me. The trouble is that he isn't interested. He doesn't dislike me; he just doesn't notice me. So I go to work. I am near him whenever I can arrange it—and I am a pretty good arranger. I find excuses to lean close to him. I sing to him. It takes a little time but slowly he begins to realize what he has been missing. He begins to make a play for me. He falls in love.

All this time we have not had one embrace. Then comes the romantic scene. Now he takes me in his arms. Now we kiss—and Viola!—It means something. This is it, this is business, this is sexy.

I want to say one more thing about kissing. Most men do not know how to kiss a girl properly. A girl wants her man to be strong and manly. I watch in the movies, and in real life, too, and the men are mostly polite about it—like a boy kissing his mother goodnight. Sure there are some rough ones, but they are rough the wrong way. Watching them make love is like watching a couple of wrestlers on television. It looks more like a fight than a love match. The man should be determined, but not overpowering; he should be gentle, but not too shy; he—

Say I have been talking a lot about kissing and it is a subject that calls for action, not conversation. Like swinging a golf club, riding a horse or any other kind of activity, it requires practice to become perfect.

Happy practicing!

The Pine Grove Methodist Church is holding a series of revival meetings this week with the pastor and a visiting minister from Chatham bringing the messages. Tonight through Tuesday the Rev. C. K. Brooks, pastor, is preaching. He will be relieved Wednesday night by Rev. J. T. Garrett of Chatham.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meetings which will begin at 7 p. m.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

Though there is no precedent, the electoral college, which actually chose the president and vice president, could elect General Eisenhower as president and Sen. John Slarkman vice president.

That suggestion has been made by Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, who has announced his support of Eisenhower, but recently said he preferred Sparkman as vice president to Sen. Richard M. Nixon.

It could be that the electors of several southern states where the swing to General Eisenhower raises Republican hopes that he will get a majority of the popular vote, would cast their votes for vice president for Sparkman, which they have a right to do under the Constitution.

Sen. Russell long (Dem.-La.) has said that he knows of no way in which a vote can be cast for president on one ticket and vice president on another. That is true of the popular vote in a presidential election but it does not apply to the electors. The Constitution does not require them to vote for both candidates on the same ticket.

In Gov. Kennon'e own state of Louisiana which has 10 electoral votes, the names of electors appear on the ballot. In several other states, particularly those which have 25 or more electors, the names are usually left off the ballot, and only the names of the candidates for president and vice president appear, but that would make no difference if those pledged to Eisenhower also wanted to vote for Sparkman.

The Constitution provides that electors in each state shall vote separately for president and vice president, and contains no direction that they shall be of the same party. It would be possible, therefore for electors of any state carried by Eisenhower to vote for Sparkman if they chose, and that could happen in the south, where the feeling against the Alabama senator is much less than against Governor Stevenson. There is also the factor that the south has not had a vice president since John N. Garner, and feels that it is entitled to one.

In a close election with a comparatively small difference in total numbers of electoral votes, one or more southern states, having been carried by the Republican residential ticket, could swing their votes to Sparkma and make him the vice president, having previously voted for Eisenhower for president.

Governor Kennon has not said that he would urge southern electors to vote for Sparkman in the event the Republican ticket has carried their states, but he and other pro - Eisenhower Democrats in the south could well start a movement in that direction. Granting that its chances of success would be slight, it would nevertheless solve the problem for many Democrats whose consciences bother them about voting for a Republican candidate for president.

Divided state electoral votes on presidential candidates have been rare, and there has been no instance where electors have voted for a president of one party and a vice president of another. That may have been because there has been no incentive comparable to that which now seems to exist

The electoral divisions appear to have been grouped in presidential years ending in the figure 2. In 1892 James B. Weaver, the Populist candidate for president, received 22 electoral votes and split the electors in Oregon and North Dakota. But the electors in Michigan, Ohio and California also divided that year between Republicans and Democrats — Grover Cleveland was elected president—largely because of differences of opinion between different sections of the states. North Dakota established some sort of record by splitting three electoral votes three ways — one for Cleveland, one for Benjamin Harrison and one for Weaver.

In 1912 California split its electoral vote, 11 for Theodore Roosevelt to 2 for Wilson. Other instances are scattered over other election years, but those mentioned serve to prove that regardless of which presidential ticket carries a state, the electors still may vote as they please.

George E. Sokolsky: THESE DAYS

ATONEMENT

In the faith of my fathers, atonement is an essential expression of the relationship of man to God. It is accepted that man is fallible. His judgment is often wrong. His acts often bring harm to others; his failures may result in calamities even to those who are strangers.

In the philosophy of my ancestors, a man could not shirk his responsibility. When he sinned, when he transgressed, when he did evil, he could not lean on the crutch of human weakness. He could not claim that he had done his best. He had to atone for his errors.

The fast of Yom Kippur, to which Jews throughout the world consecrate themselves Monday, is called in English, the Day of Atonement. It is a day on which men, women and children of the Jewish faith confess their sins and atone for them. All confess together and atone in the presence of each other.

The experience of my people is long upon this earth. This year is 5713 of known history for them, and although the record of a people is not transmissible in blood and memory, it is handed down from father to son in traditions, in the knowledge of life and character and conduct.

And this we know: that hard times follow good times; that the seven lean cows, as Joseph knew, would consume the seven fat cows; that after great prosperity always come troubled times and fearful people. This has been human experience and perhaps what often makes the Jew so touchy is that from Abraham until this very day, he has witnessed the curious phenomenon that wise and competent men, as well as knaves and fools, foul their own world once they have grown rich and powerful and sure. Only those who live in the fear of retribution live prudently.

Thus, we, in this country, have ourselves witnessed the change-over from good times to bad, from profligacy to the need for frugality, from sureness to fear. We were the richest people on earth before 1929 and little taxed; we are now the most taxed people on earth and constantly going deeper in debt. We were proud and independent, each man sure in his own home, providing for his family by his own ingenuity and hard work, begging of no one, surely not of his government. Since 1932, we have become increasingly dependent upon government.

For more than a century, we lived in peace with all the world (except for the slight Spanish-American War). Since 1917, we have engaged in what seems to be a constant, unending, costly war in which our sons are being devoured and our wealth consumed.

It is unbelievable that these changes are without cause. Everything in life has meaning. Everything in each man's life is related to all that has gone before. Therefore, when the greatest and richest and most powerful of all nations faces disaster and piles confusion upon confusion, the cause must be sought, the explanation must be found.

We have sinned. We have sinned as individuals; we have sinned as a people. We have erected false idols; we have followed false prophets. We have deserted God and God's natural law; we have accepted the sly speeches of glib men rather than the majesty of tradition. We have deserted liberty and human dignity for wanton security, for promises of plenty. We have preferred wisecracks and gags to wisdom and experience. We have listened to the siren of internationalism and have forsaken patriotism. We have forgotten Moses, Christ, Aristotle and toyed with Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

We have pursued fun as an end and abandoned our children to self-indulgence. We have tolerated corruption and watched our families disintegrate by divorce.

For these sins we are being punished inexorably. The ultra-modern will laugh at this; they ridicule the supernatural and the eternal. But troubled times have come upon our generation. We are discontented. We are worried. We live in fear of insecurity, of war, of lost sons. Those are the facts of our times.

For these facts, we need to atone, for we are the authors of our errors. Proud of our great scientific knowledge and abundant engineering skill, we do not even approximate the contentment of our grandparents, who knew not the automobile, the radio, television, the washing machine, antibiotics or the atom bomb. But they did know God.

STETSON TRIUMPHS OVER NORTHEAST, 40-20

TRIBE OUT-GAINS HATTERS, SHOWS MOST 1ST DOWNS

Statistics Make Redskin Loss Look Unbelievable

Statistically the Northeast Louisiana State Indians had the best team on the field here last night, but the Stetson Hatters got the most touchdowns, the ultimate deciding factor in football games, and rolled over the Redskins, 40 to 20, in a game harder fought that the score even comes near indicating.

It's hard to believe that a team able to roll up 25 first downs against only seven for the opposition and holds the edge in yardage gained can lose a ball game, but that's exactly what happened last night.

STATISTICS

	Stetson	N'east
First downs	7	25
Rushing yardage	108	288
Passing yardage	200	98
Passes attempted	7	21
Passes completed	4	8
Passes intercepted by	3	1
Punts	4	3
Punting average	33.2	37.2
Fumbles lost	2	1
Yards penalized	77	25

A backfiring passing attack made the Hatters a gift of their last two touchdowns and a costly fumble set up another

Bobby Marks and Herb Werner accounted for all Stetson touchdowns, Marks counting the first two on runs of two and 61 yards, the latter on a pass from Ron DeLilla, and Werner going over four times, twice with intercepted came on runs of three and eleven yards.

Lloyd Ray, Press Berry, and Jack Brown scored touchdowns for the Indians, but it was the hard running of little Ed Plonsky that made the big difference in the Indian offense. Plonsky riped the Hatter line to shreds all through the contest and it was his hard driving, plus some of the same by Berry, that resulted in Northeast's overwhelming edge in first downs.

Ray plunged two yards for his touchdown. Berry got his on a similar play, and Brown scored on a 58-yard pass play after catching a throw from Mark Boatright.

Willi Han's interception of a Mark Boatright pass on the second play after the opening kickoff set the stage for Stetson's opening touchdown. Han was hauled down on the Indian 22. Billy Odom skirted end for 15 to the Indian seven. Bobby Marks lost two, but Herb Werner cracked tackle for seven to the Tribe's two. Bobby Marks cracked the middle for the touchdown and Bobby Williams booted the point.

But the Indians came roaring back for a 69-yard drive that netted five first downs in a march to the Hatter 12. The drive stalled on the five and Stetson took over only to fumble. Tommy Wilson covered the loose ball for Northeast on the Hatter 11. Press Berry cracked guard for two, and Ed Plonsky slashed through tackle to the two. Ray crashed over the middle for the first Redskin touchdown. Boatright's kick for the point failed.

A long pass quickly brought the Hatters their second TD. With the ball on the Hatter 39, Ron DeLilla fired a 31-yard pass to Bobby Marks who romped the remaining 30 yards to score. Williams again kicked the point.

Northeast's tremendous ground game rolled up yard after yard through the rest of the first half, but it wasn't until midway of the second period that the Indians were able to score again. This drive started from the Tribe's 32 after downing a punt, and the Tribe rolled for four first downs in moving to the Stetson six. Berry hit the middle from three yards out to tally, and this time Boatright's kick was good, leading the Tribe trailing 14-13 at the half.

A Northeast fumble, first of the game for the Tribe, started the Hatters on another TD drive after Stetson had covered the bobble on Werner hammered to the 19. Odom got loose twice for a first on the Redskin 37. Bobby Marks and the three, and Werner skirted left end to score. Again Williams kicked for the conversion.

Stetson added TD No. 4 on the last play of the third period as Werner skirted right end 11 yards to climax a drive of 31 yards after "Sonny" Parrish had returned a Tribe punt from his own 48 to the Indian 31. Williams missed his kick for the point.

There was six minutes to go in the game when Boatright got off a 28-yard pass to Brown on the Stetson 30, and Brown romped the rest of the way to score. Boatright kicked the point.

A Northeast drive was spiked on the Hatter 20 when runners twice were thrown for losses back to the 35, and then a pass was intercepted by Werner on the Hatter 12. Werner weaved his way through tacklers to go all the way —88 yards—for another Stetson touchdown. Williams' kick for the point failed.

A minute later another Indian passing threat backfired when Werner again intercepted on the Indian 40 and ran back for the touchdown. Bill Proctor missed the kick for the point, and that was the ball game.

4TH ANNUAL GOLF MEET AT COUNTRY CLUB OCTOBER 5

Nine Titleholders Or Former Champs Entered In Tournament

Plans and preparations are complete for the Fourth Annual Medal Tournament of the Ladies Golf Association of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club to be played Sunday, October 5, here in Monroe.

The largest array of feminine stars, champions and former titleholders, will participate in this year's tournament, making it the "fastest" ladies 'tournament ever held in North Louisiana.

Nine champions, or former champions, have entered this year's event, including the Louisiana state champion for the past two years, Mary Ann Villegas, of New Orleans. Miss Villegas, besides being state champ, holds the 1952 National Intercollegiate championship; 1952 Tam O'Shanter Womens' amateur title: and was the victor in the New Orleans City championship tournament this summer. She is one of the favorites to cop the prize at Bayou DeSiard C. C. next Sunday.

Other highly renowned feminine golfers from surrounding areas also co-favorites are: Mrs. Alfred Roberts, Lake Charles city champion, and 1949 championship consolation winner in the Ladies' Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament; Mrs. Gordon Perrin, Arkansas state champion; Mrs. Mal Blankenship, former Mississippi state champion, of Vicksburg; Mrs. Elizabeth McKinney, of Natchez Miss., 1950 Mississippi state champion; Mrs. William Roundtree, Shreveport city titleholder; Miss Clifford Ann Creed, 14-year-old Alexandria city champ; Mrs. Henry Siedel, Metarie Country Club, New Orleans; and Mrs. George Miller, 1950, Louisiana state champion.

Many other top-notch and fine lady golfers are expected to enter before the deadline Saturday, October 4.

Mrs. George Miller, playing over her home course, is another co-favorite to walk off with this year's first prize.

There will be 16 players to the flight and prizes will be awarded to the first and second low gross and low net score in each flight. There will also be prizes for putting and hole-in-one contests.

Pairings will be made by handicaps, and handicap scores must be in the hands of the tournament committee not later than Saturday night, October 4.

Starting time will be at 9 a.m. Sunday, October 5.

A refreshment hour will precede the awarding of prizes, and a buffet luncheon is on the agenda for noon Sunday.

Alabama Fights From Behind To Nip Louisiana State To Tune Of 21-20

Bobby Luna Crashed Over With Winning Touchdown

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 27 (AP)—Bobby Luna climaxed a 75-yard drive in the fourth period with a three - yard touchdown thrust and a game-winning conversion to give Alabama a 21-20 Southeastern Conference football victory over stubborn Louisiana State University tonight.

Luna, a 185-pound sophomore halfback from Huntsville, Ala., made the difference in the seesaw battle. He scored two touchdowns and kicked all three of Alabama's extra points.

It was hard-won revenge for Alabama—a team upset in its last two meetings with L. S. U.

Luna's first score was butted over from the seven after End Jerry Lambert intercepted a pass on the L. S. U. 29 and Quarterback Clell Hobson and Right Halfback Bobby Marlow moved the ball into scoring position on a series of running and passing plays.

L. S. U. bounced back when Sammy Murphy recovered a Marlow fumble deep in Alabama territory and Al Doggett passed 16 yards to End Rom Emberg in the end zone to score.

Fullback Bob Conway, a 'Bama track star, returned the following kickoff and sprinted 94 yards for a touchdown. The first three touchdowns were all in the second quarter.

During that period L. S. U.'s sophomore backs competed on even grounds with the running and passing combination of Marlow and Hobson.

Marlow, rated one of the finest backs in the S. E. C., gained 91 yards.

The L. S. U. running attack was paced by right Halfback Al Doggett. Doggett ran 38 yards down the left side of the field for a third period score, but Cliff Stringfield missed the conversion try that would have tied the score at 14-14.

Linebacker George Brancato's pass interception and Willard Rachal's 20-yard touchdown romp gave L. S. U. its final score. Stringfield connected twice.

Score by quarters:

Alabama	0	14	0	7	—21
L. S. U.	0	7	6	7	—20

Alabama scoring: Touchdowns Luna 2; Conway; Conversions, Luna 3.

L. S. U. scoring: Touchdowns—Emberg, Doggett, Rachal; Conversions—Stringfield 2.

Texas Aggies, 14 Oklahoma Ags, 7

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Texas A. and M. ground out a grudging 14-7 victory tonight over rough, tough Oklahoma A. and M., scoring the winning touchdown with less than four minutes to go.

The Texans cashed in on a pass interception to drive 55 weary, battering yards for their victory as a sparse but enthusiastic crowd of 18,000 roared in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cadets had virtually camped in Oklahoma Aggie territory the entire last half but couldn't puncture the Cowpoke defense until that break came as the game was nearing its end. Oklahoma A. and M. had driven up to their 47 and Don Babers tried a long pass to John Weigle. But Texas Aggie Joe Boring batted the ball and Herb Scott plucked it out of the air to run from the 22 up to the Texas A. and M. 45.

Then the Aggies waded to their touchdown with Don Kachtik, a battering ram of a fullback, making the last five yards in three bull-like plunges. He dived over from the two-foot line.

STETSON TRIUMPHS OVER NORTHEAST, 40-20

TRIBE OUT-GAINS HATTERS, SHOWS MOST 1ST DOWNS

Statistics Make Redskin Loss Look Unbelievable

Statistically the Northeast Louisiana State Indians had the best team on the field here last night, but the Stetson Hatters got the most touchdowns, the ultimate deciding factor in football games, and rolled over the Redskins, 40 to 20, in a game harder fought that the score even comes near indicating.

It's hard to believe that a team able to roll up 25 first downs against only seven for the opposition and holds the edge in yardage gained can lose a ball game, but that's exactly what happened last night.

A backfiring passing attack made the Hatters a gift of their last two touchdowns and a costly fumble set up another

Bobby Marks and Herb Werner accounted for all Stetson touchdowns, Marks counting the first two on runs of two and 61 yards, the latter on a pass from Ron DeLilla, and Werner going over four times, twice with intercepted came on runs of three and eleven yards.

Lloyd Ray, Press Berry, and Jack Brown scored touchdowns for the Indians, but it was the hard running of little Ed Plonsky that made the big difference in the Indian offense. Plonsky riped the Hatter line to shreds all through the contest and it was his hard driving, plus some of the same by Berry, that resulted in Northeast's overwhelming edge in first downs.

Ray plunged two yards for his touchdown. Berry got his on a similar play, and Brown scored on a 58-yard pass play after catching a throw from Mark Boatright.

Willi Han's interception of a Mark Boatright pass on the second play after the opening kickoff set the stage for Stetson's opening touchdown. Han was hauled down on the Indian 22. Billy Odom skirted end for 15 to the Indian seven. Bobby Marks lost two, but Herb Werner cracked tackle for seven to the Tribe's two. Bobby Marks cracked the middle for the touchdown and Bobby Williams booted the point.

But the Indians came roaring back for a 69-yard drive that netted five first downs in a march to the Hatter 12. The drive stalled on the five and Stetson took over only to fumble. Tommy Wilson covered the loose ball for Northeast on the Hatter 11. Press Berry cracked guard for two, and Ed Plonsky slashed through tackle to the two. Ray crashed over the middle for the first Redskin touchdown. Boatright's kick for the point failed.

A long pass quickly brought the Hatters their second TD. With the ball on the Hatter 39, Ron DeLilla fired a 31-yard pass to Bobby Marks who romped the remaining 30 yards to score. Williams again kicked the point.

Northeast's tremendous ground game rolled up yard after yard through the rest of the first half, but it wasn't until midway of the second period that the Indians were able to score again. This drive started from the Tribe's 32 after downing a punt, and the Tribe rolled for four first downs in moving to the Stetson six. Berry hit the middle from three yards out to tally, and this time Boatright's kick was good, leading the Tribe trailing 14-13 at the half.

A Northeast fumble, first of the game for the Tribe, started the Hatters on another TD drive after Stetson had covered the bobble on Werner hammered to the 19. Odom got loose twice for a first on the Redskin 37. Bobby Marks and the three, and Werner skirted left end to score. Again Williams kicked for the conversion.

Stetson added TD No. 4 on the last play of the third period as Werner skirted right end 11 yards to climax a drive of 31 yards after "Sonny" Parrish had returned a Tribe punt from his own 48 to the Indian 31. Williams missed his kick for the point.

There was six minutes to go in the game when Boatright got off a 28-yard pass to Brown on the Stetson 30, and Brown romped the rest of the way to score. Boatright kicked the point.

A Northeast drive was spiked on the Hatter 20 when runners twice were thrown for losses back to the 35, and then a pass was intercepted by Werner on the Hatter 12. Werner weaved his way through tacklers to go all the way —88 yards—for another Stetson touchdown. Williams' kick for the point failed.

A minute later another Indian passing threat backfired when Werner again intercepted on the Indian 40 and ran back for the touchdown. Bill Proctor missed the kick for the point, and that was the ball game.

4TH ANNUAL GOLF MEET AT COUNTRY CLUB OCTOBER 5

Nine Titleholders Or Former Champs Entered In Tournament

Plans and preparations are complete for the Fourth Annual Medal Tournament of the Ladies Golf Association of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club to be played Sunday, October 5, here in Monroe.

The largest array of feminine stars, champions and former titleholders, will participate in this year's tournament, making it the "fastest" ladies 'tournament ever held in North Louisiana.

Nine champions, or former champions, have entered this year's event, including the Louisiana state champion for the past two years, Mary Ann Villegas, of New Orleans. Miss Villegas, besides being state champ, holds the 1952 National Intercollegiate championship; 1952 Tam O'Shanter Womens' amateur title; and was the victor in the New Orleans City championship tournament this summer. She is one of the favorites to cop the prize at Bayou DeSiard C. C. next Sunday.

Other highly renowned feminine golfers from surrounding areas also co-favorites are: Mrs. Alfred Roberts, Lake Charles city champion, and 1949 championship consolation winner in the Ladies' Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament: Mrs. Gordon Perrin, Arkansas state champion; Mrs. Mal Blankenship, former Mississippi state champion, of Vicksburg; Mrs. Elizabeth McKinney, of Natchez Miss., 1950 Mississippi state champion; Mrs. William Roundtree, Shreveport city titleholder; Miss Clifford Ann Creed, 14-year-old Alexandria city champ; Mrs. Henry Siedel, Metarie Country Club, New Orleans; and Mrs. George Miller, 1950, Louisiana state champion.

Many other top-notch and fine lady golfers are expected to enter before the deadline Saturday, October 4.

Mrs. George Miller, playing over her home course, is another co-favorite to walk off with this year's first prize.

There will be 16 players to the flight and prizes will be awarded to the first and second low gross and low net score in each flight. There will also be prizes for putting and hole-in-one contests.

Pairings will be made by handicaps, and handicap scores must be in the hands of the tournament committee not later than Saturday night, October 4.

Starting time will be at 9 a.m. Sunday, October 5.

A refreshment hour will precede the awarding of prizes, and a buffet luncheon is on the agenda for noon Sunday.

Alabama Fights From Behind To Nip Louisiana State To Tune Of 21-20

Bobby Luna Crashed Over With Winning Touchdown

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 27 (AP)—Bobby Luna climaxed a 75-yard drive in the fourth period with a three - yard touchdown thrust and a game-winning conversion to give Alabama a 21-20 Southeastern Conference football victory over stubborn Louisiana State University tonight.

Luna, a 185-pound sophomore halfback from Huntsville, Ala., made the difference in the see-saw battle. He scored two touchdowns and kicked all three of Alabama's extra points.

It was hard-won revenge for Alabama—a team upset in its last two meetings with L. S. U.

Luna's first score was butted over from the seven after End Jerry Lambert intercepted a pass on the L. S. U. 29 and Quarterback Clell Hobson and Right Halfback Bobby Marlow moved the ball into scoring position on a series of running and passing plays.

L. S. U. bounced back when Sammy Murphy recovered a Marlow fumble deep in Alabama territory and Al Doggett passed 16 yards to End Rom Emberg in the end zone to score.

Fullback Bob Conway, a 'Bama track star, returned the following kickoff and sprinted 94 yards for a touchdown. The first three touchdowns were all in the second quarter.

During that period L. S. U.'s sophomore backs competed on even grounds with the running and passing combination of Marlow and Hobson.

Marlow, rated one of the finest backs in the S. E. C., gained 91 yards.

The L. S. U. running attack was paced by right Halfback Al Doggett. Doggett ran 38 yards down the left side of the field for a third period score, but Cliff Stringfield missed the conversion try that would have tied the score at 14-14.

Linebacker George Brancato's pass interception and Willard Rachal's 20-yard touchdown romp gave L. S. U. its final score. Stringfield connected twice.

Texas Aggies, 14 Oklahoma Ags, 7

DALLAS, Sept. 27 (AP)—Texas A. and M. ground out a grudging 14-7 victory tonight over rough, tough Oklahoma A. and M., scoring the winning touchdown with less than four minutes to go.

The Texans cashed in on a pass interception to drive 55 weary, battering yards for their victory as a sparse but enthusiastic crowd of 18,000 roared in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cadets had virtually camped in Oklahoma Aggie territory the entire last half but couldn't puncture the Cowpoke defense until that break came as the game was nearing its end. Oklahoma A. and M. had driven up to their 47 and Don Babers tried a long pass to John Weigle. But Texas Aggie Joe Boring batted the ball and Herb Scott plucked it out of the air to run from the 22 up to the Texas A. and M. 45.

Then the Aggies waded to their touchdown with Don Kachtik, a battering ram of a fullback, making the last five yards in three bull-like plunges. He dived over from the two-foot line.

TULANE FUMBLES AWAY VICTORY TO GEORGIA

BULLDOGS SHADE GREEN IN FINAL 3 MINUTES, 21-16

Clement, Hero Of Game, Becomes 'Goat' In Late Seconds

BY ROY STEINFORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27. (AP)—Georgia picked up a Tulane fumble in the final seconds today and marched 36 yards through the air for a touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 21-16 Southeastern Conference football win over Tulane.

Tulane was riding high on a 16-14 lead with less than three minutes remaining when Green Wave Quarterback Pete Clement fumbled on his own 36.

Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski took over from there and flicked the 15-yard game - winning pass to Conrad Manisera.

Until his fumble, Clement had been the hero of the game.

He passed 12 yards for Tulane's first touchdown, punched over from the one - yard line for the second, booted a conversion, and then added a fourth - quarter field goal to give Tulane a 16-14 lead.

For a guy who couldn't win a regular starting berth on Tulane's eleven that finished last in the 1951 S. E. C. race, Clement was brilliant except for his one miscue.

Until the fumble, 40,000 fans, most of them Tulane partisans, were ready to acclaim the rangy quarterback the hero of the day.

He tossed 27 passes, completing 18 for 183 yards.

In the first period, Bratkowski completed three passes for 41 yards to End Harry Babcock during a 60-yard march that put Georgia on the Tulane one - yard line.

Charley Madison bucked it over and Sam Mrvos converted Georgia into a 7-0 lead.

Tulane Left Tackle Ed Petroski picked up a Georgia fumble made by Bobby Dellinger on the Georgia 15.

Three Tulane running plays gained only three yards, and then on fourth down Clement passed 12 yards to End Ed Bravo.

Clement's conversion was low.

The Bratkowski - Babcock combination bounced right back and Georgia took a 14-6 halftime lead.

Passing to Babcock and Art Decarlo, Bratkowski maneuvered his team to the Tulane one from where Dellinger plunged over.

Tulane came out to begin the second half in a business - like manner. Max McGee returned the kickoff 75 yards to the Georgia 25-yard line to set up Tulane's second touchdown.

With Clement and Halfback Ray Weidenbacher punching holes in Georgia's line, Tulane pushed to the one. Clement dove over and then converted, cutting Georgia's lead to 14-13.

Georgia came right back and drove to the Tulane 13 where Bratkowski fumbled and Tulane recovered. Clement, Weidenbacher, and McGee ripped into the Georgia line as Tulane pushed to the Georgia 12.

Trailing by two points, on fourth down and eight to go, Tulane tried for the field goal. Clement's boot was dead center and Tulane went ahead, 16-14, with a little over three minutes left.

KENTUCKY TIES OLE MISS, 13-13

Mississippi Leading 13-0 Going Into Final Quarter

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—A dazzling down the middle 64-yard scoring pass from Larry Jones to Steve Meilinger brought Kentucky a 13-13 tie with powerful Mississippi today in a Southeastern Conference football upset.

Ole Miss, the club Dixie dopsters picked to finish third in the league race, went into the last period with a 13-0 lead. That looked like money in the bank.

Kentucky got a big break early in the period as Ole Miss safetyman Jack Reed bobbled a punt at the one-foot line. Kentucky recovered and Larry Jones punched over the tally that started Kentucky rolling.

Mississippi, a rugged crew directed by the dangerous running and passing of senior Jimmy Lear, stepped out with drives of 89 and 45 yards to score in the second and third periods.

Except for some savage defensive play by Fullback Tommy Adkins, Ole Miss might have wrapped it up early. The deep south Rebels rambled 44 yards after recovering a Kentucky fumble and got within inches of the goal in the first period. An offside penalty helped stem the drive and Kentucky took over.

Score by quarters:

Rookie Ed Mathews Socks 3 Homers As Braves Trounce Dodgers, 11 To 3

Giants Fall Before Philadelphia Phils, 7 To 3

BROOKLYN, Sept. 27—(AP)—Ed Mathews, 20 - year - old apple cheeked third baseman, blasted three home runs today to lead the Boston Braves to an 11-3 triumph over the National League Champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mathews is the first rookie in the history of the league o sock three home runs in one game. Mickey Cochrane in 1925, Tony Lazzeri in 1926 and Herb Connors in 1938 are the only American League greenhorns to hit three homers in none game.

The Brave recruit struck out in the first inning and hit consecutive homers in the third, sixth and eighth innings. In the ninth, Mathews swung at a 3-0 pitch in a bid to hit his fourth home run but he grounded out. Only other players to hit three homers in one game this season are Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Navy Offenses Beat Yale, 31-0

BALTIMORE, Sept. 27 (AP)—An assortment of offenses from practically every football book and some made up by Coach Eddie Erdelatz finally jelled in the fourth quarter to carry Navy to a 31-0 thumping over Yale today.

A crowd of 25,000 fans watched the Navy sweat out a 10-0 three quarter lead and then breeze to three touchdowns in the last 15 minutes.

The Navy attacked with everything except the Statue of Liberty play, going from the split T, single wing, double wing and box. It ran up scads of yardage but couldn't score until the second period.

The Navy thus got off its first winning start since 1946.

Score by quarters:

Tennessee Over Miss. St. 14-7

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 27 (AP)—Bull-like Andy Kozar vaulted over from the two in the final quarter to give heavily favored Tennessee a 14-7 win over fired-up Mississippi State this afternoon.

Volunteer Guard Martin Paris pounced on a Zerk Wilson fumble on the State 30 to give Tennessee the break it needed. Dave Griffith and Kozar moved it to the two in a couple of plays.

Better than 20,000 shirtsleeved fans watched outmanned, but never outplayed State, take all the powerful Vols could offer in the first three periods.

Tennessee scored first, soon after the second quarter got under way, after it took over on the State 42.

Spartans Overcome First-Quarter 13-0 Wolverine Lead

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Michigan State's rampaging Spartans, stunned by underrated Michigan, turned loose its eight free-wheeling backs and boomed from behind to a 27-13 victory before a sellout crowd of 97,239 fans today.

But Michigan State, top ranked in the Associated Press preseason poll, stepped to its 16th straight victory with the help of only a pass interception and a fumble that set up Spartan scores, and a penalty that crushed a Michigan drive.

The fans were reeling in their seats from surprise when Michigan, a two - touchdown underdog, whizzed to a 13-0 lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter.

But 23 seconds after Michigan scored touchdown No. 2, Don McAuliffe streaked around right end 70 yards for a touchdown. Four minutes later Michigan State tied it at 13 - all in the second period on Leroy Bolden's three-yard plunge.

The first four touchdowns came in a dizzy scoring spree that covered less than seven minutes.

After the fourth touchdown was scored, Michigan—sparked by unknown Ted Kress and veteran Frank Howell—powered right back to State's 14. Michigan fumbled, State recovered and took off on an 86-yard touchdown drive.

With little Billy Wells and McAuliffe grounding out yardage, the Spartans moved to the Michigan 33 where a penalty set them back to the 48. McAuliffe shot a 40-yard pass to End Paul Dekker who was spilled on the nine. Wells whammed through center for the touchdown.

But when Kress floated a long pass, Jim Ellis intercepted it and ran back to his 17.

M.S.C. finished off the discouraged Wolverines, who suffered their third straight setback at the hands of Michigan State forces, with a 37-yard touchdown drive late in the third period.

Score by quarters:

Field Goal Keeps Tech's Engineers From Upset Deadlock With Florida

Rambling Wreck Squeezes Out 17-14 Win Over Gators

ATLANTA, Sept. 27 (AP)—Frank Rodgers—a hot-footed kid called "Pepper"—reenacted one of southern football's most famous plays today to kick a late fourth-quarter field goal and give Georgia Tech a tingling 17-14 victory over Florida.

The squeeze through to victory Tech had was far from what the nationally third rated Georgians expected. Had Rodgers not duplicated his famous game-winning field goal of the 1952 Orange Bowl which sat down Baylor by an identical 17-14 score, Tech would have been a tied team and one which didn't look at all like the Dixie king.

Like all champions, however, Tech had the staying power, the will to come back and the delivery punch. Four times Florida's clawing, furious defensive line—which completely out - performed its more famed Tech counterpart—slammed Tech ball carriers so hard they fumbled away great potential scoring chances.

Each time Florida recovered. And twice Florida followed up that magnificient defensive work with touchdowns. The first time put Florida ahead 7-0. Tech turned to passing and evened the score.

The second time Florida went ahead 14-7 and again Tech went to passing. A stumbling, turning, falling catch by Jeff Knox in the end zone on the catch of a pass from Bill Brigman evened the score again.

Then, as the game was gone but for six minutes, little Pepper, an Atlanta kid who is no great success as a quarterback, banged away to give Tech another victory.

The last time Tech lost was in November, 1950. Since then 16 games have passed without a Tech beating.

Score by quarters:

Florida	7	0	7	0	—14
Georgia Tech	0	7	0	10	—17

Florida scoring: Touchdowns—Long, Hall Hurse 2.

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns — Martin, Knox. Conversions: Rodgers 2. Field goal: Rodgers.

England's Riding Champ Wins No. 200th Of Year

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gordon Richards rode his 200th winner of the 1952 flat racing season as Ascot today. His career total is now 4,594 wins—a world record.

Although the flat season still has several weeks to run he is certain to win the jockey championship for the 25th time.

Richards, with today's success on Aristophanes—a 5 to 1 shot in the last race, has now reached the 200 mark in twelve British flat racing seasons.

But he never has won the English Derby.

Yankees Sell All Reserved Tickets For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—The New York Yankees announced today that all reserved and box seat tickets for the three World Series games at Yankee Stadium had been sold out three and one half hours after they were placed on sale at 7 p. m. (CST) 1st night.

Fans began lining up at the stadium at 4:30 p. m. (CST) last night. First in line was Warren Powers of New York. By the time the windows opened this morning the line almost stretched around the four block stadium.

Stadium and New York City police scrutinized those in line, and succeeded in weeding out a number of speculators, and persons believed to be buying for speculators.

The only seats remaining are the bleacher seats which, along with standing room tickets, will be available on the day of each game. Before the public sale the Yanks sent applications to season ticket holders.

Fans were required to purchase tickets for all three games and were limited to two sets of pasteboards. Prices were $24 for box seats and $18 for reserved seats.

Jackson Wildlife Meeting Monday

JONESBORO, La., Sept. 27. (Special)—The Jackson Parish Sportsmen's Club will meet here Monday night in the grammar school cafeteria. This will be a very important meeting especially to the members who are winners in the club's annual Fishing Rodeo. The contest has ended and the valuable prizes will be given to the winners at this time.

The contest has extended over a period of weeks and every one has been very cooperative by reporting their catch to the nearest weigh in station in order that their catch might be entered on record for the prize offered for the particular type of fish caught.

A. N. West, president of the club, announces some very prominent and interesting guests speakers will be at this meeting.

Jerry Besson and Charles Bosch, president and secretary of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, will be here. These men are well informed on the wild life in Louisiana and the problems that confront the sportsmen's clubs and other organizations that are attempting to protect the wild life in the state.

Modern highways are built as much as 36 inches thick for heavy cuty, but as late as 1934, a 10-inch concrete slab was thought sufficient.

ARMY HAS SIGNS OF OLD TACTICS

Cadets Steam Through Favored Gamecocks, 28 To 7

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 27 (AP)—Displaying sporadic flashes of explosive power reminiscent of its famed predecessors, the supposedly enfeebled Army football team surged to a convincing 28 to 7 victory over a slightly favored South Carolina eleven today.

The crowd of 23,474, expecting the worst from a team still in the process of reconstruction, was brought to its feet within seconds as Jerome Hagan snared the opening South Carolina kickoff, and raced 84 yards for a touchdown.

That surprising development was followed almost immediately by another flash of offensive strength as Pete Vann passed to Lowell Sisson for a 57-yard gain and a second score.

The Carolinians fought back gamely and soon after the second period opened Johnny Grambling passes 32 yards to Clyde Bennett, who stepped into the end zone for the lone Gamecock touchdown.

The Cadets, taking full advantage of South Carolina fumbles, added a third touchdown late in the second period after John Krause had intercepted a desperad tion pass on the Carolina 14. Paul Schweikert plunged over from the two.

It was Schweikert again in the third period, the stocky back driving over from the two after carrying the ball four successive times from the 19.

Score by quarters:

South Carolina	0	7	0	0	— 7
Army	14	7	7	0	—28

South Carolina scoring: Touchdown—Bennett. Conversion, Jarrett.

Army scoring: Touchdowns — Hagan, Sisson, Schweikert 2. Conversion, Sain 4.

BULLDOGS SHADE GREEN IN FINAL 3 MINUTES, 21-16

BY ROY STEINFORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27. (AP)—Georgia picked up a Tulane fumble in the final seconds today and marched 36 yards through the air for a touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 21-16 Southeastern Conference football win over Tulane.

Tulane was riding high on a 16-14 lead with less than three minutes remaining when Green Wave Quarterback Pete Clement fumbled on his own 36.

Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski took over from there and flicked the 15-yard game - winning pass to Conrad Manisera.

Until his fumble, Clement had been the hero of the game.

He passed 12 yards for Tulane's first touchdown, punched over from the one - yard line for the second, booted a conversion, and then added a fourth - quarter field goal to give Tulane a 16-14 lead.

For a guy who couldn't win a regular starting berth on Tulane's eleven that finished last in the 1951 S. E. C. race, Clement was brilliant except for his one miscue.

Until the fumble, 40,000 fans, most of them Tulane partisans, were ready to acclaim the rangy quarterback the hero of the day.

He tossed 27 passes, completing 18 for 183 yards.

In the first period, Bratkowski completed three passes for 41 yards to End Harry Babcock during a 60-yard march that put Georgia on the Tulane one - yard line.

Charley Madison bucked it over and Sam Mrvos converted Georgia into a 7-0 lead.

Tulane Left Tackle Ed Petroski picked up a Georgia fumble made by Bobby Dellinger on the Georgia 15.

Three Tulane running plays gained only three yards, and then on fourth down Clement passed 12 yards to End Ed Bravo.

Clement's conversion was low.

The Bratkowski - Babcock combination bounced right back and Georgia took a 14-6 halftime lead.

Passing to Babcock and Art Decarlo, Bratkowski maneuvered his team to the Tulane one from where Dellinger plunged over.

Tulane came out to begin the second half in a business - like manner. Max McGee returned the kickoff 75 yards to the Georgia 25-yard line to set up Tulane's second touchdown.

With Clement and Halfback Ray Weidenbacher punching holes in Georgia's line, Tulane pushed to the one. Clement dove over and then converted, cutting Georgia's lead to 14-13.

Georgia came right back and drove to the Tulane 13 where Bratkowski fumbled and Tulane recovered. Clement, Weidenbacher, and McGee ripped into the Georgia line as Tulane pushed to the Georgia 12.

Trailing by two points, on fourth down and eight to go, Tulane tried for the field goal. Clement's boot was dead center and Tulane went ahead, 16-14, with a little over three minutes left.

Score by periods:

Georgia	7	7	0	7—21
Tulane	0	6	7	3—16

Georgia scoring: touchdowns, Madison, Dellinger, Manisera. Conversion, Mrvos 3.

Tulane scoring: touchdowns, Bravo, Clement. Conversions, Clement Field Goal, Clement.

KENTUCKY TIES OLE MISS, 13-13

Mississippi Leading 13-0 Going Into Final Quarter

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 27 (AP)—A dazzling down the middle 64-yard scoring pass from Larry Jones to Steve Meilinger brought Kentucky a 13-13 tie with powerful Mississippi today in a Southeastern Conference football upset.

Ole Miss, the club Dixie dopsters picked to finish third in the league race, went into the last period with a 13-0 lead. That looked like money in the bank.

Kentucky got a big break early in the period as Ole Miss safetyman Jack Reed bobbled a punt at the one-foot line. Kentucky recovered and Larry Jones punched over the tally that started Kentucky rolling.

Mississippi, a rugged crew directed by the dangerous running and passing of senior Jimmy Lear, stepped out with drives of 89 and 45 yards to score in the second and third periods.

Except for some savage defensive play by Fullback Tommy Adkins, Ole Miss might have wrapped it up early. The deep south Rebels rambled 44 yards after recovering a Kentucky fumble and got within inches of the goal in the first period. An offside penalty helped stem the drive and Kentucky took over.

Score by quarters:

Mississippi	0	7	6	0—13
Kentucky	0	0	0	13—13

Mississippi scoring: Touchdowns, Lofton, Dillard, Conversion, Matthews.

Kentucky scoring: Touchdowns; Larry Jones, Meilinger, Conversion; Harry Jones.

Rookie Ed Mathews Socks 3 Homers As Braves Trounce Dodgers, 11 To 3

Giants Fall Before Philadelphia Phils, 7 To 3

BROOKLYN, Sept. 27—(AP)—Ed Mathews, 20 - year - old apple cheeked third baseman, blasted three home runs today to lead the Boston Braves to an 11-3 triumph over the National League Champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mathews is the first rookie in the history of the league o sock three home runs in one game. Mickey Cochrane in 1925, Tony Lazeri in 1926 and Herb Connors in 1938 are the only American League greenhorns to hit three homers in none game.

The Brave recruit struck out in the first inning and hit consecutive homers in the third, sixth and eighth innings. In the ninth, Mathews swung at a 3-0 pitch in a bid to hit his fourth home run but he grounded out. Only other players to hit three homers in one game this season are Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs and Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

Navy Offenses Beat Yale, 31-0

BALTIMORE, Sept. 27 (AP)—An assortment of offenses from practically every football book and some made up by Coach Eddie Erdelatz finally jelled in the fourth quarter to carry Navy to a 31-0 thumping over Yale today.

A crowd of 25,000 fans watched the Navy sweat out a 10-0 three quarter lead and then breeze to three touchdowns in the last 15 minutes.

The Navy attacked with everything except the Statue of Liberty play, going from the split T, single wing, double wing and box. It ran up scads of yardage but couldn't score until the second period.

The Navy thus got off its first winning start since 1946.

Score by quarters:

Tennessee Over Miss. St. 14-7

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 27 (AP)—Bull-like Andy Kozar vaulted over from the two in the final quarter to give heavily favored Tennessee a 14-7 win over fired-up Mississippi State this afternoon.

Volunteer Guard Martin Paris pounced on a Zerk Wilson fumble on the State 30 to give Tennessee the break it needed. Dave Griffith and Kozar moved it to the two in a couple of plays.

Better than 20,000 shirtsleeved fans watched outmanned, but never outplayed State, take all the powerful Vols could offer in the first three periods.

Tennessee scored first, soon after the second quarter got under way, after it took over on the State 42.

MICH. ST. STOPS MICH. U., 27-13

Spartans Overcome First-Quarter 13-0 Wolverine Lead

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Michigan State's rampaging Spartans, stunned by underrated Michigan, turned loose its eight free-wheeling backs and boomed from behind to a 27-13 victory before a sellout crowd of 97,239 fans today.

But Michigan State, top ranked in the Associated Press preseason poll, stepped to its 16th straight victory with the help of only a pass interception and a fumble that set up Spartan scores, and a penalty that crushed a Michigan drive.

The fans were reeling in their seats from surprise when Michigan, a two - touchdown underdog, whizzed to a 13-0 lead in the opening minutes of the first quarter.

But 23 seconds after Michigan scored touchdown No. 2, Don McAuliffe streaked around right end 70 yards for a touchdown. Four minutes later Michigan State tied it at 13 - all in the second period on Leroy Bolden's three-yard plunge.

The first four touchdowns came in a dizzy scoring spree that covered less than seven minutes.

After the fourth touchdown was scored, Michigan—sparked by unknown Ted Kress and veteran Frank Howell—powered right back to State's 14. Michigan fumbled, State recovered and took off on an 86-yard touchdown drive.

With little Billy Wells and McAuliffe grounding out yardage, the Spartans moved to the Michigan 33 where a penalty set them back to the 48. McAuliffe shot a 40-yard pass to End Paul Dekker who was spilled on the nine. Wells whammed through center for the touchdown.

But when Kress floated a long pass, Jim Ellis intercepted it and ran back to his 17.

M.S.C. finished off the discouraged Wolverines, who suffered their third straight setback at the hands of Michigan State forces, with a 37-yard touchdown drive late in the third period.

Field Goal Keeps Tech's Engineers From Upset Deadlock With Florida

Rambling Wreck Squeezes Out 17-14 Win Over Gators

ATLANTA, Sept. 27 (AP)—Frank Rodgers—a hot-footed kid called "Pepper"—reenacted one of southern football's most famous plays today to kick a late fourth-quarter field goal and give Georgia Tech a tingling 17-14 victory over Florida.

The squeeze through to victory Tech had was far from what the nationally third rated Georgians expected. Had Rodgers not duplicated his famous game-winning field goal of the 1952 Orange Bowl which sat down Baylor by an identical 17-14 score, Tech would have been a tied team and one which didn't look at all like the Dixie king.

Like all champions, however, Tech had the staying power, the will to come back and the delivery punch. Four times Florida's clawing, furious defensive line—which completely out - performed its more famed Tech counterpart—slammed Tech ball carriers so hard they fumbled away great potential scoring chances.

Each time Florida recovered. And twice Florida followed up that magnificient defensive work with touchdowns. The first time put Florida ahead 7-0. Tech turned to passing and evened the score.

The second time Florida went ahead 14-7 and again Tech went to passing. A stumbling, turning, falling catch by Jeff Knox in the end zone on the catch of a pass from Bill Brigman evened the score again.

Then, as the game was gone but for six minutes, little Pepper, an Atlanta kid who is no great success as a quarterback, banged away to give Tech another victory.

The last time Tech lost was in November, 1950. Since then 16 games have passed without a Tech beating.

Score by quarters:

Florida	7	0	7	0	—14
Georgia Tech	0	7	0	10	—17

Florida scoring: Touchdowns—Long, Hall Hurse 2.

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns — Martin, Knox. Conversions: Rodgers 2. Field goal: Rodgers.

England's Riding Champ Wins No. 200th Of Year

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP)—Gordon Richards rode his 200th winner of the 1952 flat racing season as Ascot today. His career total is now 4,594 wins—a world record.

Although the flat season still has several weeks to run he is certain to win the jockey championship for the 25th time.

Richards, with today's success on Aristophanes—a 5 to 1 shot in the last race, has now reached the 200 mark in twelve British flat racing seasons.

But he never has won the English Derby.

Yankees Sell All Reserved Tickets For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—The New York Yankees announced today that all reserved and box seat tickets for the three World Series games at Yankee Stadium had been sold out three and one half hours after they were placed on sale at 7 p. m. (CST) 1st night.

Fans began lining up at the stadium at 4:30 p. m. (CST) last night. First in line was Warren Powers of New York. By the time the windows opened this morning the line almost stretched around the four block stadium.

Stadium and New York City police scrutinized those in line, and succeeded in weeding out a number of speculators, and persons believed to be buying for speculators.

The only seats remaining are the bleacher seats which, along with standing room tickets, will be available on the day of each game. Before the public sale the Yanks sent applications to season ticket holders.

Fans were required to purchase tickets for all three games and were limited to two sets of pasteboards. Prices were $24 for box seats and $18 for reserved seats.

Jackson Wildlife Meeting Monday

JONESBORO, La., Sept. 27. (Special)—The Jackson Parish Sportsmen's Club will meet here Monday night in the grammar school cafeteria. This will be a very important meeting especially to the members who are winners in the club's annual Fishing Rodeo. The contest has ended and the valuable prizes will be given to the winners at this time.

The contest has extended over a period of weeks and every one has been very cooperative by reporting their catch to the nearest weigh in station in order that their catch might be entered on record for the prize offered for the particular type of fish caught.

A. N. West, president of the club, announces some very prominent and interesting guests speakers will be at this meeting.

Jerry Besson and Charles Bosch, president and secretary of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, will be here. These men are well informed on the wild life in Louisiana and the problems that confront the sportsmen's clubs and other organizations that are attempting to protect the wild life in the state.

ARMY HAS SIGNS OF OLD TACTICS

Cadets Steam Through Favored Gamecocks, 28 To 7

WEST POINT, N. Y., Sept. 27 (AP)—Displaying sporadic flashes of explosive power reminiscent of its famed predecessors, the supposedly enfeebled Army football team surged to a convincing 28 to 7 victory over a slightly favored South Carolina eleven today.

The crowd of 23,474, expecting the worst from a team still in the process of reconstruction, was brought to its feet within seconds as Jerome Hagan snared the opening South Carolina kickoff, and raced 84 yards for a touchdown.

That surprising development was followed almost immediately by another flash of offensive strength as Pete Vann passed to Lowell Sisson for a 57-yard gain and a second score.

The Carolinians fought back gamely and soon after the second period opened Johnny Grambling passes 32 yards to Clyde Bennett, who stepped into the end zone for the lone Gamecock touchdown.

The Cadets, taking full advantage of South Carolina fumbles, added a third touchdown late in the second period after John Krause had intercepted a desperad tion pass on the Carolina 14. Paul Schweikert plunged over from the two.

It was Schweikert again in the third period, the stocky back driving over from the two after carrying the ball four successive times from the 19.

Score by quarters:

South Carolina	0	7	0	0	— 7
Army	14	7	7	0	—28

South Carolina scoring: Touchdown—Bennett. Conversion, Jarrett.

Army scoring: Touchdowns — Hagan, Sisson, Schweikert 2. Conversion, Sain 4.

Umpires Selected For World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, named the umpires and official scorekeepers today for the 1952 World Series opening Wednesday at Ebbets Field between the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Umpires from the National League are Babe Pinelli and Larry Goetz, with Dusty Boggess alternate. From the American League, they are Art Passarella and Bill McKinley, with Jim Honochick alternate.

Scorekeepers will be Lou Smith Cincinnati Enquirer, president of the Baseball Writers Association, Jack Lang of the Long Island Press and Ben Epstein, New York Daily Mirror.

NEVILLE ELEVEN BATTLES GOLDEN BOYS THIS WEEK

Haynesville, Here Friday, Has Never Lost To Bengals

The Neville High School Tigers, after copping their second straight Class A conference win at the expense of the Rayville Hornets Friday night, will take time out in the championship race to meet the twin-A Haynesville Tornado here next Friday night at Neville Stadium.

The game promises to be a tough one for Coach Bill Ruple's Bengals as Haynesville, two weeks ago, held the strong Ruston Bearcats, favored to repeat as district "A" champions, to a 7-0 victory.

But the Bengals expect to be at full strength for the Tornado invasion, and, if Coach Ruple's boys show anything like the steam they have been able to build up in their last two showings, the Tigers could make the night mighty rough for Haynesville.

But Neville faces a traditional jinx — no Tiger eleven has ever beaten Haynesville although they frequently have made it mighty close. Last year Haynesville won out only 7-0.

"It would sure be nice to put a win over Haynesville in our record books for a change," Coach Ruple declared. "But it's going to be a major operation for us either way it goes. In the past Haynesville has had weak teams when we were weaker. When we had strong contenders, Haynesville was stronger. That's the way it goes.

"Tradition is against us, but if we can get aggressive blocking and tackling and a team in the mood for the kind of battle it takes when Haynesville is in the same park with you, then we might just possibly pull an upset."

Neville's showing against Class AA outfits hasn't been in their favor so far this year. First the Tigers lost to Bolton of Alexandria, 21-0, and then to Natchez of Mississippi's Big Eight, 21-6.

The weekly sports newspaper, self - styled Bible of baseball, initiated its dual selection method in 1946 as "the fairest method of naming top stars."

Tag Teams To Wrestle In Main Event At Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday Night

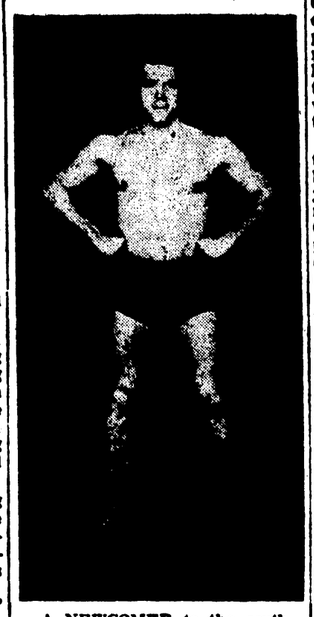

Floride Grappler Appears In Monroe For First Time

The feature match at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night will be a tag tussle between "Sockeye" McDonald, paired with Henry Harrell, and Rex Mobley whose partner will be John Henning. McDonald, Mobley and Harrell, the lightweight champ, are familiar faces at Kallio's while Handsome John is appearing here for the first time. Two preliminary matches beginning at 8 o'clock will precede the main event.

John Henning hails from St. Petersburg, Fla., and is built along the lines of George Curtis. Henning is 25 years of age, wrestled as an amateur for three years before turning pro, and has now been in the pro ranks two years, wrestling in Georgia, the Carolinas, and Florida.

Kallio states he has been trying to induce Henning to come here for six months, and finally succeeded with the help of Rex Mobley, who is a friend of Henning's from the Carolina circuit.

"The man is strong and fast," says Gus, "and should become very popular with the Monroe fans."

IRISH BATTLING FLASHES TODAY

St. Matthew's At Vicksburg For St. Aloysius Game

The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's travel to Vicksburg today to tangle with the St. Aloysius Flashes at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Coach Jay Broussard stated that if his team can keep St. Aloysius' strong offense in check he will be satisfied. He believes that the Vicksburg eleven is too strong for his outclassed team and he doesn't expect a miracle, but he said that the Irish would be "fighting until the last horn blows."

"Red" Stratton and John Accardo are plagued with injuries and even though they are starting the game, they are expected to see a limited amount of action.

The probable starting lineup for the Irish: ends, Albert Thibaux and Jack Hilton; tackles, "Red" Stratton and Vincent Marsala; guards, Louis Guirlando and J. D. Cascio; center, Nick Conti; backs, Joe Inzina, John Accardo, Ralph Norman and Donald Bell.

T. C. U. Blanked By U. C. L. A., 14-0

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27 (AP)—The U. C. L. A. Bruins, displaying one short burst of offense in the third quarter and an alert ball-snatching defense by lineman Terry Debay, handed Texas Christian University its second straight shutout in a row today.

The score was 14-0 for the Pacific Coast Conference team in the rubber game of its series with the Horned Frogs dating back to 1939. T. C. U. bowed 13-0 to Kansas last week.

Not since 1947 have the passing Texans from Fort Worth been blanked twice in a single season.

The game, played before 34,158 fans, showed the coast team with a better all-around running and passing attack against T. C. U.'s offense, which was effective only in the air.

Score by quarters:

T. C. U.	0 0 0 0 — 0
U. C. L. A.	0 0 14 0—14

U. C. L. A. scoring—touchdowns, Smith, Narleski; Conversions: Dailey 2.

Virginia Swamps Vanderbilt, 27-0

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 27 (AP)— Virgina's versatile Cavaliers, their air attack grounded by Vanderbilt's celebrated pass defense, put together two rushing drives and a pair of brilliant touchdown runs by Bob Tata and Eddie Knowles today to whack the Commodores, 27-0, in their season's opener.

With their star sophomore quarterback, Mel Roach, sitting on the bench because of a shoulder injury, the Cavaliers turned the signal-calling chores over to senior Charlie Harding and his adroit performance resulted directly in one Virginia score and the setting up of another.

For the larger part of the afternoon, it was a fierce struggle between two big and able lines. Virginia's success in stopping Vanderbilt's fine freshman quarterback, Bill Krietemeyer, kept the Commodores backed up in their own territory almost from start to finish. Only three times did Vanderbilt reach Virginia's side of the midfield stripe and the visitors never offered a genuine threat.

Score by quarters;

Virginia	7 6 7 7—27

Virginia scoring: touchdowns, Tata 2, Harding, Knowles. Conversions, Roach 3.

NATIVE DANCER EQUALS RECORD

Wins Belmont Futurity Stakes, Ties World Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP)—Native Dancer took charge in the final eighth of a mile today and won the $107,545 Futurity Stakes at Belmont Park going away, equalling the world's record of 1:14 2-5 for the six and one-half furlongs.

Ridden by Eric Guerin, Native Dancer defeated Ben Whitaker's Tahitian King by two and a quarter lengths, with the Cain Hoy stable's Dark Star third in the field of 10 two-year-olds.

The winner paid $2.70, $2.30 and $2.20. Tahitian King paid $2.80 and $2.30 and Dark Star running as an entry with Count Cain, returned $2.80.

The world and Belmont track record tied by Native Dancer was set in 1938 by Porter's Mite.

Native Dancer earned $82,845.

ARKANSAS UPSET BY HOUSTON, 17-7

Sluggish Razorbocks Outcharged, Outsmarted By Cougars

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 27 (AP)—Houston University's sharply honed Cougars this afternoon registered their first football victory over a Southwest Conference team—a richly deserved 17-7 upset of the Arkansas Razorbacks.

The Cougars came to this Ozark mountain town ready both physically and mentally. They outcharged and outsmarted sluggish Arkansas all the way.

A shoulder injury put All-Southwest Conference Quarterback Lamar McHan on the sidelines in the first four minutes, and Arkansas never was able to gain consistently. The Razorbacks got their lone touchdown on a lightning 61-yard pass from Bob S. Pierre, the left-handed sophomore who subbed for McHan, to Fullback Lewis Carpenter.

S. M. Meeks, a slippery 160-pound sophomore, led a crew of knifing Cougar backs who ripped the Arkansas line for consistent gains. He carried 18 times for 92 yards and one touchdown.

Meeks had plenty of help in the rushing department and Quarterback Bobby Clatterbucks' passes were true in the clutch.

Score by quarers:

Houston	3 0 7 7—17
Arkansas	0 7 0 0— 7

Houston scoring: touchdowns, Meeks, Bailes; conversions, Howton 2; field goal, Gray.

Arkansas scoring: touchdown, Carpenter; conversion, Mazza.

Lady Bets Every Horse; Only Collects 1262.80

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept 27 (AP)—The lady decided to buy a ticket on every horse in the race.

Then she began to wonder. Had she overlooked No. 6?

So back to the pari-mutuel window she went. She bought a win ticket on No. 6. Now she had two.

That No. 6—Single Spud—went right out and licked the field to win a heat of the Governor's Cup at the Lexington Trots today.

The payoff was $631.40 for $2, a record pari-mutuel price here.

Mrs. Mary Howard, a deputy held two of the three win tickets on the lightly regarded trotter. After all, he had finished last in the first heat.

The other ticket was cashed by Charles Ronan of Freemont, Neb.

"I always bet on longshots," said Mrs. Howard, beaming at the thoughts of the $1,252.80 she won.

"They frequently come in for me although this was the longest of my long ones."

Squirrels In Terzia Preserve Are Near Starvation, Declares Agents

A case of starving squirrels in the Terzia game preserve of Morehouse parish has been called to the attention of Ernest Clements, state conservation department commissioner, it was reported here yesterday by J. B. Thoman, president of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

Thoman last night declared a Saturday morning trip into Terzia preserve by game wardens and himself had proved contentions of O. G. "Doc" Worley of Fairbanks who first reported the plight of the squirrels to game agents.

"They're starving to death because of the drouth and a failure of the acorn crop in that area," Thoman declared. "We're asking that any persons with pecans, corn or other feed put it in bags or boxes out of reach of hogs in the trees of Terzia preserve where the food can be reached by the squirrels."

"One squirrel was so weak that Buckley was able to catch it barehanded," Thoman reported. "The squirrel was so hungry it ate bread out of his hand.

"There are some theories that the squirrels in the area may be sick, but the one Buckley caught definitely was hungry."

Commissioner Clements is expected to conduct a further investigation into the plight of the squirrels.

Squirrel season in Louisiana opens next Friday. Thoman said surveys show plenty of squirrels and food for them in other hunting ranges of this area. The Terzia preserve is closed to hunting.

SPORTSMEN MEET

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation will meet here Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Virginia for its first session since July.

A debate over proposals to stop Sunday hunting in Ouachita parish, discussion of hunting regulations for the coming season, and other matters are due to top the night's session. Outlawing of Sunday hunting has been termed "unconstitutional" but District Attorney Fred Fudickar has pointed out that a "discharging firearms of Sunday" rule might possibly be passed to attain the same purpose for those parties seeking to outlaw Sunday hunting.

Vols And Deacons Open Series Today

The West Monroe Vols tangle with the Danville Deacons today at Danville in the opener of the North Louisiana Amateur Championship playoffs.

The Vols, Delta League champions, will be without the services of pitcher Albert Donald, third baseman "Buddy" Parsons and shortstop Dewey Albritton who are attending college, but hurler Bob Bennett is expected to come through with a fine pitching performance. In case Bennett fails, southpaw Bobby Lee will take the mound for the Vols.

The probable lineup for the Vols; Scarbrock c, Bates 1b, Dupriest 2b, Davis ss, Crowell, 3b, Sanford lf, Lee cf, Rawls rf, and Bennett p.

The championship holder will be the winner of two of three. All games will be played in the Danville park.

TEXAS DOWN TARHEELS, 28-7

Qb. Jones Sparks Longhorns To Victory Over North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 27 (AP)— A lightning-fast Texas team lassoed North Carolina 28-7 today behind the towering passes and clever ball handling of Quarterback T. Jones.

A crowd of 40,000 in perfect football weather saw Jones and Halfback Bob Raley and Fullback Richard Ochoa lead a devastating Texas attack that scored twice in the first half and 15 points in the final period to turn the game into a near rout.

North Carolina, fighting to regain some of its former gridiron glory, scored in the closing minutes on a 15-yard pass from substitute quarterback Marshall Newman to back Ken Keller.

Score by quarters:

Texas	6 7 0 15—28
U.N.C.	0 0 0 7— 7

Texas scoring: touchdowns—Jones, Cameron, Quinn, Stolhandske. Safety, Stolhandske. Conversion, Dawson 2.

North Carolina scoring: touchdown, Keller. Conversion, Adler.

OUACHITA OPENS 'AA' CHASE WITH BASTROP FRIDAY

Battle Starts Conference Play For Both Machines

The Ouachita Parish High School Lions, finding it hard to forget their loss to Ruston a week ago in a defeat that took much of the gloss of an O.P.H.S. club that had an exceptional pre-season rating of the state, will open their Class AA conference schedule next Friday night when they take on the Bastrop High School Rams at Bastrop.

Bastrop suffered a 14-7 setback at the hands of Jonesboro-Hodge Friday night and enters the Ouachita game with something resembling the feelings of the Lions in being shoved around by a club of lesser classification.

The game Friday will be the first conference encounter of the season for both teams. It will also be the first ever for the Rams who have just advanced from Class A to the twin-A ranks this season.

The Bastrop invasion will launch a string of seven consecutive battles with clubs of "AA" caliber, five of them counting in the Lions' championship race.

Next home game for the Lions will be with the Haynesville Golden Tornado the night of October 10.

Coach Jim Hodgins lost one of his better young backfield prospects during heavy work Friday when E. C. "Sonny" Roark suffered a broken arm.

Ohio St. Beats Indiana In Final Quarter, 33-13

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27 (AP)—A red - haired freshman fireball flashed across the gridiron firmament today. And the kid's three-touchdown splurge was the margin by which Ohio State defeated Indiana's Hoosiers 33-13.

Howard (Hopolong) Cassady 168-pound freshman from Columbus Central High School, was the difference in the bitterly contested fray which Ohio broke wide open in the final quarter with a three-touchdown barrage—two by Cassady.

Indiana	7 6 0 0—13
Ohio State	6 7 0 20—33

Indiana scoring: touchdowns, Borden, Ellis. Conversion, D'Achille.

Ohio State scoring: touchdowns, Bruney, Cassady 3, Hlay. Conversions, Weed 3.

A shoulder injury put All-Southwest Conference Quarterback Lamar McHan on the sidelines in the first four minutes, and Arkansas never was able to gain consistently. The Razorbacks got their lone touchdown on a lightning 61-yard pass from Bob S. Pierre, the left-handed sophomore who subbed for McHan, to Fullback Lewis Carpenter.

S. M. Meeks, a slippery 160-pound sophomore, led a crew of knifing Cougar backs who ripped the Arkansas line for consistent gains. He carried 18 times for 92 yards and one touchdown.

Meeks had plenty of help in the rushing department and Quarterback Bobby Clatterbucks' passes were true in the clutch.

Score by quarers:

Houston	3 0 7 7—17
Arkansas	0 7 0 0— 7

Houston scoring: touchdowns, Meeks, Bailes; conversions, Howton 2; field goal, Gray.

Arkansas scoring: touchdown, Carpenter; conversion, Mazza.

Lady Bets Every Horse; Only Collects 1262.80

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept 27 (AP)—The lady decided to buy a ticket on every horse in the race.

Then she began to wonder. Had she overlooked No. 6?

So back to the pari-mutuel window she went. She bought a win ticket on No. 6. Now she had two.

That No. 6—Single Spud—went right out and licked the field to win a heat of the Governor's Cup at the Lexington Trots today.

The payoff was $631.40 for $2, a record pari-mutuel price here.

Mrs. Mary Howard, a deputy held two of the three win tickets on the lightly regarded trotter. After all, he had finished last in the first heat.

The other ticket was cashed by Charles Ronan of Freemont, Neb.

"I always bet on longshots," said Mrs. Howard, beaming at the thoughts of the $1,252.80 she won.

"They frequently come in for me although this was the longest of my long ones."

Squirrels In Terzia Preserve Are Near Starvation, Declares Agents

A case of starving squirrels in the Terzia game preserve of Morehouse parish has been called to the attention of Ernest Clements, state conservation department commissioner, it was reported here yesterday by J. B. Thoman, president of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

Thoman last night declared a Saturday morning trip into Terzia preserve by game wardens and himself had proved contentions of O. G. "Doc" Worley of Fairbanks who first reported the plight of the squirrels to game agents.

"They're starving to death because of the drouth and a failure of the acorn crop in that area," Thoman declared. "We're asking that any persons with pecans, corn or other feed put it in bags or boxes out of reach of hogs in the trees of Terzia preserve where the food can be reached by the squirrels."

"One squirrel was so weak that Buckley was able to catch it barehanded," Thoman reported. "The squirrel was so hungry it ate bread out of his hand.

"There are some theories that the squirrels in the area may be sick, but the one Buckley caught definitely was hungry."

Commissioner Clements is expected to conduct a further investigation into the plight of the squirrels.

Squirrel season in Louisiana opens next Friday. Thoman said surveys show plenty of squirrels and food for them in other hunting ranges of this area. The Terzia preserve is closed to hunting.

SPORTSMEN MEET

The Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation will meet here Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Virginia for its first session since July.

A debate over proposals to stop Sunday hunting in Ouachita parish, discussion of hunting regulations for the coming season, and other matters are due to top the night's session. Outlawing of Sunday hunting has been termed "unconstitutional" but District Attorney Fred Fudickar has pointed out that a "discharging firearms of Sunday" rule might possibly be passed to attain the same purpose for those parties seeking to outlaw Sunday hunting.

Vols And Deacons Open Series Today

The West Monroe Vols tangle with the Danville Deacons today at Danville in the opener of the North Louisiana Amateur Championship playoffs.

The Vols, Delta League champions, will be without the services of pitcher Albert Donald, third baseman "Buddy" Parsons and shortstop Dewey Albritton who are attending college, but hurler Bob Bennett is expected to come through with a fine pitching performance. In case Bennett fails, southpaw Bobby Lee will take the mound for the Vols.

The probable lineup for the Vols; Scarbrock c, Bates 1b, Dupriest 2b, Davis ss, Crowell, 3b, Sanford lf, Lee cf, Rawls rf, and Bennett p.

The championship holder will be the winner of two of three. All games will be played in the Danville park.

TEXAS DOWN TARHEELS, 28-7

Qb. Jones Sparks Longhorns To Victory Over North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 27 (AP)— A lightning-fast Texas team lassoed North Carolina 28-7 today behind the towering passes and clever ball handling of Quarterback T. Jones.

A crowd of 40,000 in perfect football weather saw Jones and Halfback Bob Raley and Fullback Richard Ochoa lead a devastating Texas attack that scored twice in the first half and 15 points in the final period to turn the game into a near rout.

North Carolina, fighting to regain some of its former gridiron glory, scored in the closing minutes on a 15-yard pass from substitute quarterback Marshall Newman to back Ken Keller.

Score by quarters:

Texas	6 7 0 15—28

Texas scoring: touchdowns—Jones, Cameron, Quinn, Stolhandske. Safety, Stolhandske. Conversion, Dawson 2.

North Carolina scoring: touchdown, Keller. Conversion, Adler.

OUACHITA OPENS 'AA' CHASE WITH BASTROP FRIDAY

Battle Starts Conference Play For Both Machines

The Ouachita Parish High School Lions, finding it hard to forget their loss to Ruston a week ago in a defeat that took much of the gloss of an O.P.H.S. club that had an exceptional pre-season rating of the state, will open their Class AA conference schedule next Friday night when they take on the Bastrop High School Rams at Bastrop.

Bastrop suffered a 14-7 setback at the hands of Jonesboro-Hodge Friday night and enters the Ouachiga game with something resembling the feelings of the Lions in being shoved around by a club of lesser classification.

The game Friday will be the first conference encounter of the season for both teams. It will also be the first ever for the Rams who have just advanced from Class A to the twin-A ranks this season.

The Bastrop invasion will launch a string of seven consecutive battles with clubs of "AA" caliber, five of them counting in the Lions' championship race.

Next home game for the Lions will be with the Haynesville Golden Tornado the night of October 10.

Ohio St. Beats Indiana In Final Quarter, 33-13

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27 (AP)—A red - haired freshman fireball flashed across the gridiron firmament today. And the kid's three-touchdown splurge was the margin by which Ohio State defeated Indiana's Hoosiers 33-13.

Howard (Hopolong) Cassady 168-pound freshman from Columbus Central High School, was the difference in the bitterly contested fray which Ohio broke wide open in the final quarter with a three-touchdown barrage—two by Cassady.

Indiana	7 6 0 0—13
Ohio State	6 7 0 20—33

Indiana scoring: touchdowns, Borden, Ellis. Conversion, D'Achille.

GOOD TASTE

In clothing, good taste begins at the very beginning—the fabric—and continues right down to the matching of the buttons. The element of good taste is quite obvious in our Fashion Park Clothes. Fair Park Drops Haynesville In 1st North District Class AA Grid Tilt

Terrebonne, Istrouma, Sulphur, Byrd Score Victories

By The Associated Press

Terrific Bobby Kimball scored four touchdowns to lead Terrebonne of Houma to a wild 45-39 victory over Nicholls of New Orleans in a interdistrict double-A football game that overshadowed four district clashes on last night's loaded schedule.

Teammate H. J. Louviere scored three times and ran over three conversions to take a close second in individual achievements. Pete Morere and Chris Theobold had a hand in three touchdowns each for Nicholls.

The battle of individuals was only one of the top games.

Sulphur the second ranked team in this week's Associated Press poll, found supposedly-weak Jennings alive and fighting and was pushed in winning a southwest district encounter 31-21.

Istrouma of Baton Rouge, state champions for two straight years, avenged the only loss of their 1951 season with a 34-9 victory over Little Rock, the team that turned them back 13-12 in Arkansas early last year.

Fair Park of Shreveport, the runnerup last year, opened its north district campaign with a 20-6 victory over Haynesville.

The other two district games—both southwest affairs—saw Bolton of Alexandria down Lafayette 13-7 and Lake Charles rout New Iberia 38-0.

St. Aloysius of New Orleans scored an impressive 19-0 victory over Catholic of Baton Rouge in an interdistrict affair, the only other game matching double-A teams.

Double-A teams scored two victories against smaller opponents in Shreveport Byrd's 13-6 game with Homer and Bossier City's 27-6 game against St. John's of Shreveport. Fortier of New Orleans and class A Hahnville tied 6-6 and Bastrop fell 14-7 before class A Jonesboro-Hodge.

Holy Cross of New Orleans beat Baton Rouge 26-14 Thursday night. Redemptorist and Jesuit clash Sunday in an all-New Orleans game that will end the week's activity.

Terrebonne's top stars accounted for all the scoring against Nicholls. Kimball dashed for touchdowns on sparkling runs of 41, 91, 19, and 33 yards. Louviere got scores on runs of 41, 24 and 31 yards, with his last dash winning the game.

Morere scored for Nicholls on runs of one and four yards and on a 25 yard Theobold pass. Theobold ran 15 yards for a touchdown and threw scoring passes to Newton Blanchard and Gerald Lacour. Morere ran for two conversions and caught a pass from Theobold for another.

Winton Turner sparked Istrouma's victory over Little Rock. He completed eight of 11 passes, figuring in all scoring drives. Tommy Bell ran three yards for the first touchdown. End Jim Miller took a 19-yard pitch from Turner for the second and Gene Duke took a 34-yard toss for the third. Freddie Stuart and Ronnie Riley scored second half touchdowns on short times.

Little Rock scored on a buck by Billy Jones and led briefly at 9-7 after Bobby Hannon's 11-yard field goal.

Sulphur found Jennings a lot tougher than expected. Jennings drew first blood with a 15-yard end run by Tookie Clement and Sulphur tied it with Jimmy Deaton's 82-yard kickoff return.

Jennings went ahead again on a five-yard pass from Harry Jones to Denny Marshall, but Deaton passed to John Scofield for Sulphur to even things. After Wayne Bourgeois scored for Sulphur and Jones passed to Bobby Moore for a Jennings, touchdown, Sulphur wrapped it up in the fourth with Jerry Wilburn running 77 and six yards on a one-yard run and passed 32 yards to Charlie Farrar for another to lead Fair Park over Haynesville. Gene Saur passed 48 yards to A. L. Williams for the other touchdown. Donnie Caraway scored on a one-yard buck for the losers.

After a dull first half, St. Aloysius came to life and scored three last half touchdowns on long runs to beat Catholic. The runs were 47 yards by Bill Connick, 20 by Mike Huber and 30 by Ralph Schlinder.

Bolton scored the winning touchdown against Lafayette in the last four minutes after blocking a punt on the Lafayette 38. Halfback Dedy Hickman ran two yards for the score. Lafayette had scored earlier on a 20-yard pass from Bob McKnight to Jack Patin and Bolton on a 32-yard run with an intercepted fumble by Bob Tenney.

Lake Charles had little trouble with New Iberia, with Glenn Hathaway Francis O'Bryan, Jerry Lewis, Charles Nourrcier, Carlton Sweeney and Hilton David scoring on running plays. David's jaunt covered 71-yards. The others were short and medium distance plays.

Jonesboro-Hodge beat Bastrop in the final period with Ken Brown tossing a 40-yard pass to Danny Blake and another scoring pass to Tommy Shively. Charles Johnson returned a blocked punt 30 yards for the Bastrop touchdown.

Fortier and Hahnville tied after Bob White passed 21 yards to Maurice Robichaux for a Fortier touchdown and Hahnville countered with Clyde Gisclair's 50-yard scoring run. Jerry Garvin ran four yards for Bossier City's opening touchdown against St. John's. Teammates Don Alleman, J. W. Slack and Charles Desadier also got touchdowns. John Hamm recovered a fumble and ran 31 yards for the St. John's score.

Harold Smith recovered a blocked kick in the Homer end zone for Byrd's winning touchdown. Jerry Leazer scored on a three yard run for Byrd and Dalton Pugh passed 45 yards to John Thomas for the Homer touchdown.

One of the early deliveries was a new range. After the expressman had left, though, it was discovered that one of the porcelain handles was broken. A thin wooden slat, evidently, was inadequate protection against delivery handling.

TALLULAH STOPS OAKDALE, 33 TO 6

Brown Leads Trojans For Second Win In Three Starts

TALLULAH, La., Sept. 27 (Special)—The Tallulah Trojans scored in every quarter to march over Oakdale 33 to 6 in an intersectional clash of Class A high school grid machines here last night. It gave Coach Devon Payne's Trojans their second win in three starts this year.

Howard Brown paced Tallulah's attack as he ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more.

Brown threw a 35-yard pass to End Billy Laird in the first quarter, and Laird raced 20 yards more for the opening touchdown. In the second period Brown plunged over from the three, and A. Cox added the point that gave the Trojans a 13-0 margin at the half.

In the third period Brown pased 20 yards to C. Powell on the Oakdale three, and Powell had little more than to step across the goal for the touchdown. This time Laird added the conversion.

Brown tallied his second touchdown from nine yards out in the final quarter, Cox adding the point, and the final Tallulah touchdown was scored by Gardner on a 29-yard run.

The lone Oakdale touchdown was counted early in the final period on a pass from Harles Thompson to Jack Johnson, a pair of substitutes.

Huskies Defeat Gophers 19-13

SEATTLE, Sept. 27 (AP)—The muscles of browney Bill Earley and an unexpected potent defensive platoon carried the huskies of Washington to a 19-13 intersectional football victory today over the Gophers of Minnesota, before a sun-warmed crowd of 49,000.

Ahead by a 12-0 count at the half and apparently headed for a decisive triumph, Washington had to fight back a rousing Gopher rally to post a victory, its third straight in the series between the schools.

Kallio Joining Campbell Brothers To Promote Pro Boxing For Monroe

Monday Night Cards To Be Offered Here, Says Promoter

Professional boxing, which made its debut recently at Bastrop, is moving into Monroe soon, according to Promoter Gus Kallio who last night said he has worked out an agreement with the promoting Campbell brothers of Bastrop, Ray and Larche, to promote matches at Kallio's Arena here on Monday night.

"So much interest in boxing has been created by the efforts of the Campbell brothers that they are interested in helping us get fights in Monroe as well," Kallio said. "We haven't worked out an opening card, but promise a good program for our opener when all arrangements are completed."

Kallio said he will promote the matches here with the Campbell brothers predict the first match they arrange will pack Kallio's Arena. Also to be presented here in the near future is Norris Ray, the spectacular Bastrop knockout artist.

Bastrop Juniors Take Lake Providence Team

BASTROP, La., Sept 27 (Slecial) — Before a turnout crowd which was recognizing "National Kids' Day," Bastrop defeated Lake Providence in a junior varsity football game Saturday in Bastrop, 12 to 0.

After a quiet first half that saw no scoring, Bastrop's Ben Dunn took a punt on his own 45 and raced the entire distance to paydirt behind perfect blocking.

A 40-yard pass from John Storment to Gayle Peak set up the Ram's second score. Billy Lofton plunged over from the two to score.

NAME CRAIGHEAD BATTALION CMDR.

Appointment of Doyle T. Craighead of Start as student battalion commander of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Northeast State was announced Saturday by Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, professor of military science and tactics.

Craighead, a senior in vocational agriculture, is also a distinguished military student.

The newly selected battalion commander was signally honored this summer at Camp Gordon, Ga. by being named the second outstanding cadet of the Military Police Corps summer camp. He was in competition with 550 cadets representing over 20 colleges and universities throughout the United States. He was chosen outstanding student in his company of over 130 cadets from 14 other military police schools in the United States.

Craighead will receive his commission as a second lieutenant next February. Besides his fine academic record, he is a varsity letterman, holding down a guard position on Coach James L. Malone's Indian football team.

Other battalion officers designated by Colonel Griffith include Horace Thompson of Bastrop who was named executive officer. Thompson, a journalism major, is also a distinguished military student and active in campus affairs. He edited the Pow Wow, college newspaper two semesters and is military editor of the 1952 Chacahoula, yearbook.

The battalion staff appointments list Joe Downing, West Monroe, plans and training officer; Gene Clark, Burkburnett, Tex., assistant plans and training officer; Bobby Jackson, Monroe, adjutant; Charles Morn, public information officer.

Company commanders and platoon leaders from senior cadets will be announced in the near future, Colonel Griffith said.

Leftover beef stew may be used as a sauce for spaghetti. Cut the pieces of meat and the vegetables fine and heat them in the gravy.

Glass bowls or vases need washing in heavy suds when you change flowers or greens; otherwise a high-water ring may mar their crystal clearness.

SOUTHSIDE TO HAVE REVIVAL

The rapidly growing South Side Methodist Church, out South Fourth St., Monroe, will have its first revival which starts today and will be continued through the week. Rev. Lea Joyner is pastor and the revival leader will be Rev. R. H. Staples, pastor of the First Methodist Church, West Monroe.

Reverend Staples is well known and popular. He is a consecrated leader and has done much to build up his West Monroe church in the five or six years he has been its pastor.

The South Side Methodist church had its opening only four weeks ago, and is filling a well-defined need in its section of the city. Nearly 200 members started off with the receiving of the charter and many more are being added to its membership.

Many active young people are directing the work of this church and are taking unusual interest in its success.

The public is extended a hearty welcome to all the services held and especially the revival that will be in progress every night this week at 7:30 o'clock.

PAY TRIBUTE TO WILSON EWING

Merchants' Division Of C. Of C. Honor Late Publisher

At a meeting the merchants division of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce passed the following resolution in memory of Wilson Ewing, editor and publisher of the Monroe News-Star—World who died on September 8:

WHEREAS, Wilson Ewing departed this life on September 8, 1952, and

WHEREAS the members of the Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce of the Cities of Monroe and West Monroe, La., do desire to record some evidence of their esteem and friendship for him and to preserve a record of the high regard in which he was held, now, therefore.

BE IT RESOLVED: That Wilson Ewing built a worthwhile career in the business which he loved and to which he devoted all his energies and talents throughout his life. Through the press, he traveled the road to honor and distinction. He was always diligent and faithful in his efforts to promote honesty, truthfulness, fidelity and fair dealing among men.

Wilson Ewing, as Editor and Publisher of the Monroe News-Star—World, was an able and capable leader, fearless and unswerving in the performance of his duties. He was concerned with the facts in the news which were published impartially and truthfully.

Wilson Ewing, individually and as editor of the paper, was always interested in the development of the Twin Cities and of the Parish, and was always ready and willing to work with the Chamber of Commerce and its membership for the best interests of the people of the Twin Cities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this Resolution be sent to the family of our friend and a copy be given to the press.

Passed at Monroe, La., this 24th day of September, 1952.

The resolution was signed by David C. Silverstein and C. D. McAdams, chairman and co-chairman of the division.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Mrs. Georgia Payne Pinkston, East Carroll Parish visiting teacher, was in Monroe on Tuesday to attend the monthly meeting of Visiting teachers.

Mrs. C. B. Ellis and son George Whittington returned from Brownsville, Tenn., on Wednesday, where they enjoyed a visit with aunt and great aunt Mrs. Ed Tyus.

Mrs. John Marak leaves next week for a six weeks visit in Chicago, in Swan Lake with a sister, Mrs. Joseph Urbanek, whom she has not seen in six years, and in Wisconsin with friends.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

IS A FUNDAMENTAL PRECEPT OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY...

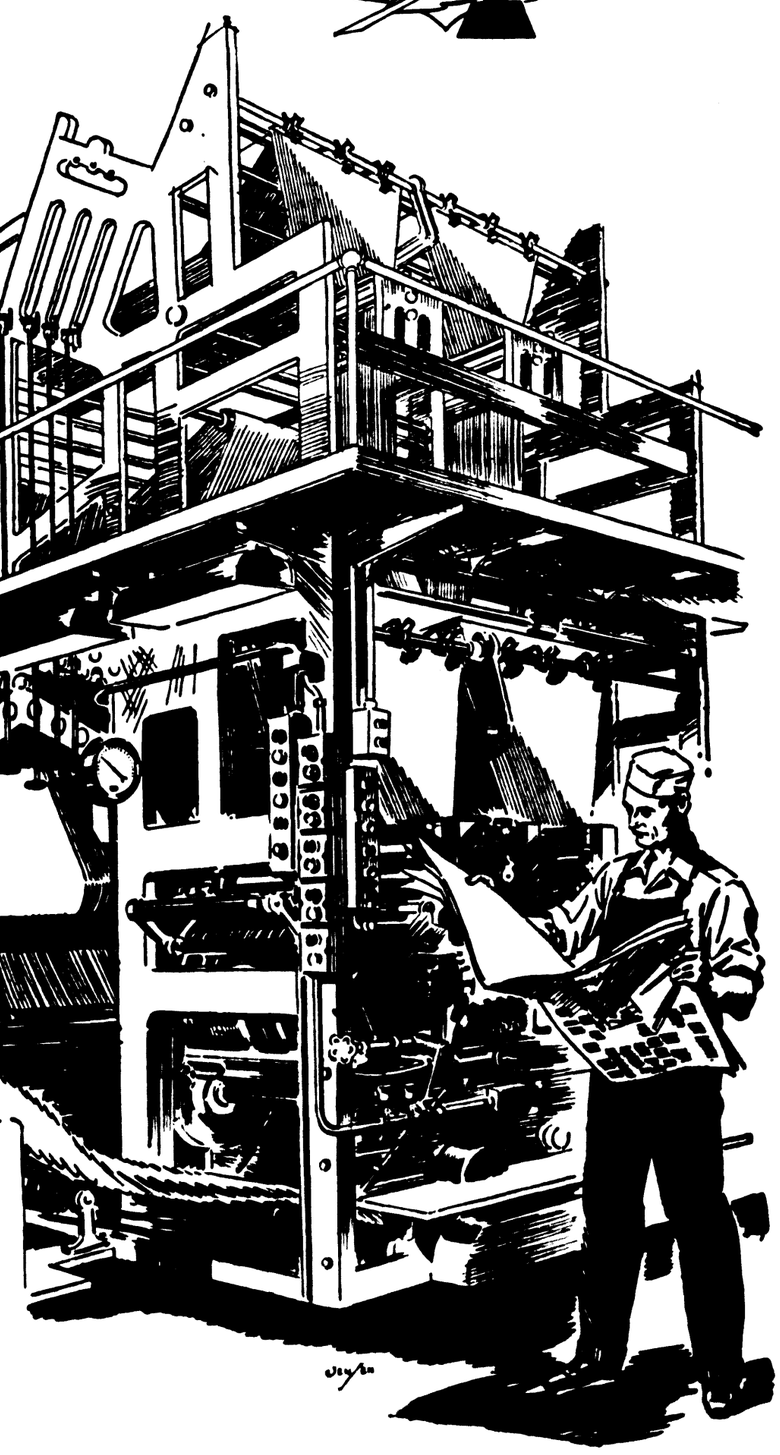

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW.. A CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEE

The American press is the voice of a free people! It is the voice that protects your freedom by keeping you fully informed at all times . . . presenting the news in the American tradition — truthfully and in an unprejudiced manner.

This is the week our country pauses to salute the newspapers of America, knowing full well that a democracy cannot exist without a free press. This is National Newspaper Week!

We are proud to be a part of the great system of newspapers that encompasses papers from the smallest country weekly to the largest metropolitan daily.

Each newspaper, regardless of size, is striving to serve its community in the fullest sense of the word. That is, and always has been, our goal — to serve our readers with a complete and accurate coverage of local and national news.

traction some variety." He said Wallace Brothers had "one of the cleanest shows in the business." The show will arrive next Sunday and start installing its equipment.

The Fair Association gets a percentage on the revenue of the entertainment equipment. This money and gate receipts go toward paying thousands of dollars in prize money to exhibitors and paying the expense of maintaining the buildings and fair equipment.

None of the fair officials nor members of the board of directors receive a salary.

The manner of operating the fair has been established so as to eliminate the necessity of soliciting donations for financial support. The fair is actually self-supporting.

Several local civic clubs sponsor various projects at the fair, thus eliminating some of the expense.

Clubs sponsoring projects are: the West Monroe Businessmen's Association, the West Monroe Kiwanis Club, West Monroe Lions, Monroe Kiwanis, Monroe Lions and the Civitans Club. These clubs, except for the W. M. B. A., pay the prize money won by exhibitors of whatever project they sponsor.

The W. M. B. A. has taken on as an annual project the presentation to the outstanding Four-H Club member a registered heifer calf. This year's W. M. B. A. award will be a registered Guernsey from the Cloverleaf Guernsey farm.

Kelly Thompson, president of the Businessmen's Association, said the agriculture committee of his organization had already secured the calf and that he understood it is "one of the best we have ever purchased."

LOUISIANA

fare recently estimated November expenditures would run $9,504,000, which would figure out about $114 million a year if welfare expenditures continued at hte November rate.

Meanwhile, of the $725 million estimated revenues, about $682 million will be used for state functions and $42 million for distribution to parishes and municipalities.

Rester, in estimating that the state's overall surplus funds would decrease from $56 million on July 1. 1952 to $37 million on June 30, 1954, said the $37 million should consist of:

$11 million in the state general fund surplus.

$2½ million in the conservation fund.

$5 million in the Confederate veterans' fund.

$15 million in the public welfare fund.

$3½ million in the state bond and interest tax fund.

To remove a paint or varnish stain, work on it while it is still fresh. Soften with turpentine, lard or oil. Then wash in warm soapy water.

BIBLE REVISION

New Testament was published six years ago, and now the entire Scripture is ready.

Some of the comments of leading church journals and churchmen attest to the importance of this work:

Christian Herald —"The new revised version is the historic succession of the authorized versions. It is designed to be read in the public worship of the church. It becomes invaluable for the Christian educator, in the pulpit and out."

Ashland, Va., Herald — More understandable to young people, more appropriate for family reading, and more usable for the teaching of religion."

Washington, D. C., Star—"Should be welcomed by all schools of thought in an era when the enemies of religion are on the march."

Dr. Harold C. Phillips, First Baptist Church, Cleveland — "The work is beyond praise. Deviations from the old are like new growths on a familiar road."

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick—"It combines dignity and elevation of style with scrupulous accuracy. It uses all the results of Biblical scholarship to illumine the Scriptures in a clear, understandable rendering, true to the original text."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale — for everyone seeking peace of mind, victory over fear, and a solution of personal and social problems, this version will be of great practical help."

Dr. Harvie Branscomb, Vanderbilt Univ. — "One of the great accomplishments of our generation."

Fred Waring, New York — "I shall always look up to the old version. However, I know that people neglect to read the Bible today because of its very difficult language. Even as I feel that songs should be sung in a language understandable, I feel that this greatest of all stories should be told so that it will not be a 'chore' to read. This new version of the Holy Bible does just that."

Dr. C. O. Johnson, Third Baptist Church, St. Louis — "It will bring absolutely new experience in Bible knowledge."

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Japan—"Written in a language people can understand. I hope many copies will be sent all over the world."

Dr. John S. Bonnell, Fifth Ave. Presbyterian, New York—"Makes the sayings of Jesus and the great epistles grip the mind rather than elude it because of their familiarity."

Bishop H. W. Hobson, Ohio—"A superb job the translators have done to produce a book to meet the needs of people in all walks of life."

Rev. C. B. Templeton, Toronto —"A model of straightforward, lucid English, ideally suited for reading aloud, private study, or personal devotions."

LITTLE THEATRE

entation Wednesday, February 11 through the following Wednesday, February 18.

Probably the most well known play. Closing the season will be a number four spot. Robert E. Sherwood's famous "The Petrified Forest" is slated for production the first week in April. Eighteen men and three women appear in this play. Closing the season wil lbe a revival. The group has chosen one of the funniest comedies ever to be shown here before. "Out of the Frying Pan," which was presented locally twelve years ago, will close the 1952-53 season. Francis Swann's comedy has a cast of seven men and five women, and will run from Wednesday, May 13, through the next Wednesday, May 20.

A limited amount of memberships for the coming season are still available. The group asks that anyone who is interested in becoming a member should send his six dollars dues (three dollars for students) to P. O. Box 868. Checks should be made payable to the Little Theatre of Monroe, Inc. The membership cards will be mailed to the member, immediately upon receipt of the dues. It is also asked that each member accompany his dues with his address and telephone.

As a fire prevention precaution, store kindling materials in a galvanized steel coal hod. These hods, made of durable metal, are fireproof.

AT CLEVELAND MEETING

Two of Monroe's leading insurance men, Edward J. Seymour, left, and Harold A. Mouk, were in attendance at the Cleveland meeting of the National Association of Insurance Agents. Mr. Seymour was elected vice-president of the association. Messrs. Seymour and Mouk were accompanied by their wives. Also in attendance at the meeting but not photographed was John Godfrey, president of the Ouachita Association of Insurance Agents.

traction some variety." He said Wallace Brothers had "one of the cleanest shows in the business." The show will arrive next Sunday and start installing its equipment.

The Fair Association gets a percentage on the revenue of the entertainment equipment. This money and gate receipts go toward paying thousands of dollars in prize money to exhibitors and paying the expense of maintaining the buildings and fair equipment.

None of the fair officials nor members of the board of directors receive a salary.

The manner of operating the fair has been established so as to eliminate the necessity of soliciting donations for financial support. The fair is actually self-supporting.

Several local civic clubs sponsor various projects at the fair, thus eliminating some of the expense.

Clubs sponsoring projects are: the West Monroe Businessmen's Association, the West Monroe Kiwanis Club, West Monroe Lions, Monroe Kiwanis, Monroe Lions and the Civitans Club. These clubs, except for the W. M. B. A., pay the prize money won by exhibitors of whatever project they sponsor.

The W. M. B. A. has taken on as an annual project the presentation to the outstanding Four-H Club member a registered heifer calf. This year's W. M. B. A. award will be a registered Guernsey from the Cloverleaf Guernsey farm.

Kelly Thompson, president of the Businessmen's Association, said the agriculture committee of his organization had already secured the calf and that he understood it is "one of the best we have ever purchased."

LOUISIANA

fare recently estimated November expenditures would run $9,504,000, which would figure out about $114 million a year if welfare expenditures continued at hte November rate.

Meanwhile, of the $725 million estimated revenues, about $682 million will be used for state functions and $42 million for distribution to parishes and municipalities.

Rester, in estimating that the state's overall surplus funds would decrease from $56 million on July 1, 1952 to $37 million on June 30, 1954, said the $37 million should consist of:

$11 million in the state general fund surplus.

$2½ million in the conservation fund.

$5 million in the Confederate veterans' fund.

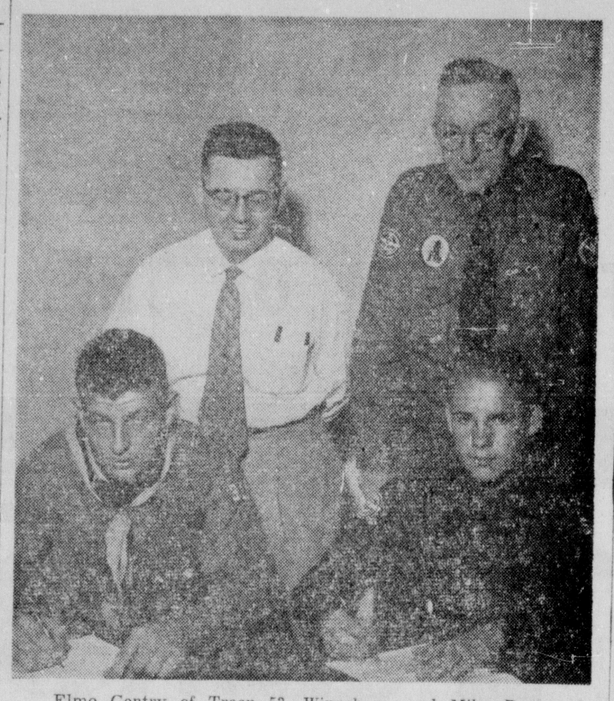

$15 million in the public welfare fund.

$3½ million in the state bond and interest tax fund.

To remove a paint or varnish stain, work on it while it is still fresh. Soften with turpentine, lard or oil. Then wash in warm soapy water.

SCOUTS SIGN FOR 1953 JAMBOREE

Elmo Gentry of Troop 53, Winnsboro, and Mike Boggs of Troop 31, Monroe, were the first two members of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout organization to sign for the 1953 National Boy Scout Jamboree, which is slated to be held at Santa Ana, California, July 17 through 23 of next year. BIBLE REVISION

New Testament was published six years ago, and now the entire Scripture is ready.

Some of the comments of leading church journals and churchmen attest to the importance of this work:

Christian Herald —"The new revised version is the historic succession of the authorized versions. It is designed to be read in the public worship of the church. It becomes invaluable for the Christian educator, in the pulpit and out."

Ashland, Va., Herald — More understandable to young people, more appropriate for family reading, and more usable for the teaching of religion."

Washington, D. C., Star—"Should be welcomed by all schools of thought in an era when the enemies of religion are on the march."

Dr. Harold C. Phillips, First Baptist Church, Cleveland — "The work is beyond praise. Deviations from the old are like new growths on a familiar road."

Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick—"It combines dignity and elevation of style with scrupulous accuracy. It uses all the results of Biblical scholarship to illumine the Scriptures in a clear, understandable rendering, true to the original text."

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale — for everyone seeking peace of mind, victory over fear, and a solution of personal and social problems, this version will be of great practical help."

Dr. Harvie Branscomb, Vanderbilt Univ. — "One of the great accomplishments of our generation."

Fred Waring, New York — "I shall always look up to the old version. However, I know that people neglect to read the Bible today because of its very difficult language. Even as I feel that songs should be sung in a language understandable, I feel that this greatest of all stories should be told so that it will not be a 'chore' to read. This new version of the Holy Bible does just that."

Dr. C. O. Johnson, Third Baptist Church, St. Louis — "It will bring absolutely new experience in Bible knowledge."

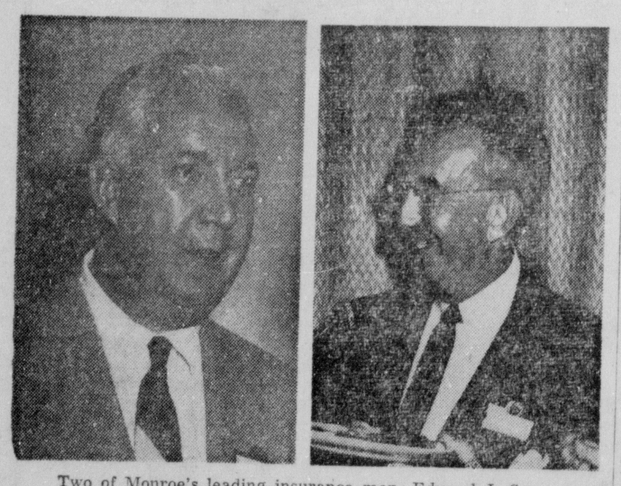

Dr. Toyohiko Kagawa, Japan—"Written in a language people can understand, I hope many copies will be sent all over the world."

Dr. John S. Bonnell, Fifth Ave. Presbyterian, New York—"Makes the sayings of Jesus and the great epistles grip the mind rather than elude it because of their familiarity."

Bishop H. W. Hobson, Ohio—"A superb job the translators have done to produce a book to meet the needs of people in all walks of life."

Rev. C. B. Templeton, Toronto —"A model of straightforward, lucid English, ideally suited for reading aloud, private study, or personal devotions."

AT CLEVELAND MEETING

Two of Monroe's leading insurance men, Edward J. Seymour, left, and Harold A. Mouk, were in attendance at the Cleveland meeting of the National Association of Insurance Agents. Mr. Seymour was elected vice-president of the association. Messrs. Seymour and Mouk were accompanied by their wives. Also in attendance at the meeting but not photographed was John Godfrey, president of the Ouachita Association of Insurance Agents.

entation Wednesday, February 11 through the following Wednesday, February 18.

Probably the most well known play. Closing the season will be a number four spot. Robert E. Sherwood's famous "The Petrified Forest" is slated for production the first week in April. Eighteen men and three women appear in this play. Closing the season wil lbe a revival. The group has chosen one of the funniest comedies ever to be shown here before. "Out of the Frying Pan," which was presented locally twelve years ago, will close the 1952-53 season. Francis Swann's comedy has a cast of seven men and five women, and will run from Wednesday, May 13, through the next Wednesday, May 20.

A limited amount of memberships for the coming season are still available. The group asks that anyone who is interested in becoming a member should send his six dollars dues (three dollars for students) to P. O. Box 868. Checks should be made payable to the Little Theatre of Monroe, Inc. The membership cards will be mailed to the member, immediately upon receipt of the dues. It is also asked that each member accompany his dues with his address and telephone.

As a fire prevention precaution, store kindling materials in a galvanized steel coal hod. These hods, made of durable metal, are fireproof.

found friends are able to round out her life except for the absence of her parents. She is an only child and her father and mother speak French only (the customary language of her native Liege) and she gets homesick for them, and hopes they may visit here some day.

The night Missouri Pacific railroad train Sunday will have as New York - bound passenger, Miss Phenie Keller, who will be on her way to attend the World Series ball games, of which she is an ardent fan.

She announced earlier this month that she would make the trip if she sold Christmas cards sufficient to defray expenses. Her friends gladly made purchases and now she is to realize the fulfillment of a dream of her life.

It will be her first visit to New York and she is as excited as a small child over the trip.

Her many friends wish for her a safe and happy outing and that she will return home with pleasant memories for years to come.

There's more to a football game than the two teams, the bands and pep squads.

If a football fan will direct his attention to the bench on the sidelines, he will see gathered there the boys who aren't playing along with their coaches.

During the Neville - Rayville game Rriday night the two coaches for Rayville diverted this writer's eye away from the two teams.

Both men standing on the sideline were fighting as hard as their team, seeing mistakes, calling boys out and then returning them after instructions had been given. These two coaches were of particular interest due to the fact that they were playing every play with the team. When Rayville made a touch down the junior coach raised his hands in the air and made a complete turn to denote his happiness while the head coach stood and hollered for his team.

This is coach work along with team work for the Rayville Hornets.

"Bible Observance Week" has been proclaimed for September 28 to October 4 in recognition of the completion of the Revised Standard version of the Holy Bible. In Monroe, special recognition will be given as in other cities and towns. Here there will be an assemblage sponsored by 16 church groups at the First Methodist Church Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

The church organizations that are sponsors of the meeting comprise the Methodist Churches of the Twin Cities, which are: First Methodist Church, Monroe; Stone Avenue Methodist Church; Gordon Avenue Methodist Church; Memorial Methodist Church; Southside Methodist Church, St. Paul's Methodist Church; First Church, Church, West Monroe; Claiborne Methodist Church; Brownville Methodist Church; and the First Christian Church, First Baptist Church, Grace Episcopal Church, First Presbyterian Church, Memorial Presbyterian Church and Temple B'Nai Israel.

provides training in woodwork, crafts, hobbies and recreational activities for boys.

The Twin City P.-T. A. Council's Child Health and Welfare program provides emergency clothing, medical and dental care for needy children. The Monroe Maternal and Infant Welfare Clinic, cooperating with the Louisiana State department of Health and the St. Francis Sanitarium in providing prenatal and post-natal care to mothers and infants of low income bracket.

The Colored Community Welfare organization provides emergency welfare to colored people until permanent help can be provided. The West Monroe Colored Recreation Council provides supervised recreational facilities for colored boys and girls.

These organizations cannot operate without funds from the Twin City Community Chest.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Hollywood is talking about:

Aly Khan's latest quote about Rita Hayworth: "I'd like her to live with me two months of the year." This is marriage?

Jennifer Jones' busy film schedule. She's set for stardom in three movies—"Terminal Station," opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Beat the Devil," and in "Mary Magdalene."

Producer Robert L. Lippert selling his entire backlog—107 feature films—to television. It's a $3 million deal including such films as "Rocket Ship XM," "Lost Continent," "Baron of Arizona," and "Savage Drums."

Pat Medina's quip to Paul Henreid when a large cat scratched on her dressing room door while she was getting dressed following a bath sequence. Said Pat: "I've just seen the first peeping tomcat in history."

MGM's plans to refilm "Romola." It was an epic silent picture co-starring Lillian Gish and Ronald Colman.

Frank Sinatra slated to test for the role of "Maggio" in the film version of "From Here to Eternity."

I Love Lucy, Inc.

Lucille Ball and Dezi Arnaz forming a corporation for merchandising rights in themselves and the characters they've created on their "I Love Lucy" TV show. First items due for the market: A red-haired doll, bongo drums and a smoking jacket.

RKO's release of a special two-reeler titled "Operation A-Bomb." Fifteen Marine Corps cameramen shot 29,000 feet of color film of the recent atmoic warfare maneuvers at Yucca Flat, Nev. The short features the best footage.

Judy Canova selling her home in Hollywood to live in Florida. She'll commute for movie and TV work.

Mickey Rooney's latest troubles with Uncle Sam. The income tax boys claim he still owes $32,721 in back taxes when he was Rooney, Inc., in 1947-48.

Buddy Ebsen and his sister Wilma opening a dancing school in Beverly Hills.

Kathleen Williams, the silent screen star, walking again with the aid of an artificial leg. She was critically injured in an auto accident.

Script of the Nassour Brothers' "Ring Around Saturn" calling for a trained, gentle bull. There's no such critter, but the producers have devised a facsimile.

One Man's Meat

A BRITISH columnist daring Bette Davis to return to London. She sent the scribe a package of stale meat in retaliation for his digs at her when she was making "Another Man's Poison" in London.

Movie exhibitors on the warpath about pictures that are popping up on TV day-and-date with movie house showings. A Hollywood art house booked a British film titled "Wonder Boy." Two nights after the film opened, it was a free attraction on the home screens.

Veteran movie director King Vidor writing his autobiography, which amounts to a history of the motion picture industry. Not for publication until next year, though.

Howard Hughes ordering the full hoopla treatment for RKO's release of "No Time for Flowers," the satire on communism that was partly filmed in the Russian zone of Berlin.

Robert Q. Lewis all a-boil about reports that he tried to swipe the male lead role away from Donald O'Connor in Fox's film version of "Call Me Madame." He says his visits to the studio concerned another picture.

Mitchell of Arkansas.

The Service of consecration will be held at Christ Church Cathedral, Episcopal seat of the diocese.

The office of suffragan bishop entails all the rights, privileges and immunities of the Episcopacy, however a suffragan does not automatically become head of the diocese in which he serves, upon the death, resignation or incapacitation of the bishop.

The Rev. Mr. Noland is married and father of three sons. He was educated in the public schools of Baton Rouge, was graduated from Louisiana State University and the University of the South, Sewanee, and soon will become one of the youngest bishops of the Church. He has served as Assistant Rector of St. James, Baton Rouge, as Rector of Trinity Church, Natchitoches, and Church of the Good Shepherd, Lake Charles, and was a chaplain in the U. S. Army during World War II, with overseas service.

The Order of Consecration will be broadcast and televised.

hymn and go to the first of two 45 minute classes. The upper school will remain for the full Church service, and have their 45 minute class immediately after the service.

A recess for family fellowship is planned immediately following the family service of the morning, and Father Allin announces that all activities will cease promptly at twelve noon.

In addition to changing the hour of the principal service of the morning from 11:00 a. m. to 9:45 two other new additions are planned in this program. A special class for adults will be conducted by the Rector from 11:15 until 12:00. A review of Bible contents is planned for this first year. There is to be an afternoon service of Evening Prayer at 5:45 each Sunday. Special organ music will be featured at this brief service.

Grace Church is presenting Christianity, family-style. All interested families and individuals are invited to share in this new schedule.

Oldest W. Carroll Resident Succumbs

J. A. Lester, 90, died at his residence in Oak Grove Saturday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. today at the Catron-Gay Chapel with the Rev. J. D. Cheetham officiating. Interment will follow at the Oak Grove cemetery with a Masonic service at the grave side.

He is survived by his wife Glara Lester, three sons, Edward, Thomas and James, all of Oak Grove; two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Webb and Mrs. W. H. McVay, both of Shreveport; one sister, Mrs. M. L. Alexandria, Forrest; nine grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and one great-great, grandchild.

Mr. Lester was the oldest native of West Carroll, a charter member of the Oak Grove Masonic lodge, an Odd Fellow, and a member of the Knights of Pythias. He was a member of the police jury for four terms, member of the Levee Board for two terms, justice of the peace for eight years and deputy sheriff of West Carroll parish for two terms.

Toy Store Has Space

JUNIOR SPACEMEN are in style these days. Here is Billy Hacker of Dayton, O., with some of the equipment the small fry find in the toy stores. He uses a flying saucer gun to cow a group of little men who have been attacking from out in deep space. The antennae on his radar cap helped warn him of their presence just in time. And he got to the right spot with the aid of the propeller on his cap which issupposed to be powered by an atomic coil. Billy and his contemporaries also play with space ships and a wide variety of atomic guns, complete with flashing lights and buzzers. Spacemen robots also come in varied forms as do rockets. Puzzles and games must have space and atomic themes to satisfy the modern youngsters who comb toy department counters.

found friends are able to round out her life except for the absence of her parents. She is an only child and her father and mother speak French only (the customary language of her native Liege) and she gets homesick for them, and hopes they may visit here some day.

The night Missouri Pacific railroad train Sunday will have as New York - bound passenger, Miss Phenie Keller, who will be on her way to attend the World Series ball games, of which she is an ardent fan.

She announced earlier this month that she would make the trip if she sold Christmas cards sufficient to defray expenses. Her friends gladly made purchases and now she is to realize the fulfillment of a dream of her life.

It will be her first visit to New York and she is as excited as a small child over the trip.

Her many friends wish for her a safe and happy outing and that she will return home with pleasant memories for years to come.

There's more to a football game than the two teams, the bands and pep squads.

If a football fan will direct his attention to the bench on the sidelines, he will see gathered there the boys who aren't playing along with their coaches.

During the Neville - Rayville game Rriday night the two coaches for Rayville diverted this writer's eye away from the two teams.

Both men standing on the sideline were fighting as hard as their team, seeing mistakes, calling boys out and then returning them after instructions had been given. These two coaches were of particular interest due to the fact that they were playing every play with the team. When Rayville made a touch down the junior coach raised his hands in the air and made a complete turn to denote his happiness while the head coach stood and hollered for his team.

This is coach work along with team work for the Rayville Hornets.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Hollywood is talking about:

Aly Khan's latest quote about Rita Hayworth: "I'd like her to live with me two months of the year." This is marriage?

Jennifer Jones' busy film schedule. She's set for stardom in three movies—"Terminal Station," opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Beat the Devil," and in "Mary Magdalene."

Producer Robert L. Lippert selling his entire backlog—107 feature films—to television. It's a $3 million deal including such films as "Rocket Ship XM," "Lost Continent," "Baron of Arizona," and "Savage Drums."

Pat Medina's quip to Paul Henreid when a large cat scratched on her dressing room door while she was getting dressed following a bath sequence. Said Pat: "I've just seen the first peeping tomcat in history."

MGM's plans to refilm "Romola." It was an epic silent picture co-starring Lillian Gish and Ronald Colman.

Frank Sinatra slated to test for the role of "Maggio" in the film version of "From Here to Eternity."

I Love Lucy, Inc.

Lucille Ball and Dezi Arnaz forming a corporation for merchandising rights in themselves and the characters they've created on their "I Love Lucy" TV show. First items due for the market: A red-haired doll, bongo drums and a smoking jacket.

RKO's release of a special two-reeler titled "Operation A-Bomb." Fifteen Marine Corps cameramen shot 29,000 feet of color film of the recent atmoic warfare maneuvers at Yucca Flat, Nev. The short features the best footage.

Judy Canova selling her home in Hollywood to live in Florida. She'll commute for movie and TV work.

Mickey Rooney's latest troubles with Uncle Sam. The income tax boys claim he still owes $32,721 in back taxes when he was Rooney, Inc., in 1947-48.

Buddy Ebsen and his sister Wilma opening a dancing school in Beverly Hills.

Kathleen Williams, the silent screen star, walking again with the aid of an artificial leg. She was critically injured in an auto accident.

Script of the Nassour Brothers' "Ring Around Saturn" calling for a trained, gentle bull. There's no such critter, but the producers have devised a facsimile.

One Man's Meat

A BRITISH columnist daring Bette Davis to return to London. She sent the scribe a package of stale meat in retaliation for his digs at her when she was making "Another Man's Poison" in London.

Movie exhibitors on the warpath about pictures that are popping up on TV day-and-date with movie house showings. A Hollywood art house booked a British film titled "Wonder Boy." Two nights after the film opened, it was a free attraction on the home screens.

Veteran movie director King Vidor writing his autobiography, which amounts to a history of the motion picture industry. Not for publication until next year, though.

Howard Hughes ordering the full hoopla treatment for RKO's release of "No Time for Flowers," the satire on communism that was partly filmed in the Russian zone of Berlin.

Robert Q. Lewis all a-boil about reports that he tried to swipe the male lead role away from Donald O'Connor in Fox's film version of "Call Me Madame." He says his visits to the studio concerned another picture.

The Knights of Columbus will meet Sunday Morning Sept. 28 at St. Matthews and journey in a body to Winnsboro for their regular monthly "Out of Town" Communion. The Communion will be at the 8 o'clock Mass and all are asked to help make this great success by attending.

Lake Providence High School P.-T. A. Meets

At the September meeting Mrs. Fred Hardy, Gossypia plantation, was enrolled as a new member in the Lake Providence High School P.-T. A.

East Carroll parish supervisor of schools, B. A. Bayles, informed on "Legislative changes in the 1952 Legislature affecting education".

New faculty members introduced were Mr. Genell Miller, Hammond, Mrs. Doris F. Sullivan, Mrs. Noel Marcom, and Mrs. Marian Herzog.

Mrs. F. M. Terral, lunch room committee member, reported on new equipment purchased for the cafeteria, which is adequate for present needs with the exception of the refrigeration. Invitation was extended by Mrs. Sam House, Jr., for patrons to visit the cafeteria and enjoy the menus being served, at same price paid by faculty members.

Decision was made to sell no candy on the campus this school year. Candy sales were held to raise funds for supplies, which will be furnished through movie show admission.

A paid membership of 72 was reported.

Invitation will be extended at the Bastrop district meeting for the spring district meeting to be held in Lake Providence.

Miss Marian Lucille Keller Weds Harry Edward LaFoe

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At First Baptist Church Of Oak Grove

The First Baptist Church of Oak Grove was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marian Lucille Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Keller, of Oak Grove, and Harry Edward LaFoe, of this city, son of Mrs. Martha LaFoe, of Oklahoma City, Okla. which was solemnized Saturday, September 6 at seven o'clock in the evening.

The vows of the impressive service were exchanged before an altar which was decorated with emerald and jade foliage, with floor candelabra holding pink tapers which formed a cathedral point. Floor baskets with shaded astors added a festive autumn air to the occasion. The Rev. J. D. Cheatham officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, of Oak Grove at the organ, rendered several bridal selections and accompanied Garland Shell, of this city, as he sang "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her ballerina length wedding gown of ashes of roses Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a strapless decolletage fashioned with shirred nylon net, covered with a removable fitted lace bolero jacket, fastened with tiny buttons down the front. The bouffant skirt of her gown had layers of tulle over the Chantilly lace. Her shoulder veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace, edged with a scalloped off the face finish. Her mitts were lace ending in points over the hands.

She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations with white blending into pink and lilies of the valley fashioned on net and tied with satin ribbon.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her sister, the matron of honor, an only attendant, Mrs. Kenneth M. Castleman. She was gowned in a ballerina-length cotillion blue velveteen and nylon tulle dress with matching shoes and short mitts. She carried a hand bouquet of pink feathered carnations. In her hair she wore pink carnations.

Miss Marjorie Keller and Mrs. Charles Robert Barton, sisters of the bride, served as candle lighters. Miss Keller's dress was of light pink silk organza and Mrs. Barton's of powder blue silk organza. They were ballerina length. The halo of flowers which they wore in their hair were identical in color to that of their dresses and the candles used in lighting were decorated in like fashion.

Chet Amend, of Shreveport served the bridegroom as best man and ring bearer was Master Charles Robert Barton, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark., nephew of the bride. Ushers were McGinty McBride, of Alexandria, and Kenneth M. Castleman, of Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Keller, mother of the bride, was wearing a Delphinium blue textured rayon crepe, trimmed with rhinestones with small black feathered hat, long white gloves and a corsage of white feathered carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. LaFoe, chose a fall model of irridescent taffeta in gold and rose tone. She wore brown accessories and corsage of orange and rose colored miniature mums.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the American Legion Hut in Oak Grove.

Throughout the receiving rooms were lovely arrangements of shaded asters. Mrs. Joe Kelly greeted the guests at the entrance. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, their parents and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table covered with a handsome cutwork cloth was centered with the tiered wedding confection. At one end was the crystal punch bowl presided over by Mrs. Arnold Kuykendall, of Oak Grove Mrs. Ivah Kaykendall, of Conway, Ark., Mrs. C. B. Stacy, of Oak Grove, and Mrs. J. D. Cheathan, of Oak Grove. The cake was served by Mrs. Joe Avarett of Monroe assisted by Miss Sally Beth Moore, of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. J. P. Brown of Lake Providence. At the bride's book was Miss Anne Brightman, of Austin, Tex. and Miss Phyllis Richards. Others assisting in the serving courtesies were Misses Amy and Bobbye Key of Warren, Ark. and Mrs. J. B. McIntosh, of Darnell, La.

For their wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride chose a rose colored shantung with red velvet trim with which she wore a feathered hat and brown accessories. Faculty Wives' Club Elects New Officers At September Meeting

The Faculty Wives' Club of Northeast Louisiana State College had its first scheduled meeting of the year Monday in the Home Economic Social Room on the campus.

Mrs. Maxine Freeman, past president, introduced the new members, whose husbands have recently joined the faculty. Mrs. Freeman also gave a brief summary of the clubs' activities of last year.

Officers for the 1952-53 term were elected as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. Eloise Slater; president, Mrs. Pauline Hyman; vice-president, Mrs. Rosemary Luffey; secretary, Mrs. Bernice Hickman; reporter, Mrs. Agnes Pritchett.

Following the business meeting the hostesses, Mrs. Rosemary Luffey, Mrs. Maxine Freeman, Mrs. Fern Whatley, Mrs. Orma Foster, Mrs. Scottie Buchanan, and Mrs. Minnie Upshaw, served the members refreshments.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT CLUB MEETING

K. OF C. TO WINNSBORO

The Knights of Columbus will meet Sunday Morning Sept. 28 at St. Matthews and journey in a body to Winnsboro for their regular monthly "Out of Town" Communion. The Communion will be at the 8 o'clock Mass and all are asked to help make this great success by attending.

Lake Providence High School P.-T. A. Meets

At the September meeting Mrs. Fred Hardy, Gossyppia plantation, was enrolled as a new member in the Lake Providence High School P.-T. A.

East Carroll parish supervisor of schools, B. A. Bayles, informed on "Legislative changes in the 1952 Legislature affecting education".

New faculty members introduced were Mr. Genell Miller, Hammond, Mrs. Doris F. Sullivan, Mrs. Noel Marcom, and Mrs. Marian Herzog.

Mrs. F. M. Terral, lunch room committee member, reported on new equipment purchased for the cafeteria, which is adequate for present needs with the exception of the refrigeration. Invitation was extended by Mrs. Sam House, Jr., for patrons to visit the cafeteria and enjoy the menus being served, at same price paid by faculty members.

Decision was made to sell no candy on the campus this school year. Candy sales were held to raise funds for supplies, which will be furnished through movie show admission.

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At First Baptist Church Of Oak Grove

The First Baptist Church of Oak Grove was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marian Lucille Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Keller, of Oak Grove, and Harry Edward LaFoe, of this city, son of Mrs. Martha LaFoe, of Oklahoma City, Okla. which was solemnized Saturday, September 6 at seven o'clock in the evening.

The vows of the impressive service were exchanged before an altar which was decorated with emerald and jade foliage, with floor candelabra holding pink tapers which formed a cathedral point. Floor baskets with shaded astors added a festive autumn air to the occasion. The Rev. J. D. Cheatham officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Myrtis Fortenberry, of Oak Grove at the organ, rendered several bridal selections and accompanied Garland Shell, of this city, as he sang "At Dawning" and "I Love Thee."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her ballerina length wedding gown of ashes of roses Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a strapless decolletage fashioned with shirred nylon net, covered with a removable fitted lace bolero jacket, fastened with tiny buttons down the front. The bouffant skirt of her gown had layers of tulle over the Chantilly lace. Her shoulder veil of bridal illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace, edged with a scalloped off the face finish. Her mitts were lace ending in points over the hands.

She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations with white blending into pink and lilies of the valley fashioned on net and tied with satin ribbon.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her sister, the matron of honor, an only attendant, Mrs. Kenneth M. Castleman. She was gowned in a ballerina-length cotillion blue velveteen and nylon tulle dress with matching shoes and short mitts. She carried a hand bouquet of pink feathered carnations. In her hair she wore pink carnations.

Miss Marjorie Keller and Mrs. Charles Robert Barton, sisters of the bride, served as candle lighters. Miss Keller's dress was of light pink silk organza and Mrs. Barton's of powder blue silk organza. They were ballerina length. The halo of flowers which they wore in their hair were identical in color to that of their dresses and the candles used in lighting were decorated in like fashion.

Chet Amend, of Shreveport served the bridegroom as best man and ring bearer was Master Charles Robert Barton, Jr., of Little Rock, Ark., nephew of the bride. Ushers were McGinty McBride, of Alexandria, and Kenneth M. Castleman, of Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Keller, mother of the bride, was wearing a Delphinium blue textured rayon crepe, trimmed with rhinestones with small black feathered hat, long white gloves and a corsage of white feathered carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. LaFoe, chose a fall model of irridescent taffeta in gold and rose tone. She wore brown accessories and corsage of orange and rose colored miniature mums.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the American Legion Hut in Oak Grove.

Throughout the receiving rooms were lovely arrangements of shaded asters. Mrs. Joe Kelly greeted the guests at the entrance. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, their parents and members of the wedding party.

The bride's table covered with a handsome cutwork cloth was centered with the tiered wedding confection. At one end was the crystal punch bowl presided over by Mrs. Arnold Kuykendall, of Oak Grove Mrs. Ivah Kaykendall, of Conway, Ark., Mrs. C. B. Stacy, of Oak Grove, and Mrs. J. D. Cheathan, of Oak Grove. The cake was served by Mrs. Joe Avarett of Monroe assisted by Miss Sally Beth Moore, of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. J. P. Brown of Lake Providence. At the bride's book was Miss Anne Brightman, of Austin, Tex. and Miss Phyllis Richards. Others assisting in the serving courtesies were Misses Amy and Bobbye Key of Warren, Ark. and Mrs. J. B. McIntosh, of Darnell, La.

For their wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride chose a rose colored shantung with red velvet trim with which she wore a feathered hat and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of shaded miniature mums. Upon their return they will be at home in this city where the bridegroom is employed with Motors Insurance Corp.

The bride received her B. S. degree from Arkansas State Teacher's College in Conway, Ark., an M. S. degree from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville and for the past four years taught Home Economics at the University of Texas. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Oklahoma City University and served in the Air Force in World War II. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. A. F. Kuykendall, Miss Claudia Kuykendall II and Miss Ivah Kuykendall, of Conway, Ark.; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Barton and son Charles Robert Jr., of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. D. A. R. Has Fourth Annual Conference Of Third District

Miss Frances Flanders, Regent, Presides At Meeting; Mrs. W. C. Oliver Speaks On Acadians

The Hotel Frances Roof was the setting of the fourth annual conference of the Third District of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Tuesday.

The members of the Fort Miro Chapter of Monroe were the hostesses with their capable regent, Miss Frances Flanders, presiding.

About one hundred guests attended, representing chapters from Tallulah, Lake Providence, Bastrop, Oak Grove, Oak Ridge, Ruston, West Monroe and Monroe. Many distinguished guests, both state and national officers were present from Shreveport, Alexandria, Baton Rouge, New Iberia and New Orleans.

A coffee hour was enjoyed before the conference. Mrs. Shelby Meek, a former regent of Ft. Miro, presided at the beautifully appointed coffee table.

Miss Frances Flanders gave the address of welcome. Mrs. George T. Hider of Moses Shelby Chapter of Lake Providence who is now serving as district director conducted a business session. This consisted of reports of chapter regents; introduction of state officers and reports of state chairmen. Mrs. A. Stafford of Baton Rouge was introduced as state director of districts.

Miss Em Moore, chairman of the speaker's bureau, then presented Mrs. W. C. Oliver as the speaker of the conference.

Mrs. Oliver, a member of Ft. Miro Chapter spoke on the Acadians. She gave the history of the French settlement on the shores of the basin of Minas, Arcadia, now Novia Scotia. She described the expulsion and the effect on the results of the Revolutionary War. She also told of the Acadians in Louisiana and of their part in the building and progress of our state.

Mrs. Oliver said in part: "The history of the Acadians started with the first French settlement in 1604. For over a century these thrifty, peaceful people lived in rustic plenty. They were deeply attached to their home, their Roman Catholic Church and their former homeland, France.

"The climax was reached in the spring of 1755 when 6000 men, women and children were exiled by the English from their Arcadia. Families were separated and scattered up and down the eastern seaboard from Connecticut to Georgia. Some went to San Domingo, others made their way back to France while many built rafts in Tennessee and floated down to the Mississippi to a French speaking country Louisiana."

Mrs. Oliver concluded with these remarks: "This is the history of our Louisiana Acadians commonly known as Cajuns. It is a story of tragedy and heroism, hate and love, persecution and triumph. It is a story that invokes the blessing of all Christians and is an example of good Americanism for our Daughters of the American Revolution."

At the conclusion of the program the conference adjourned with the retiring of the colors to the luncheon table. Mrs. Herbert C. Parker, regent of the state, Daughters of the American Revolution, gave a brief address on the duties and progress of the society.

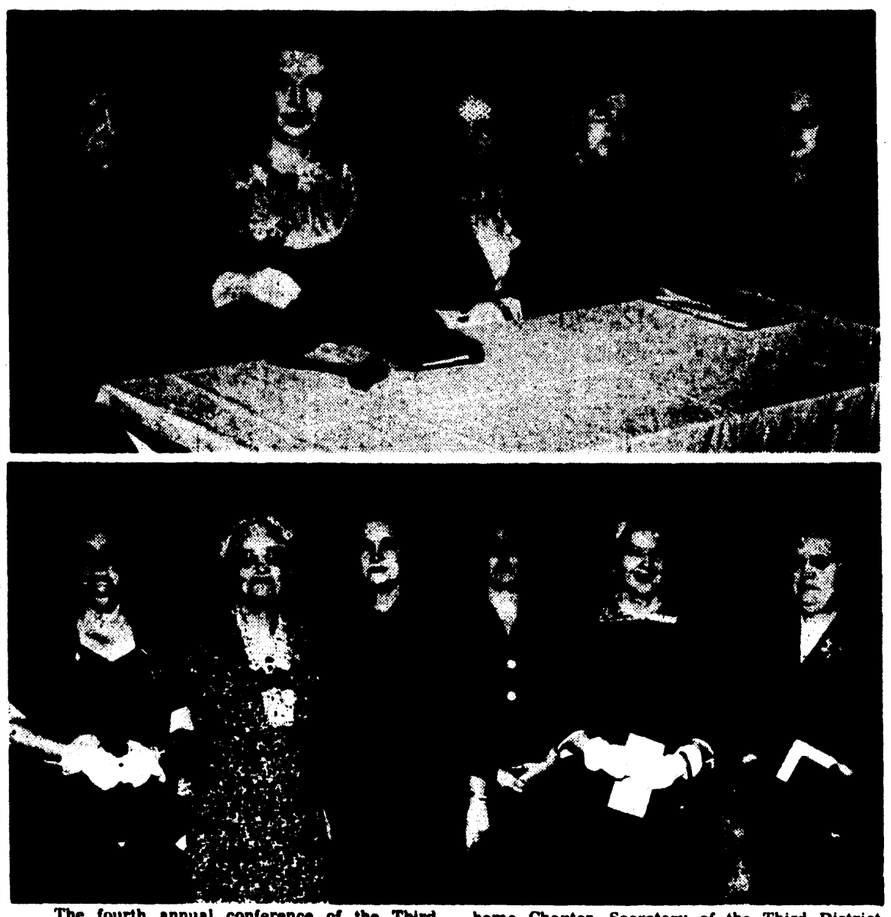

Much of the success and enjoyment of the cnnference was due to the well planned program of the hostess regent, Miss Frances Flanders.

Farmerville Bride Honored With Shower

Mrs. R. A. Wilson honored Mrs. Rilly Joe Emmons, a bride of recent date, with a miscellaneous shower at her home on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. L. D. Carroll, Mrs. J. A. Roan, Mrs. Bill Rainwater and Miss Jonny Nell Kilpatrick as co-hostesses. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Carroll and received by the hostesses, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. L. B. Odom. Mrs. Bill Hughes, cousin of the bride, presided at the register.

A beautiful fan - shaped arrangement of pink gladioli adorned the mantel, and reflected in the antique mirror above. Low bowls of pink and rose hibiscus placed at vantage points completed the decorations in the reception suite. Miss Johnny Nell Kilpatrick invited the guests to view the lavish display of gifts, including china, crystal and silver in the bride's chosen patterns and many other useful items. Mrs. James Rabun, sister of the bride ushered the guests into the dining room, where the refreshment table was overlaid with an exquisite light green satin damask cloth and held for central decor an artistic arrangement of large frosted yellow mums and flanked on either side with crystal candelabra holding slender yellow tapers. The same decorations in white were used on the buffett. Mrs. Bill Rainwater presided at the huge punch bowl placed at one end of the table. Open - faced sandwiches, yellow and green mints, salted nuts and individual yellow and green embossed cakes were placed along the board.

Mrs. Wilber Taylor and Mrs. Enoch Tucker, Jr., assisted in the dining room courtesies. The honor guest chose for this occasion a lovely model of navy nylon, from her trousseau. She wore a corsage of yellow carnations, a gift from the hostesses. A large number of guests called during the receiving hours of 4 to 6 o'clock.

She described the expulsion and the effect on the results of the Revolutionary War. She also told of the Acadians in Louisiana and of their part in the building and progress of our state.

Mrs. Oliver said in part: "The history of the Acadians started with the first French settlement in 1604. For over a century these thrifty, peaceful people lived in rustic plenty. They were deeply attached to their home, their Roman Catholic Church and their former homeland, France.

"The climax was reached in the spring of 1755 when 6000 men, women and children were exiled by the English from their Arcadia. Families were separated and scattered up and down the eastern seaboard from Connecticut to Georgia. Some went to San Domingo, others made their way back to France while many built rafts in Tennessee and floated down to the Mississippi to a French speaking country Louisiana."

Mrs. Oliver concluded with these remarks: "This is the history of our Louisiana Acadians commonly known as Cajuns. It is a story of tragedy and heroism, hate and love, persecution and triumph. It is a story that invokes the blessing of all Christians and is an example of good Americanism for our Daughters of the American Revolution."

At the conclusion of the program the conference adjourned with the retiring of the colors to the luncheon table. Mrs. Herbert C. Parker, regent of the state, Daughters of the American Revolution, gave a brief address on the duties and progress of the society.

Much of the success and enjoyment of the cnnference was due to the well planned program of the hostess regent, Miss Frances Flanders.

Farmerville Bride Honored With Shower

Mrs. R. A. Wilson honored Mrs. Billy Joe Emmons, a bride of recent date, with a miscellaneous shower at her home on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. L. D. Carroll, Mrs. J. A. Roan, Mrs. Bill Rainwater and Miss Jonny Nell Kilpatrick as co-hostesses. The guests were greeted by Mrs. Carroll and received by the hostesses, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. L. B. Odom. Mrs. Bill Hughes, cousin of the bride, presided at the register.

A beautiful fan - shaped arrangement of pink gladioli adorned the mantel, and reflected in the antique mirror above. Low bowls of pink and rose hibiscus placed at vantage points completed the decorations in the reception suite. Miss Johnny Nell Kilpatrick invited the guests to view the lavish display of gifts, including china, crystal and silver in the bride's chosen patterns and many other useful items. Mrs. James Rabun, sister of the bride ushered the guests into the dining room, where the refreshment table was overlaid with an exquisite light green satin damask cloth and held for central decor an artistic arrangement of large frosted yellow mums and flanked on either side with crystal candelabra holding slender yellow tapers. The same decorations in white were used on the buffett. Mrs. Bill Rainwater presided at the huge punch bowl placed at one end of the table. Open - faced sandwiches, yellow and green mints, salted nuts and individual yellow and green embossed cakes were placed along the board.

Mrs. Wilber Taylor and Mrs. Enoch Tucker, Jr., assisted in the dining room courtesies. The honor guest chose for this occasion a lovely model of navy nylon, from her trousseau. She wore a corsage of yellow carnations, a gift from the hostesses. A large number of guests called during the receiving hours of 4 to 6 o'clock.

PRENUPTIAL PARTIES HONOR MISS ANN BUATT AND MR. JACK COLE

Mrs. R. C. Windsor and Mrs. William Porch of Mer Rouge entertained with a linen shower Tuesday night at 7:30, honoring Miss Ann Buatt, a September bride.

For this occasion Miss Buatt chose a tan orlon accordian pleated model with linen trim with which she wore brown accessories. The hostesses added a beautiful white carnation corsage with cream satin ribbons.

The living room was decorated for the occasion with beautiful arrangements of pink roses. The guests were entertained with a novel card game, at the conclusion of which each guest received a gift.

The guests were then invited into the dining room where they were served from a table decorated with a small clothes - line with miniature towels and bath cloths bearing the letters Ann and Jack. Greenery was banked at the base of each clothes pole.

Delicious refreshments consisting of individual heart - shaped pattie shells filled with chicken-ala-King, crabapples, cheese crackers and refreshing punch were served.

After the refreshments were enjoyed a laundry basket laden with lovely linens was presented the honoree, and admired by the guests, who were: Mesdames Charles White, Carnel Evans, Charles McDuff, Clifford King, Max Brodnax, John Davis McAdams and Miss Donna Bacon of Mer Rouge, Mesdames Cecil Harp, Frank Doles, C. S. Reeves, J. W. Montgomery, Jr., Scott Buatt, Arthur Baggett of Bonita, Fay Hopkins, John Shackelford of Jones, Alex Pettiss, John Lane Norsworthy, J. M. Cole, Joe Turpin, Thad Hassel of Chattanooga, Tenn., Clark Butler and Lee Buatt of West Monroe, and Cherry Turpin.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were: Mrs. H. L. Nesom, Mrs. George W. Williams, Glenn Nesom, Mrs. Paul Harp, and Mrs. George W. Lester.

Dinner Party

Wednesday night, Judge and Mrs. E. L. Gladney Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Meek of Monroe entertained with a dinner party at a hotel in Monroe honoring Miss Ann Buatt and Jack Cole, whose wedding was solemnized Sept. 21

The T- shaped table was covered with a lovely linen cloth and was beautifully decorated with an arrangement of white mums and carnations. A little arch, maline-covered, was hung with silver wedding bells and banked with the white flowers.

Miss Buatt chose from her trousseau for this occasion a brown faille suit with a lovely nylon, bronze-trimmed blouse with brown accessories. The hostess presented her with a dainty white mum corsage.

A delicious four course dinner was served by white clad attendants after which the hostesses presented Ann and Jack with two dinner plates in their chosen pattern.

Those enjoying this occasion were the honorees, Miss Buatt and Mr. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cole, Mrs. Scott Buatt, Mrs. Thad Hassell, Miss Emery Liles, Mrs. John Lane Norsworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, Red Harp, Scott Baker Buatt and the hosts and hostesses, Judge and Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Meek.

Miss Emery Liles honored Miss Ann Buatt on Thursday night, Sept. 19, with a bridge party in her home.

For this occasion Miss Buatt wore a tan nylon frock with a bright red scarf and brown accessories. The hostesses presented her at this time with a white corsage of carnations centered with a single glamelia.

Bridge and canasta were enjoyed throughout the evening and the ous fruit punch, candies and nuts by Mrs. Liles during the games. High score for bridge was won by Miss Betty Beasley, dainty individual lip stick tissues, and Mrs. William Porch won the low prize of a velvet flower. High canasta score was won by Mrs. Alex Pettiss, a purse atomizer, and Mrs. Thad Hassell of Chattanooga, Tenn., was awarded a novel miniature purse manicure set. These were in turn presented to the bride, who gave each guest a match book lipstick to remember the happy occasion.

The guests were then served, from linen covered tables centered with hurricane lamps entwined with ivy and interspersed with painted daisies, delicious lemon fluff with whipped cream and coffee.

Those enjoying this delightful party were: the honoree, Miss Ann Buatt, Mesdames John Lane Norsworthy, Janie Hanks, John Davis McAdams, William Porch, Joe J. Turpin, Dick Hornbeak, T. L. Morgan, Duke Shackelford, Scott Buatt, Alex Pettiss, Thad Hassell, and the Misses Betty Beasley, Martha Ludlum and Dorothy Ann Norsworthy.

Dinner

Miss Ann Buatt and Jack Cole, who were united in marriage in a September 21 ceremony, were honored Sunday night by Mr. and Mrs. George Lester of Monroe at a restaurant in that city.

The dinner table, laid for sixteen guests, was decorated in a beautiful, unique fashion. The centerpiece was an arrangement of greenery in which nestled a cluster of mums with dainty white ruching pointing up their tiny heads. From the foliage stretched long, white satin streamers with a white button mum at the end of each ribbon, marking the plates of the diners.

At the conclusion of the dinner the flowers forming the heart of the centerpiece were lifted from the arrangement and proved to be a bridal bouquet, with the satin streamers, flower - tipped, cascading from its center.

Honoring the young couple on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Scott Buatt, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cole, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. John Lane Norsworthy, Miss Emery Liles, Scott Becker Buatt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Porch, and Mr. and Mrs. George Lester.

Oak Park Christian Church In Kansas City, Mo. Is Setting For Impressive Ceremony

Miss Marilyn Sue Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Reese, and Eugene W. Gadd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gadd were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, August 23, at the Oak Park Christian Church, Kansas City Mo. The Rev. Wayne Testermant read the service, following a program of organ music by Frank Nall, who accompanied Mrs. Paul Martinson, soloist.

The sanctuary was decorated with white gladioli, asters, woodwardia fern, and burning tapers.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin, fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves and illusion neck line. The voluminous floor length skirt had a tulle flounce. Her veil of illusion descended from a half-hat of shirred tulle and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, a shower of stephanotis and satin ribbon.

Mrs Don Rarl was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of aqua satin with tulle skirt over satin taffeta trim and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room.

For traveling the bride wore a beige silk shantung suit with aqua and coco accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Miss Reese is well known in Franklin parish where she has made several visits. She is the granddaughter of H. H. Reese and the late Mrs. Claude Reese of Baskin. She is the niece of Coyle Reese of Baskin. Mrs. Benjamin Berry Winnsboro, Mrs. Charlie Lewis of Chase and Miss Bernice Reese, Monroe.

Farmerville P.-T.A. Hold First Meeting

The Farmerville Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting for the year 1952-53 at the Farmerville High School Auditorium Wednesday, September 17th with Mrs. James T. Spencer president, presiding. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Oakley Lee, pastor of the Methodist Church. A short business session followed. Each person was asked to write their suggestion and criticisms for a better P.-T. A. on a slip of paper which was then handed to the president. After the necessary arrangements were made, President Ropp of Louisiana Tech gave a most interesting talk based on the thought of "Right Human Relations." The meeting was very well attended. The next meeting will be Tuesday night, October 14th.

Tea-Shower Honors Bride Of Recent Date In Mangham

Six Hostesses Entertain Mrs. Clinton Smart In Home Of Mrs. Ed Ellington

Mrs. Clinton Smart, a recent bride, was honored with a tea-shower in the home of Mrs. Ed Ellington, of Mangham, on Tuesday afternoon, September 16, from 4 until 7 o'clock, with Mrs. I. L. Bruce, Mrs. Traylor Jones, Mrs. Duncan McIntyre, Mrs. Lula Ellington, Mrs. Ada Vickers and Mrs. Bill Murfin as hostesses.

In the living room artistic arrangements of pink roses were placed at vantage points. Guests were greeted at the door by the honoree, who was wearing an off-the-shoulder black taffeta dress. Her only adornment was a pink carnation corsage, a gift of Mrs. Ellington. Mrs. Ellington was becomingly attired in a navy nylon. Mrs. Ollie Ratcliff, mother of the bride, chose for this occasion an aqua nylon, accentuated by a corsage of pink mums.

The guests were asked to view the gifts and sign the guest book by Miss Yvonne Sandiford who was so charmingly attired in a green over bronze net gown. A corsage of talismen roses complimented her frock.

The tea girls so graciously invited the guests into the dining room where the table was overlaid with a beautiful lace cloth, centered with an unusual arrangement of pink and white carnations on a mirrored reflector. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Mickey Brown who was wearing a tea gown of navy net over pink with a pink rose corsage. Assisting in passing the dainty cakes, nuts, mints and sandwiches were Miss Maxine Ross, who chose to wear a pink satin tea gown with a rose corsage, and Miss Ann Barfield wore a red net gown with a harmonizing rose corsage.

Many guests from surrounding towns called throughout the appointed hours.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women... smooths out lines and wrinkles... firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

TWIN CITY COUNCIL OF UNITED CHURCH WOMEN TO MEET FRIDAY

On Friday, October 3, at 10:00 a. m., in the First Methodist Church, the Twin City Council of United Church Women will meet for an interesting, as well as informational, program on missions. The theme for such a program being "Our Church's Mission" of which Mrs. A. E. Allen of the First Methodist Church is the clever author. Mrs. Allen serving as co - chairman to the chairman of World Missions, Mrs. H. M. Moak of Memorial Methodist Church. Mrs. Moak will preside over the morning program along with the president of the Twin City Council of Church Women, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf.

The impetus of this type of program demonstrates that Christians can and do cooperate with people of other faiths to understand and help all peoples.

The World Christian committee of the United Church Women furnishes a view for many Christian undertakings at home and abroad. The purpose of this committee is to further the inter-denominational mission program by strengthening the understanding and support of home and foreign missions.

A basic philosophy of missions is how to extend and build up the church to make it the force in contemporary life that it might be, and should be, to keep it pressing out into new areas of unmet need to preach, to teach, and to serve where others do not; to bridge gulfs of inequality and everywhere and always to demonstrate the relevance of Christian truth for living.

One of the recent local missionary activities was the forming of a hospital visitation committee for the children at Charity Hospital, with Mrs. Ernest Strauss as chairman and Mrs. E. P. Cudd and Mrs. I. T. Landhy serving on the committee with Mrs. Strauss. The new project for the year of Twin City Council will be announced on that day.

Those participating on Friday's program are: Mrs. Henry Whitfield, of Grace Episcopal Church, Mrs. B. B. Martin, of First Christian Church, Mrs. H. M. Moak of Memorial Methodist Church and Mrs. A. E. Allen of First Methodist Church. The closing prayer will be given by Mrs. Ruth Hundley of Memorial Presbyterian Church of West Monroe.

Presidents of the women's organizations of the various churches forming the Twin City Council of Church Women and helping with the plans of the days program and serving on the program are: Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. Alden Shotwell, Mrs. Arsenaux, Mrs. Frank Wimberly, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. W. D. Danzey, Mrs. H. B. Zeagler, Mrs. A. W. Cotton, serving for Mrs. Harold Riggs, and Mrs. H. S. Boyd.

An invitation is extended to all church women to attend this program.

Girl Scouts

For backyard fun, there's nothing much more fun than tin can cooking. The girls of troop 11, who learned last year how to make buddy burners to use as fuel under the small stoves, spent part of their last meeting cooking pancakes and bacon in their leader's backyard. Mrs. Paul Blackmon, one of the leaders, says she recommends tin can cooking as a family outdoor project. To be sure everything worked properly last Wednesday, she and her husband and daughters cooked bacon and eggs for sandwiches on the stoves the evening before. Best part of it, she says, is that there were no dishes to wash afterward. Mrs. G. E. Boggs and Mrs. Frank Smith were the other grown ups who were in on the fun.

The mother of one Scout in the troop says daughter came home and proceeded to make pancakes for the family supper. Bet they were good, too.

Troop 30 is planning a trip to camp after school next Wednesday for their investiture as Girl Scouts. These girls, who have been Brownies for two years under the leadership of Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Powell Sinclair, are looking forward to the wider field of activities that the intermediate program offers. To interest other girls, they are inviting the prospective Brownies in their school to be their guests for the occasion. What nicer place could the troop choose for this ceremony than the camp- a shady spot outdoors if the afternoon is warm, or indoors in front of a cozy fire if the weather is rainy or cold! Congratulations to the new Fly-Ups!

An unusually good idea for an early fall activity is troop 14's plan for an afternoon meeting out of doors with a man from the forestry department to help them learn more about trees. For this, too, they will go to Girl Scout Camp with leaders Mary Turner and Ethel Easterling. As part of their plan for learning about the more familiar trees and shrubs the girls made spatter prints of the leaves found in the neighborhood of their meeting place at the Park Place Baptist Church.

A sight we'd like to have seen was that of 11 girls of a new Brownie troop from Lexinton School painting up a storm at Tuesday's meeting. It seems the troop has a wonderful meeting place at the home of their leader, Mrs. W. R. Crow, and the girls are undertaking to gather enough boxes and nail kegs to paint and fix up for seats. Mrs. Ted Allen is co-leader of the troop, which will probably keep the number 55 because several of the girls belonged to that troop last year. We hope the lawn will soon recover from the multicolor paint job.

Some sixty-five adults came to Thursday's get-together and pronounced it a worth while occasion. Dot Breard, Helen Wheeler and Billie Blackmon deserve credit for the displays, program, and arrangements. Visitors commented particularly on the sewing - just didn't know Scouts could do such things. Billie Blackmon's attractive map of the Twin Cities, showing existing Girl Scout troops and opportunities for others ought surely to inspire all of us to work harder toward the goal of giving every girl the opportunity of being a Girl Scout.

Is your Red Feather showing? Remember that Girl Scouting is a Red Feather Agency.

Music Guild Meets In Home Of Mrs.R. T. Bliss

Mrs. Morris Miller Speaks Of Life During The Romantic Era At September Meeting

The first meeting of the Music Guild was held Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. R. T. Bliss. The new officers for the coming year were installed. Those taking over the duties were Mrs. R. T. Bliss, president; Mrs. Cecil Hill, vice-president; Mrs. P. A. Pogue, secretary; Mrs. Dewey White, treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, parliamentarian; Mrs. Robert Irby, historian; and Mrs. Leon Noland, reporter.

Mrs. W. C. Hopkins was in charge of the program for the day. Mrs. Morris Miller told of life during the Romantic Era. She gave interesting sketches of the lives of five composers of that period, Franz Schubert, Robert Schuman, ohannes Brahms, Frederick Chopin, and Felix Mendelssohn. Each of these sketches was followed by an example of his works performed by a member of the Guild. Mrs. Dewey White gave a lovely rendition of "Who Is Sylvia?" by Schubert. Everyone enjoyed Schumann's "Traumerei" played by Mrs. W. E. Williams. Mrs. Cortlandt McCoy sang the beloved "Cradle Song" by Brahms for the great pleasure of an appreciative audience. Two lovely preludes by Chopin were played beautifully by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins. The program ended with the splendid performance of Mrs. J. N. Coon, singing "On Wings of Song" by Felix Mendelssohn.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed by Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Mrs. Cortlandt McCoy, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. Dewey White, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. J. N. Coon, Mrs. Robert Irby, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Charles P. Chisholm, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. W . W. Watson, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock and Miss Louise Endom.

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Unit Attends School Of Instruction

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Unit took advantage of the School of nstruction, conducted by the Twin City P.-T. A. Council, Thursday Sept. 18, in the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church.

Each officer left the meeting much more at ease, than when they came, having learned their duties and knowing they could do their part better toward promoting the welfare of their children in the school and home.

An Attendance Certificate was presented to the Unit for having ten or more present. Those who attended were: Mrs. O. C. Lanier, Mrs. Edgar Powell, Mrs. Dallas Wales, Mrs. John Peters, Mrs. Travis Dunn, Mrs. Clyde Butler, Mrs. M. W. Crowe, Mrs. Harold Hunt, Mrs. Gerald Fragier, Mrs. T. E. Chaney, Mrs. W. E. Andrews.

First Presbyterians Will Have Reception

Members of the First Presbyterian Church will give a reception in Fellowship Hall Monday night, September 29 at 7:30. The informal affair will honor the Reverend Wave McFadden, Mrs. McFadden and Miss Grace Fain, who is the new director of religious education. Members and friends are invited through this medium.

Add broken walnut or pecan meats to a tossed green salad for a special taste-touch when company comes.

90 DAY WONDER

THIS

is for the lads who are beginning to "wonder" how much longer they can wear their duds without being arrested. They'd kinda like to go overboard for a new FALL RIG . . . BUT THE FAMILY WOULD KINDA LIKE TO EAT TOO.

FOR

this slight minority (about 75% of the men in North Louisiana) we have "THE 90 DAY WONDER" . . . that str-e-t-ch-es that hard-to-corner buck over a 3 month period. We also have the 30 DAY ACCOUNT . . . this relieves the weary wallet until 30 days after the purchase . . . not quite as popular, for some reason. Now, and it's about time, for some kind word from Brother FINK, the headman of our trust department. Never the one to "lower the boom" when little Axel's tonsils need evacuating. TWIN CITY COUNCIL OF UNITED CHURCH WOMEN TO MEET FRIDAY

On Friday, October 3, at 10:00 a. m., in the First Methodist Church, the Twin City Council of United Church Women will meet for an interesting, as well as informational, program on missions. The theme for such a program being "Our Church's Mission" of which Mrs. A. E. Allen of the First Methodist Church is the clever author. Mrs. Allen serving as co - chairman to the chairman of World Missions, Mrs. H. M. Moak of Memorial Methodist Church. Mrs. Moak will preside over the morning program along with the president of the Twin City Council of Church Women, Mrs. D. C. Metcalf.

The impetus of this type of program demonstrates that Christians can and do cooperate with people of other faiths to understand and help all peoples.

The World Christian committee of the United Church Women furnishes a view for many Christian undertakings at home and abroad. The purpose of this committee is to further the inter-denominational mission program by strengthening the understanding and support of home and foreign missions.

A basic philosophy of missions is how to extend and build up the church to make it the force in contemporary life that it might be, and should be, to keep it pressing out into new areas of unmet need to preach, to teach, and to serve where others do not; to bridge gulfs of inequality and everywhere and always to demonstrate the relevance of Christian truth for living.

One of the recent local missionary activities was the forming of a hospital visitation committee for the children at Charity Hospital, with Mrs. Ernest Strauss as chairman and Mrs. E. P. Cudd and Mrs. I. T. Landhy serving on the committee with Mrs. Strauss. The new project for the year of Twin City Council will be announced on that day.

Those participating on Friday's program are: Mrs. Henry Whitfield, of Grace Episcopal Church, Mrs. B. B. Martin, of First Christian Church, Mrs. H. M. Moak of Memorial Methodist Church and Mrs. A. E. Allen of First Methodist Church. The closing prayer will be given by Mrs. Ruth Hundley of Memorial Presbyterian Church of West Monroe.

Presidents of the women's organizations of the various churches forming the Twin City Council of Church Women and helping with the plans of the days program and serving on the program are: Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. Alden Shotwell, Mrs. Arsenaux, Mrs. Frank Wimberly, Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Paul Newman, Mrs. W. D. Danzey, Mrs. H. B. Zeagler, Mrs. A. W. Cotton, serving for Mrs. Harold Riggs, and Mrs. H. S. Boyd.

An invitation is extended to all church women to attend this program.

Girl Scouts

For backyard fun, there's nothing much more fun than tin can cooking. The girls of troop 11, who learned last year how to make buddy burners to use as fuel under the small stoves, spent part of their last meeting cocking pancakes and bacon in their leader's backyard. Mrs. Paul Blackmon, one of the leaders, says she recommends tin can cooking as a family outdoor project. To be sure everything worked properly last Wednesday, she and her husband and daughters cooked bacon and eggs for sandwiches on the stoves the evening before. Best part of it, she says, is that there were no dishes to wash afterward. Mrs. G. E. Boggs and Mrs. Frank Smith were the other grown ups who were in on the fun.

The mother of one Scout in the troop says daughter came home and proceeded to make pancakes for the family supper. Bet they were good, too.

Troop 30 is planning a trip to camp after school next Wednesday for their investiture as Girl Scouts. These girls, who have been Brownies for two years under the leadership of Mrs. Jack Scott and Mrs. Powell Sinclair, are looking forward to the wider field of activities that the intermediate program offers. To interest other girls, they are inviting the prospective Brownies in their school to be their guests for the occasion. What nicer place could the troop choose for this ceremony than the camp-a shady spot outdoors if the afternoon is warm, or indoors in front of a cozy fire if the weather is rainy or cold! Congratulations to the new Fly-Ups!

An unusually good idea for an early fall activity is troop 14's plan for an afternoon meeting out of doors with a man from the forestry department to help them learn more about trees. For this, too, they will go to Girl Scout Camp with leaders Mary Turner and Ethel Easterling. As part of their plan for learning about the more familiar trees and shrubs the girls made spatter prints of the leaves found in the neighborhood of their meeting place at the Park Place Baptist Church.

A sight we'd like to have seen was that of 11 girls of a new Brownie troop from Lexinton School painting up a storm at Tuesday's meeting. It seems the troop has a wonderful meeting place at the home of their leader, Mrs. W. R. Crow, and the girls are undertaking to gather enough boxes and nail kegs to paint and fix up for seats. Mrs. Ted Allen is co-leader of the troop, which will probably keep the number 55 because several of the girls belonged to that troop last year. We hope the lawn will soon recover from the multicolor paint job.

Some sixty-five adults came to Thursday's get-together and pronounced it a worth while occasion. Dot Breard, Helen Wheeler and Billie Blackmon deserve credit for the displays, program, and arrangements. Visitors commented particularly on the sewing - just didn't know Scouts could do such things. Billie Blackmon's attractive map of the Twin Cities, showing existing Girl Scout troops and opportunities for others ought surely to inspire all of us to work harder toward the goal of giving every girl the opportunity of being a Girl Scout.

Is your Red Feather showing? Remember that Girl Scouting is a Red Feather Agency.

TO SAIL FOR ENGLAND

Mrs. Buckie Lapietra left Sunday for New York where she will sail for Burtonwood, England to join her husband Pfc. Lapietra who is stationed with the Air Force in England. Mrs. Lapietra is the former Lucille Tornatore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tornatore, of this city. Pfc. and Mrs. Lapietra expect to be in England for two or three years.

Music Guild Meets In Home Of Mrs.R. T. Bliss

Mrs. Morris Miller Speaks Of Life During The Romantic Era At September Meeting

The first meeting of the Music Guild was held Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. R. T. Bliss. The new officers for the coming year were installed. Those taking over the duties were Mrs. R. T. Bliss, president; Mrs. Cecil Hill, vice-president; Mrs. P. A. Pogue, secretary; Mrs. Dewey White, treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, parliamentarian; Mrs. Robert Irby, historian; and Mrs. Leon Noland, reporter.

Mrs. W. C. Hopkins was in charge of the program for the day. Mrs. Morris Miller told of life during the Romantic Era. She gave interesting sketches of the lives of five composers of that period, Franz Schubert, Robert Schuman, ohannes Brahms, Frederick Chopin, and Felix Mendelssohn. Each of these sketches was followed by an example of his works performed by a member of the Guild. Mrs. Dewey White gave a lovely rendition of "Who Is Sylvia?" by Schubert. Everyone enjoyed Schumann's "Traumerei" played by Mrs. W. E. Williams. Mrs. Cortlandt McCoy sang the beloved "Cradle Song" by Brahms for the great pleasure of an appreciative audience. Two lovely preludes by Chopin were played beautifully by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins. The program ended with the splendid performance of Mrs. J. N. Coon, singing "On Wings of Song" by Felix Mendelssohn.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed by Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Mrs. Cortlandt McCoy, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. Dewey White, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. J. N. Coon, Mrs. Robert Irby, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. Charles P. Chisholm, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. W . W. Watson, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock and Miss Louise Endom.

To lift jars or potatoes from hot water, use tongs that feature a firm grip.

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Unit Attends School Of Instruction

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Unit took advantage of the School of nstruction, conducted by the Twin City P.-T. A. Council, Thursday Sept. 18, in the Educational Building of the First Baptist Church.

Each officer left the meeting much more at ease, than when they came, having learned their duties and knowing they could do their part better toward promoting the welfare of their children in the school and home.

An Attendance Certificate was presented to the Unit for having ten or more present. Those who attended were: Mrs. O. C. Lanier, Mrs. Edgar Powell, Mrs. Dallas Wales, Mrs. John Peters, Mrs. Travis Dunn, Mrs. Clyde Butler, Mrs. M. W. Crowe, Mrs. Harold Hunt, Mrs. Gerald Fragier, Mrs. T. E. Chaney, Mrs. W. E. Andrews.

First Presbyterians Will Have Reception

Members of the First Presbyterian Church will give a reception in Fellowship Hall Monday night, September 29 at 7:30. The informal affair will honor the Reverend Wave McFadden, Mrs. McFadden and Miss Grace Fain, who is the new director of religious education. Members and friends are invited through this medium.

Add broken walnut or pecan meats to a tossed green salad for a special taste-touch when company comes.

90 DAY WONDER

THIS

FOR

this slight minority (about 75% of the men in North Louisiana) we have "THE 90 DAY WONDER" . . . that str-e-t-ch-es that hard-to-corner buck over a 3 month period. We also have the 30 DAY ACCOUNT . . . this relieves the weary wallet until 30 days after the purchase . . . not quite as popular, for some reason. Now, and it's about time, for some kind word from Brother FINK, the headman of our trust department. Never the one to "lower the boom" when little Axel's tonsils need evacuating. A VERY understanding guy! I hope by this time YOU understand that by filling out the below, you'll have an account before you can say scat!

The Home Shift

BY MILDRED SWIFT

Well —no rain yet. These cool winds seem to be trying to dry up everything we've brought through the summer. We're swamped with questions of "what can I plant? Can't I start some transplanting?" Mrs. Bagwell said yesterday, anything can be transplanted at any time if it's done right. Most of us don't have the skilled labor to ball and burlap plants well, so our advice is — wait for rains and frost. The plants are dormant then, and can take a little more mistreatment when they're moved.

It's A Fact

'Tis true if you'll compost your barnyard fertilizer along with your leaves you won't have all the weeds to contend with. For the life of me I can't understand how one little load of barnyard fertilizer can bring so many million weeds. Ask Polly Parish about this? Fred is the one who was doing most of the complaining. He said he bought a load of fertilizer and got four loads of weeds.

Garden Jobs

Some authorities say you can plant St. Augustine from March until October. Some say plant all the year in the south. If we have a mild winter like last year, you can certainly plant during the winter season. While there's not so much to do in the yard, you can be sprigging centipede or St. Augustine. It will have to be kept wet, though, until it gets sarted, but surely we'll have a rain soon.

I decided to take a new route home yesterday so drove out Loop Road. The Charlotte Armstrong tree rose blooming in Alice Silverstein's yard repaid me for my extra yardage. Drive by and see these two beautiful plants on each side of her back door. Alice lives at 1800 Pargoud Boulevard. That's the lot that comes to a point at intersection of Loop Road and Pargoud.

A few blocks on out Loop Road notice the white house on the left where the Blue Morning Glory is blooming. The owner has the vine draped so artistically. Looks like a bow of blue ribbon. The vine is blooming profusely, in defiance of the heat, drowth and winds.

Just across from the Country Club there's a large white house with the most beautiful Rose of Montana. This is known as the souths' most beautiful vine. It has certainly taken thedrouth with no ill effects. However — this plant does need plenty of sunshine. In answer to so many who want to plant their winter grass now — if you do plant you'll have to do lots of watering. The lawn should be fertilized two weeks before sowing the seed.

Progress! ! !

Eunice Forman and I attended the Girl Scout get-together Thursday morning. Then we had to reminisce a little. Seven years ago when the fall round-up was held we met in the basement of the court house. There were three mothers, five leaders, Miss Myrtle Rodger, Mrs. Rodney Cline and myself. My — what an enthusiastic group was present on Thursday. I forgot to count but there were well over a hundred there.

Miss Kile said "There is a place for everybody in Scouting." Is your daughter a Girl Scout? She gets training and fun there that will make her a better person.

What can you buy for a nickel that gives you much of a bargain these days? A package of gum, a candy bar or a pound of cabbage. And — you'll get lots of cabbage for a nickel. There's not only the passing enjoyment you get from this vegetable, but there's the nutritional value.

Hurry to cut cabbage just before cooking! Hurry to cook it. Hurry to serve it after it's cooked. Then you'll have cabbage that looks attractive — tastes good and keeps most of its nutritive value.

Here are some ways to prepare cabbage: (which you probably already know). For variety — cabbage can be shredded, then cooked in bacon fat in a skillet until it's tender.

Wedges of cabbage can be cooked with meat. The outside leaves can be used for cabbage rolls — stuffing the leaves with ground meat and seasonings and baking them in a casserole with tomatoes. Yes — you get lots for your nickel when you buy a pound of cabbage.

Just Rambling

When I asked Mary Turner and Sara Ducate what they would like for me to write for the Shift they both said, "Just keep telling us over and over again what to do in our yards." So, if there's some repetition in this — remember it's by request.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The publishers are now well into the fall season and new books are arriving almost daily at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Books of fiction are varied in type and appeal. "Courage Is Not Given" is a lovely story by Drayton Mayrant. It concerns the adventures of a French Hugenot girl, who came to Charleston District, S. C., in the colonial period. This is a very sweet story and a most interesting one. It is especially interesting to those of us who had some Hugenot ancestors. Another book that will be widely read is Edna Ferber's "Giant." This is the story of Bick Benedict, owner of the fabulour Benedict ranch in west Texas and his wife, Leslie. Mrs. Ferber had painted an unforgettable picture of a certain way of life. This story has been running as a serial in the Ladies Home Journal, but is now available in book form.

"Sing For Your Supper" by Eleanor Lothrop is a penetrating story of the life of the divorcee. It is written with discrimination and understanding and is well worth reading. Long novels about the south are always popular. I predict a great interest in "The Alexandrians" by Charles Mills. This is a story of a family and a town and the setting is in Georgia. "You, the Jury" by Mary Borden is a story of suspense and one that will appeal to many readers.

John Steinbeck is one of the great names in modern American literature. His latest novel, "East of Eden" is quite different from earlier books. This is a book which will not appeal to all, for it is a distinctly shocking book, but Steinbeck's philosophy is excellent as usual. "My Brother, My Enemy" by Mitchell Wilson is a story of young ambition and the dreams that go with it. It is also the story of a family, two brothers and a sister and their close solidarity. This story is very readable and will interest many readers. Those who have followed the stories of Angela Thirkell in the English countryside will welcome her latest addition to the series, "Happy Return." Isabel Bolton, who has been accused of being a too faithful disciple of Edith Wharton, has written a story of great elegance, but little plot in "Many Mansions." If you are interested in a period piece, you will like this one.

Mystery stories are always popular and there are several new titles. "The Dog It Was that Died" by Edith C. R. Lorac is a very thrilling story, which takes its title from an old poem. "One Murder too Many" is the title of the new novel by Edwin Lanham.

The field of non - fiction has also produced some interesting titles. "The Complete Book of Etiquette" by Amy Vanderbilt is a welcome addition and will to a certain measure take the place of Emily Post. "The Ocean River" by Henry Chap in is a well - written story of the Gulf stream. It should be as popular as last year's "The Sea Around Us."

Two fascinating new books of travel are "Beyond the High Himalayas" by William O. Douglas, which is written in a serious and penetrating vein; and "Smith's London Journal" a hilarious account of H. Allen Smith's recent visit to London. Although written in a humorous vein, it contains a great deal of excellent information.

A fascinating book for those who want to know about insects is the 1952 yearbook of the United States department of agriculture. This book contains complete and detailed information about every type of insect found in our country. Two copies of this book were donated to the library by Mr. Otto Passman, Congressman of the fifth district.

Your Ouachita Parish Public Library contains a wealth of valuable and interesting information. Why not take advantage of its resources as soon as possible?

Episcopal Auxiliary Of Lake Providence Plans Christmas Bazaar

Episcopal Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal Church, Lake Providence, plans a pre-Christmas bazaar for Nov. 18, to be held at the Municipal auditorium. The bazaar will be presented as a county fair and will feature dolls, doll clothes, stuffed and wooden toys, Christmas tree decorations, sequin trimmed felt stockings, household novelties, aprons, needlework, corsages, and home made foods.

The bazaar will be open to shoppers during the day, and a turkey dinner will be served between the hours of six and nine in the evening. Miss Valera Cammack will make bazaar posters. Plans were completed for the bazaar at the September meeting, held in the church undercroft, with Mrs. A. N. Barfield, Mrs. G. L. Levy, Mrs. Sam H. Houston and Miss Valera Cammack, hostesses.

Program for the meeting was a continuation of "Chapters in Church History", as told by the rector, Rev. Newton Griffith.

A treasury balance of $107.74 was reported.

Message was read from Mrs. Frank A. Vought, diocesan United Thanks offering chairman.

Mrs. Lewis Graham, diocesan president, is expected to visit the Auxiliary, but date will be accepted by Mrs. Graham as most convenient for her visit.

Rummage sale was planned for Sept. 20, with Mrs. Newton Griffith, Mrs. R. S. Guenard, Mrs. Sam H. Houston, Mrs. J. C. Bass, Mrs. A. N. Barfield, Mrs. Barry Mitchell and Miss Valera Cammack, acting as salesladies.

Preference of entertaining in the church undercroft or in the home was left to the hostesses with refreshments limited to drinks and cookies, or drinks and sandwiches.

Mrs. E. D. Schneider, patient in Mercy hospital, Vicksburg, was remembered with gladioli.

Highland P.-T. A. Has Large Meeting

The September meeting of the Highland P.-T. A. was held Wednesday with a large number present.

Since the theme of this year's program is developing Attitude Towards Citizenship, Mrs. Blackiston gave a short talk on Building Home Attitude Towards Citizenship. The officers of the student council presented the program which also emphasized citizenship.

The room count was won by Mrs. Reed's first grade.

Camellia Garden Club Meets With Mrs. J. B. Renaud

The Camellia Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. J. B. Renaud on South 2nd St., Sept. 18th with Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, followed by the roll call and reports which were read and approved. Mrs. Earl Vigg gave the herticultural report. Mrs. Miller introduced Mrs. G. L. Thompson and Mrs. J. R. Freeman who gave very interesting talks on perennials and amarylis. After the program and a brief discussion delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Ruth Kale, Mrs. Cleve Cornett, Mrs. L. T. Harper, Mrs. J. R. Freeman, Mrs. W. M. Hochstetler, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. John F. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Magee, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. J. B. Renaud, Mrs. William Simpson, Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen, and Mrs. Earl Vigg.

My — what an enthusiastic group was present on Thursday. I forgot to count but there were well over a hundred there.

Miss Klie said "There is a place for everybody in Scouting." Is your daughter a Girl Scout? She gets training and fun there that will make her a better person.

What can you buy for a nickel that gives you much of a bargain these days? A package of gum, a candy bar or a pound of cabbage. And — you'll get lots of cabbage for a nickel. There's not only the passing enjoyment you get from this vegetable, but there's the nutritional value.

Hurry to cut cabbage just before cooking! Hurry to cook it. Hurry to serve it after it's cooked. Then you'll have cabbage that looks attractive — tastes good and keeps most of its nutritive value.

Here are some ways to prepare cabbage: (which you probably already know). For variety — cabbage can be shredded, then cooked in bacon fat in a skillet until it's tender.

Wedges of cabbage can be cooked with meat. The outside leaves can be used for cabbage rolls — stuffing the leaves with ground meat and seasonings and baking them in a casserole with tomatoes. Yes — you get lots for your nickel when you buy a pound of cabbage.

Just Rambling

When I asked Mary Turner and Sara Ducate what they would like for me to write for the Shift they both said, "Just keep telling us over and over again what to do in our yards." So, if there's some repetition in this — remember it's by request.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

Camellia Garden Club Meets With Mrs. J. B. Renaud

The Camellia Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. J. B. Renaud on South 2nd St., Sept. 18th with Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, followed by the roll call and reports which were read and approved. Mrs. Earl Vigg gave the horticultural report. Mrs. Miller introduced Mrs. G. L. Thompson and Mrs. J. R. Freeman who gave very interesting talks on perennials and amaryllis. After the program and a brief discussion delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. Ruth Kale, Mrs. Cleve Cornett, Mrs. L. T. Harper, Mrs. J. R. Freeman, Mrs. W. M. Hochstetler, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. John F. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Magee, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. J. B. Renaud, Mrs. William Simpson, Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Mrs. T. L. Van Fossen, and Mrs. Earl Vigg.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The publishers are now well into the fall season and new books are arriving almost daily at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Books of fiction are varied in type and appeal. "Courage Is Not Given" is a lovely story by Drayton Mayrant. It concerns the adventures of a French Hugenot girl, who came to Charleston District, S. C., in the colonial period. This is a very sweet story and a most interesting one. It is especially interesting to those of us who had some Hugenot ancestors. Another book that will be widely read is Edna Ferber's "Giant." This is the story of Bick Benedict, owner of the fabulour Benedict ranch in west Texas and his wife, Leslie. Mrs. Ferber had painted an unforgettable picture of a certain way of life. This story has been running as a serial in the Ladies Home Journal, but is now available in book form.

"Sing For Your Supper" by Eleanor Lothrop is a penetrating story of the life of the divorcee. It is written with discrimination and understanding and is well worth reading. Long novels about the south are always popular. I predict a great interest in "The Alexandrians" by Charles Mills. This is a story of a family and a town and the setting is in Georgia. "You, the Jury" by Mary Borden is a story of suspense and one that will appeal to many readers.

John Steinbeck is one of the great names in modern American literature. His latest novel, "East of Eden" is quite different from earlier books. This is a book which will not appeal to all, for it is a distinctly shocking book, but Steinbeck's philosophy is excellent as usual. "My Brother, My Enemy" by Mitchell Wilson is a story of young ambition and the dreams that go with it. It is also the story of a family, two brothers and a sister and their close solidarity. This story is very readable and will interest many readers. Those who have followed the stories of Angela Thirkell in the English countryside will welcome her latest addition to the series, "Happy Return." Isabel Bolton, who has been accused of being a too faithful disciple of Edith Wharton, has written a story of great elegance, but little plot in "Many Mansions." If you are interested in a period piece, you will like this one.

Mystery stories are always popular and there are several new titles. "The Dog It Was that Died" by Edith C. R. Lorac is a very thrilling story, which takes its title from an old poem. "One Murder too Many" is the title of the new novel by Edwin Lanham.

The field of non - fiction has also produced some interesting titles. "The Complete Book of Etiquette" by Amy Vanderbilt is a welcome addition and will to a certain measure take the place of Emily Post. "The Ocean River" by Henry Chap in is a well - written story of the Gulf stream. It should be as popular as last year's "The Sea Around Us."

Two fascinating new books of travel are "Beyond the High Himalayas" by William O. Douglas, which is written in a serious and penetrating vein; and "Smith's London Journal" a hilarious account of H. Allen Smith's recent visit to London. Although written in a humorous vein, it contains a great deal of excellent information.

A fascinating book for those who want to know about insects is the 1952 yearbook of the United States department of agriculture. This book contains complete and detailed information about every type of insect found in our country. Two copies of this book were donated to the library by Mr. Otto Passman, Congressman of the fifth district.

Your Ouachita Parish Public Library contains a wealth of valuable and interesting information. Why not take advantage of its resources as soon as possible?

Episcopal Auxiliary Of Lake Providence Plans Christmas Bazaar

Episcopal Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal Church, Lake Providence, plans a pre-Christmas bazaar for Nov. 18, to be held at the Municipal auditorium. The bazaar will be presented as a county fair and will feature dolls, doll clothes, stuffed and wooden toys, Christmas tree decorations, sequin trimmed felt stockings, household novelties, aprons, needlework, corsages, and home made foods.

The bazaar will be open to shoppers during the day, and a turkey dinner will be served between the hours of six and nine in the evening. Miss Valera Cammack will make bazaar posters. Plans were completed for the bazaar at the September meeting, held in the church undercroft, with Mrs. A. N. Barfield, Mrs. G. L. Levy, Mrs. Sam H. Houston and Miss Valera Cammack, hostesses.

Program for the meeting was a continuation of "Chapters in Church History", as told by the rector, Rev. Newton Griffith.

A treasury balance of $107.74 was reported.

Message was read from Mrs. Frank A. Vought, diocesan United Thanks offering chairman.

Mrs. Lewis Graham, diocesan president, is expected to visit the Auxiliary, but date will be accepted by Mrs. Graham as most convenient for her visit.

Rummage sale was planned for Sept. 20, with Mrs. Newton Griffith, Mrs. R. S. Guenard, Mrs. Sam H. Houston, Mrs. J. C. Bass, Mrs. A. N. Barfield, Mrs. Barry Mitchell and Miss Valera Cammack, acting as salesladies.

Preference of entertaining in the church undercroft or in the home was left to the hostesses with refreshments limited to drinks and cookies, or drinks and sandwiches.

Mrs. E. D. Schneider, patient in Mercy hospital, Vicksburg, was remembered with gladioli.

B. & P. W. Club To Observe National Business Women's Week

Since April 15 through April 22, 1938, the first observance of Business Women's Week, it has become a nation wide institution. It is observed each fall and presents an opportunity to local clubs to arouse public interest in their year's program and objectives.

The theme for National Business Women's week this year is, "The Ramparts We Build." The main purpose of this week is to dramatize women's contributions to the economical, social and political life of the community.

Object Of Business And Professional Women's Clubs

The object of the Business & Professional Women's Clubs shall be:

To elevate the standards for women in business and in the profession;

To promote the interest of business and professional women;

To broaden the life and outlook of our members through contact with others, and to create opportunities for friendship and exchange of profitable ideas;

To extend opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities;

To stimulate local organization among the business and professional women and to form a body of efficient workers who can be of vital assistance to all other civic clubs in the upbuilding of communities.

Miss Doris Turner Robert Brashier United In Marriage

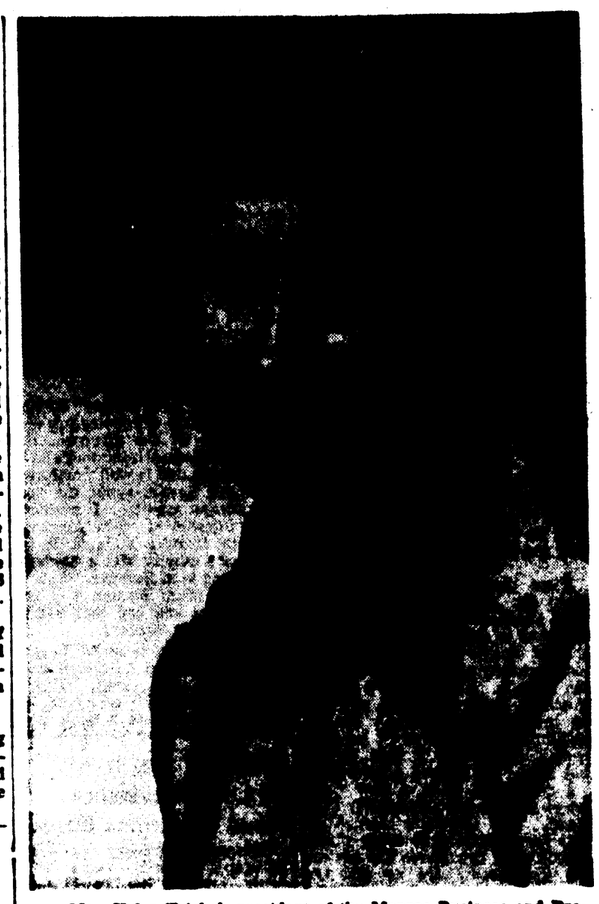

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Ballard in Farmerville was the scene Friday evening at 5 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Doris Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Turner of Sterlington and Robert Brashier, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brashier of Farmerville. Rev. Luther B. Hall, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Farmerville, officiated at the double - ring ceremony, before a background of white gladioli in floral baskets, accented by greenery and candelabra holding white candles.

The candles were lighted by Mrs. A. C. Russell, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Beth Dawkins at the piano rendered nuptial music prior to & during the ceremony. The bride was lovely in an early fall model of pink wool jersey with navy velvet accessories. She carried out the traditional "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Ingram Ballard attended the bride as matron of honor. Mr. Ballard served as best man. A few close friends and relatives were present.

A small reception was held. The bride's table was covered with lace. Central decor was an arrangement of pink dasies and tuberoses. Mrs. A. C. Russell served the cake and Miss Florinell Turnage poured punch. Following a brief trip, the couple will be at home at 336 West Madison, Bastrop, Louisiana.

Add glamor to a long rope of pearls by winding them around your neck twice, and then bowtieing the dangling loop with an inch-wide ribbon.

To make the task of ironing easier, have the basket of dampened pieces within easy reach; and a table nearby on which to pile the freshly ironed clothes.

Mrs. Helen Trichel, president of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club will preside at the meetings and social events during National Women's week.

Mrs. Bessie Skinner, state finance chairman, was once again honored by her appointment as state finance chairman for 1952-1953 at the B. and P. W. Annual Convention held in Lafayette during May of this year. Long a member of the Monroe club, Mrs. Skinner has worked continuously for the advancement and effectiveness of the B. and P. W. Federation at the local, state and national levels. In 1949 as local president, she guided the membership through a busy and most successful year. Also she has served as local radio and television chairman, program coordinator and presently as finance chairman. In addition, during the past several years she has held office as state district director and candidate data chairman. Possessed of a sparkling personality, capability and zest for living, Mrs. Skinner accomplishes the utmost in all her assignments and is an active worker in various phases of civic projects.

Club Women To Have Annual Bosses' Banquet

Dr. Paul T. Hendershot Will Be Guest Speaker At Tuesday Event

On Tuesday, September 30, the Monroe Business & Professional Women will hold their annual Bosses' Banquet in the Mirror Room of the Frances Hotel. On this occasion, members of the club bring their bosses as guests.

Guest speaker for the banquet will be Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, head of the department of economics, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute Ruston, La. Dr. Hendershot is a native of Malvern, Ark., where he graduated as valedictorian of his class at the Malvern High School. Later he received his B. A. degree with highest honors from Henderson State Teachers College at Arkadelphia, Ark.,While at Henderson, Dr. Hendershot was varsity debater, participated in journalistic work edited the college newspaper, was active in Y. M. C. A. work and during his senior year he was delegate to International Religious Conventios in Indianapolis.

After graduating from Henderson again as valedictorian of his class, Dr. Hendershot served for one year as principal of the high school at Dierks, Ark.

In 1939 he entered Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La., where he received his master's degree in economics. While at L. S. U he was temporary instructor in the College of Commerce, instructor in Business Administration and served as president of the graduate student body of L. S. U.

In 1942, Dr. Hendershot joined the United States Navy and attained the rank of lieutenant. He served three and one half years with the Net Boom, Harbor defense, and communications activities. Most of this time was spent in the South Pacific area.

After obtaining an honorable discharge from the Navy he returned to L. S. U. where he worked toward his doctor of philosophy degree. In 1947, he was awarded this degree.

Since January, 1947, Dr. Hendershot has been professor and head of the department of economics of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at Ruston, La., where he resides with his wife, the former Mary Theresa Lacy, of Baton Rouge, and their three children. He is active in several social and honorary fraternities; a member of the Lions club, the Ruston Quarterbacks Club, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Hendershot is widely known for his commencement addresses and speeches before various civic clubs over north Louisiana.

Business Women Undertake Job Of Rousing Voters

The Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club is cooperating with the National Federation in trying to deliver new or hitherto dormant votes to the polls in the fall elections.

As a practical observance of the 25th anniversary of Business Women's Week, the organization is calling on each of its members to assume responsibility for 7 such votes.

They have been instructed on how to be ready to furnish service to would-be voters in the way of information on registration and voting, provisions for absentee voting, requirements regarding length of residence, literacy tests, naturalization, pole tax and so on. Club members are being asked to assist in driving citizens to the polls, sitting with babies and the sick so that other members of the families may be free to register and ballot.

The National Federation points out that there are approximately 40,500,000 women of voting age, though in 1948 the total number of votes cast for president was only some 48,000,000. Women could control the elections in 32 states where there are more women than men of voting age, the organization declares.

Judge Sarah T. Hughes, immediate past president of the National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, was nominated for an International Federation vice-presidency when the International Federation elects officers at its congress in Stockholm next summer. Judge Hughes is the 14th District Judge of Dallas, Texas.

Miss Helen Irwin, new National President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

National Business Women's Week Is Proclaimed By Mayor

The following proclamation, proclaiming September 28—October 4, 1952 National Business Women's Week, was issued by Mayor John Coon: "To the citizens of Monroe, Louisiana, by virtue of my office I hereby proclaim the week of September 28 — October 4, 1952, National Business Women's Week. I urge the citizens of our town to cooperate with the Business and Professional Women's Club of Monroe in their plans to observe this week."

The theme for September 28—October 4 (National Business Women's Week) will be "The Ramparts We Build." The women have shown us many times before their capabilities and "Pioneer Qualities" is not just something we would like to have, it is a quality we must all have if America is to continue as a great, free, and Democratic country. The work of this organization—to help build an ever progressing, ever improving country, with both men and women doing their part, should have the support of all. During September 28—October 4, let's all hold to "The Ramparts We Build" so thoroughly that it will carry forward all year and every year.

Mrs. Tommie Carter Is Named To Trustee Board

Mrs. Tommie N. Carter, of the cafeteria at Ouachita Parish Grammar school, has been named a member of the Board of Trustees of the Louisiana School Lunch Employes Retirement system.

A special meeting of this group has been called for October 6 at Baton Rouge, and which Mrs. Carter will attend in her new capacity.

There is at least one mountain peak 20,000 feet tall in the Antarctic continent.

Helen Irwin Says Women Vital To Nation's Economy

This year the National Federation of Business and Professional Women s Clubs celebrates its 25th anniversary of National Business Women's Week, says Helen Irwin, new national president of the National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. Our organization numbers 160,000 members in 2700 clubs located in every state and in Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia. In choosing for our theme this year "The Ramparts We Build," we are concerned with all the ramparts, spiritual, political, military, diplomatic, cultural and economic.

If one of them fails, we shall not succeed, for a chain is only as strong as its weakest link. Naturally, as producers, tax payers, and consumers, we are profoundly concerned with the economic ramparts. In an expanding United States, with a population of more than 156 millions today, and a population expectancy of 175 millions by 1960, we must make certain that there are jobs enough to go around, and that the federal, state and local governments set an example of good management and thrift to our people. The women of America are the main spenders of the family income. They own a sizable share of the privately owned wealth of the country. Some of this money we have earned, and some we have inherited. This is proof of our great stake in the future of our country.

According to Clyde R. Paton, director of engineering for Willys-Overland Motors, women make the final decision in the purchase of 80 per cent of the automobiles bought by individual families.

One of the interesting facts in Looks, comfort and economy are the main consideration.

the annual survey of manufacturers is the large number of people employed in producing the amenities of life. Industries range in size from fewer than 100 persons employed to more than 700,000 at work in the manufacture of motor vehicles and parts. We must work to keep America economically free, to guard our freedom while we make this world a better place in which to live.

Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, head of the Department of Economics at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute Ruston, will be guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's annual bosses' banquet to be held in the Mirror Room, Frances Hotel, Tuesday, September 30th.

If you smell smoke in one of the rooms of your home, do not rush in to investigate. Press the palm of your hand against the door. If it feels hot, head for the nearest quickest exit without delay. Make every effort, of course, to be certain everyone else in the house is aware of the danger.

Northeast Louisiana Artists Form Organization Sunday

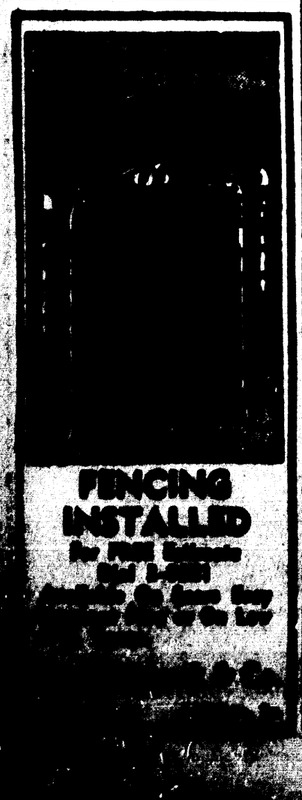

Mrs. R. D. Magruder Elected President; Next Meeting To Be Held Sunday, October 5

The first step towards an organization of Northeast Louisiana artists was taken Sunday when representatives from Monroe, Ruston, Farmerville and other towns converged at the Art Shop and elected a governing body. Among the officers elected were: Mrs. R. D. Magruder, president; Mrs. Ivy Oliver, vice - president; Mr. Sim S. Black, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Smith, recording secretary; Mr. J. V. Spatafora, corresponding secretary. Others present were Mr. H. G. Durgin, V. Marsala, Jack Beard, Mrs. Jack Beard, Laree Holder, Sadie Nelson, Willard C. Carpenter, Mrs. Willard C. Carpenter, Ray Magruder, Charles Copeland and F. G. Koppe.

The functions of this art group will be to stimulate further appreciation in the Northeast Louisiana area through exhibits of both local and national consequence. Part of the arrangement to initiate interest will also include art movies which heretofore have been unknown.

Immediate action is underway to present an exhibit during National Art Week. This impending exhibit will open the first Sunday of November and continue through the following week. Letters will be mailed to some two hundred amateur and professional artists of this territory asking for assistance and support of this first function.

The next meeting will be Sunday, October 5th, at 3:00 p.m. in the studio of the Art Shop, 200 Louisville Ave. Every artist is urged to attend this particular meeting since responsibility for its growth, direction, and eventual success will rest with them alone.

Dr. Dale Oldham Will Appear In Person

The public is cordially invited to attend a special service in the Howard auditorium on the Louisiana Tech campus Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 8 p. m. sponsored by the Ruston Ministerial association.

Dr. Dale Oldham will be the guest speaker. He is pastor of the Park Place Church of God, Anderson, Ind. He is president of the Gospel Trumpet company and is the Christian Brotherhood speaker heard over KMLB each Sunday at 9 a. m.

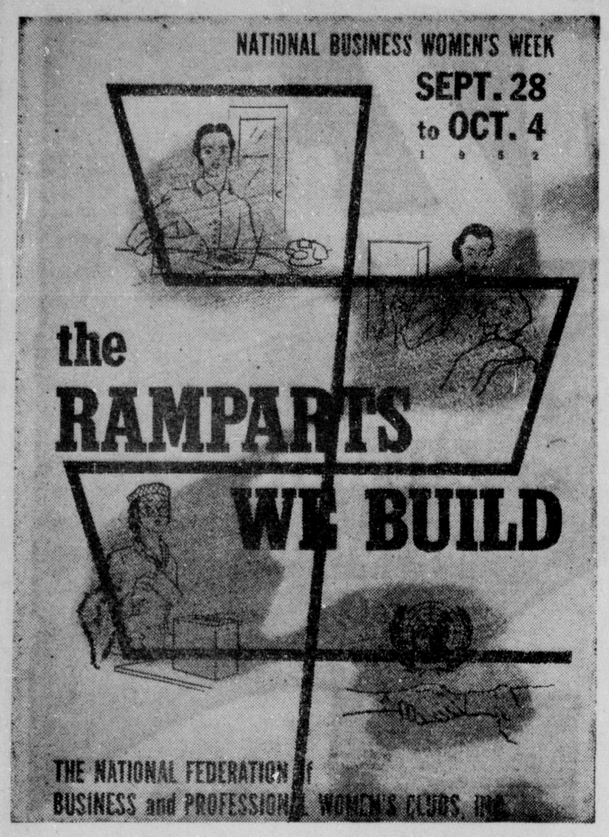

Rev. J. C. Grubbs, local pastor, is a close friend of Reverend Oldham.

Wherever you go you hear people saying...

Women could control the elections in 32 states where there are more women than men of voting age, the organization declares.

National Business Women's Week Is Proclaimed By Mayor

The following proclamation, proclaiming September 28—October 4, 1952 National Business Women's Week, was issued by Mayor John Coon: "To the citizens of Monroe, Louisiana, by virtue of my office I hereby proclaim the week of September 28 — October 4, 1952, National Business Women's Week. I urge the citizens of our town to cooperate with the Business and Professional Women's Club of Monroe in their plans to observe this week."

The theme for September 28—October 4 (National Business Women's Week) will be "The Ramparts We Build." The women have shown us many times before their capabilities and "Pioneer Qualities" is not just something we would like to have, it is a quality we must all have if America is to continue as a great, free, and Democratic country. The work of this organization—to help build an ever progressing, ever improving country, with both men and women doing their part, should have the support of all. During September 28—October 4, let's all hold to "The Ramparts We Build" so thoroughly that it will carry forward all year and every year.

Mrs. Tommie Carter Is Named To Trustee Board

Mrs. Tommie N. Carter, of the cafeteria at Ouachita Parish Grammar school, has been named a member of the Board of Trustees of the Louisiana School Lunch Employes Retirement system.

A special meeting of this group has been called for October 6 at Baton Rouge, and which Mrs. Carter will attend in her new capacity.

There is at least one mountain peak 20,000 feet tall in the Antarctic continent.

Helen Irwin Says Women Vital To Nation's Economy

This year the National Federation of Business and Professional Women s Clubs celebrates its 25th anniversary of National Business Women's Week, says Helen Irwin, new national president of the National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. Our organization numbers 160,000 members in 2700 clubs located in every state and in Hawaii, Alaska and the District of Columbia. In choosing for our theme this year "The Ramparts We Build," we are concerned with all the ramparts, spiritual, political, military, diplomatic, cultural and economic.

If one of them fails, we shall not succeed, for a chain is only as strong as its weakest link. Naturally, as producers, tax payers, and consumers, we are profoundly concerned with the economic ramparts. In an expanding United States, with a population of more than 156 millions today, and a population expectancy of 175 millions by 1960, we must make certain that there are jobs enough to go around, and that the federal, state and local governments set an example of good management and thrift to our people. The women of America are the main spenders of the family income. They own a sizable share of the privately owned wealth of the country. Some of this money we have earned, and some we have inherited. This is proof of our great stake in the future of our country.

According to Clyde R. Paton, director of engineering for Willys-Overland Motors, women make the final decision in the purchase of 80 per cent of the automobiles bought by individual families.

One of the interesting facts in Looks, comfort and economy are the main consideration.

the annual survey of manufacturers is the large number of people employed in producing the amenities of life. Industries range in size from fewer than 100 persons employed to more than 700,000 at work in the manufacture of motor vehicles and parts. We must work to keep America economically free, to guard our freedom while we make this world a better place in which to live.

Dr. Paul T. Hendershot, head of the Department of Economics at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute Ruston, will be guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's annual bosses' banquet to be held in the Mirror Room, Frances Hotel, Tuesday, September 30th.

If you smell smoke in one of the rooms of your home, do not rush in to investigate. Press the palm of your hand against the door. If it feels hot, head for the nearest quickest exit without delay. Make every effort, of course, to be certain everyone else in the house is aware of the danger.

Northeast Louisiana Artists Form Organization Sunday

Mrs. R. D. Magruder Elected President; Next Meeting To Be Held Sunday, October 5

The first step towards an organization of Northeast Louisiana artists was taken Sunday when representatives from Monroe, Ruston, Farmerville and other towns converged at the Art Shop and elected a governing body. Among the officers elected were: Mrs. R. D. Magruder, president; Mrs. Ivy Oliver, vice - president; Mr. Sim S. Black, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Smith, recording secretary; Mr. J. V. Spatafora, corresponding secretary. Others present were Mr. H. G. Durgin, V. Marsala, Jack Beard, Mrs. Jack Beard, Larce Holder, Sadie Nelson, Willard C. Carpenter, Mrs. Willard C. Carpenter, Ray Magruder, Charles Copeland and F. G. Koppe.

The functions of this art group will be to stimulate further appreciation in the Northeast Louisiana area through exhibits of both local and national consequence. Part of the arrangement to initiate interest will also include art movies which heretofore have been unknown.

Immediate action is underway to present an exhibit during National Art Week. This impending exhibit will open the first Sunday of November and continue through the following week. Letters will be mailed to some two hundred amateur and professional artists of this territory asking for assistance and support of this first function.

The next meeting will be Sunday. October 5th, at 3:00 p.m. in the studio of the Art Shop, 309 Louisville Ave. Every artist is urged to attend this particular meeting since responsibility for its growth, direction, and eventual success will rest with them alone.

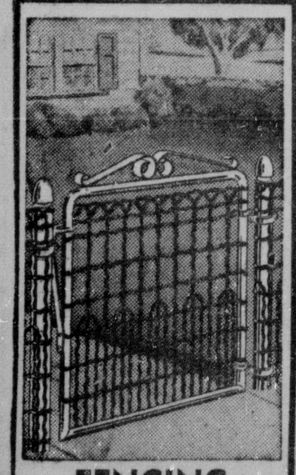

Membership in this formulation group includes amateur and students as well as professionals. There are no restrictions of age or limit of members. Only serious intent, and a desire to bring to our community an aesthetic appreciation before unknown within the radius of northeast Louisiana.

Dr. Dale Oldham Will Appear In Person

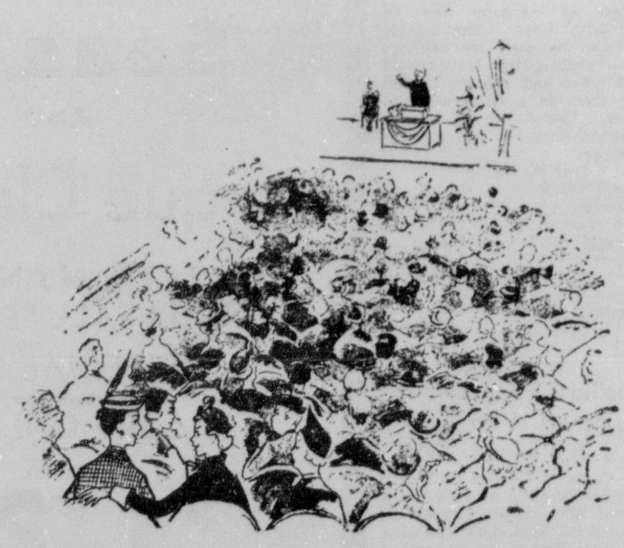

The public is cordially invited to attend a special service in the Howard auditorium on the Louisiana Tech campus Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 8 p. m. sponsored by the Ruston Ministerial association.

Dr. Dale Oldham will be the guest speaker. He is pastor of the Park Place Church of God, Anderson, Ind. He is president of the Gospel Trumpet company and is the Christian Brotherhood speaker heard over KMLB each Sunday at 8 a. m.

Rev. J. C. Grubbs, local paster, is a close friend of Reverend Oldham.

Barkdull-Faulk P.-T. A. Has September Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Barkdull - Faulk P.-T. A. was held at 3:00 o'clock on Thursday, September 18th, presided over by its president, Mrs. Edgar Powell.

The meeting opened with a prayer given by Mrs. B. B. Gates. The by-laws and objects of the P.-T. A. were read by Mrs. Frances Chaney.

A motion was made and unanimously carried that the by-laws of the Barkdull - Faulk P.-T. A. be changed so as to have each regular meeting of the P.-T. A. on the third Thursday of each month instead of the second Thursday of each month.

The highlight of the meeting and the principal speaker was Miss Mae Coker, principal.

A letter from the Ouachita parish health department requesting an appointment of a representative to serve on the Ouachita Parish Health Council for the year was read to the assembly by Mrs. Clyde Butler. Mrs. Pete Battaglia volunteered to attend the first meeting of the year held on September 22, 1952.

September 23rd and 24th were designated as visitation days for the teachers of Barkdull-Faulk to visit in the homes of their pupils.

All parents were requested to comply with the request of Chief of Police M. L. Peters not to park their automobiles on the east side of Gordon Avenue — the side next to the school. This ordinance will be strictly enforced by the police department and the cooperation of all parents driving to the school will be appreciated.

Subscriptions to the P.-T. A. magazine at $1.25 per year were urged and Mrs. W. M. Crow in charge of publications will be glad to send in the subscriptions of all those who are interested.

Mrs. Faye Wilson's first grade room won the trophy for having the largest attendance of parents.

Mrs. W. E. Andrews, hospitality chairman, served refreshments following the meeting.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF A. A. S. W. MEETS WITH MISS EVA SMITH

The Monroe-Tallulah Chapel, American Association of Social Workers, met Thursday evening in the home of Miss Eva Smith.

Minutes were read and reports of committee chairmen were heard.

Mrs. Nelda Fleniken, publications chairman, presented tentative plans for a regional meeting scheduled in Dallas, Tex., early in October. Three delegates from the local chapter were selected to attend this meeting: Miss Alma Ruth Hale of Tallulah, Miss Eva Smith and Mrs. Sara Kennon.

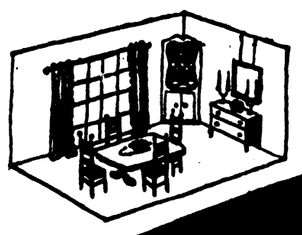

Miss Elizabeth Kehr, whose engagement was recently announced, was welcomed with a corsage of sweetheart roses. After an introduction by Miss Jean Bonham, program chairman, Miss Kehr gave the talk of the evening. Her subject, "Some Highlights in the Development of Our Profession," brought out significant trends in social welfare over a period of years. Afterward Miss Kehr talked informally of her wedding plans. Since she will be dividing her time between Tallulah and Lake Charles after her marriage, the group reluctantly bade Miss Kehr goodbye.

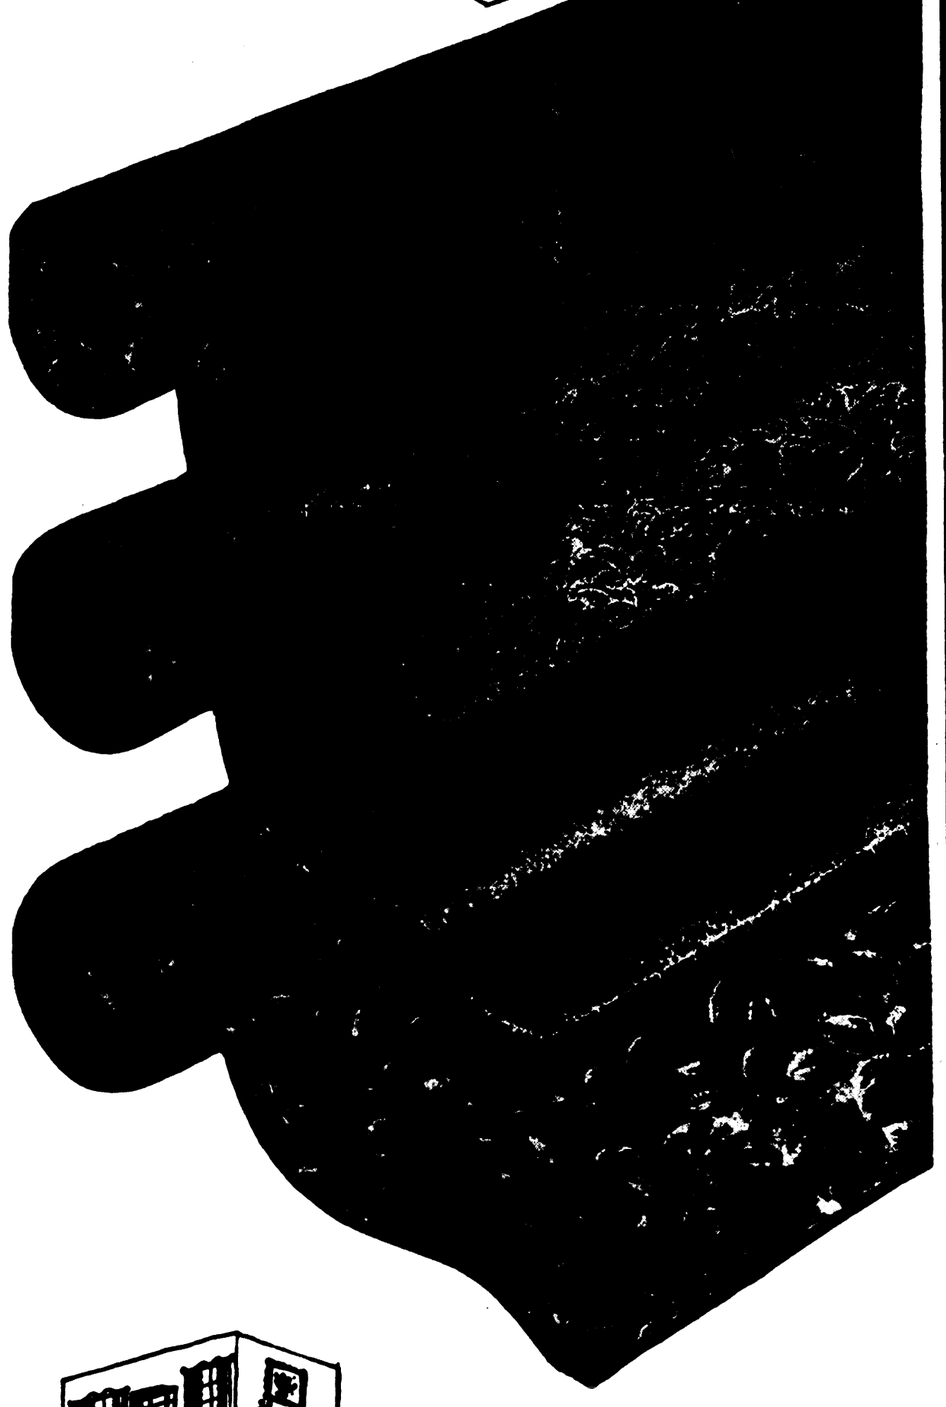

Mrs. Eddie Blackard of Bastrop, a valued member, was welcomed after an absence of several months.

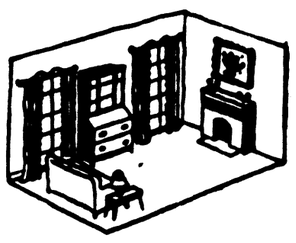

When the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served to the following: Miss Ovelle Thomas, Mrs. Nelda Fleniken, Mrs. Lena T. Martin, Mrs. Sara Kennon, Miss Jean Bonham, Mrs. Katherine Woodley, Mrs. Eddie Blackard of Bastrop, Miss Alma Ruth Hale and Miss Elizabeth Kehr of Tallulah by the hostess, Miss Smith.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Love of Linville who celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, September 7th. Three of their five children and four of their eight grandchildren were with them.

Miss Barbara Kahn Is Bride Of Doyle Raborn

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service In Lovely Home Ceremony

A ceremony of simplicity and dignity in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lanier on Saturday, August 30th united in marriage Miss Barbara Kahn, daughter of Mrs. Clara Kahn and Mr. M. B. Kahn, and Doyle Raborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Raborn, of Goldonna. The wedding was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The guests present were limited to close relatives and friends of the couple.

The Rev. Daniel Stafford of the First Church of the Nazarene in Monroe read the ceremony in front of the fireplace before which had been placed an altar of snow whits. Huge twin Boston ferns were placed on either side of the fireplace. Beautiful and rare ginger daisies were placed at vantage points.

Preceding the entry of the bridal party "To A Water Lily" by Edward McDowell was played by Miss Esther Quigley, close friend of the bride. Miss McCormick played the traditional Lohengren's Wedding March for the processional and sang "O, Promise Me" by Clement Scott at the close of the ceremony. She was again accompanied by Miss Quigley.

The petite, brunette bride was lovely in her navy and white two piece suit of faille cloth with navy accessories. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Rheta Kahn. She was attired in soft silk of floral design with red accessories. Mr. Raborn had for best man Mr. Gary Smith.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was given with Mrs. Jack Lanier, Mrs. Alson Smith, Mrs. Victor Irby and Mrs. H. T. Whitman as hostesses. The beautiful three - tiered wedding cake, surrounded by white roses, white double bells and greenery formed the centerpiece of the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth. Pictures were taken as Mr. and Mrs. Raborn cut their wedding cake. Mrs. Victor Irby and Mrs. Alson Smith alternated at the punch bowl while Mrs. Lanier served the cake.

The bride was graduated from Ouachita Parish High School in May of 1952 and is employed by a finance company as a stenographer.

Mr. Raborn graduated from Calvin High School and is employed at the West Monroe post office.

The couple left almost immediately for a short wedding trip. They are making their home at 509 Clayton street in West Monroe.

College Heights Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Walter Knapp

Mrs. H. G. Thompson Is Guest Speaker At September Meeting

Members of the College Heights Garden Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Walter E. Knapp on Spurgeon Drive.

Mrs. George Levert, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. H. G. Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson gave a very interesting talk on planting bulbs and preparing the yard for the year's work. She said in part: "When planning your garden, plan it according to own ability to keep. Soil must have a good foundation to produce nice blooms in the spring. First you should weed the beds and work them well, then fertilize either with manure, cotton seed hulls or bond mill. These fertilizers should decay before the plants can use them. Take our old annuals, trim Iris, take our ugly limbs in shrubs, however, do not prune spring blooming shrubs. For color in early spring plant poppies, phlox, larkspur, sweet peas, and calendula (bloom by Thanksgiving and Christmas). If limited for time and labor, select plants that take least care. In buying bulbs be guided by yard and effect you want. Bulbs do well here, plant them twice depth of bulb, except amaryllis, do not plant too deep as they want their nose out. Plant tulips (finest come from Holland) around 1st of November. If you do not have a bed for them, put them in clumps among shrubs. Plant Dutch iris, daffodils (finest come from Oregon), daylilies are easy to grow. It is also time to plant pansies and plant petunias in bulb bed. Fancy leaf caladium will stand heat, plant in spring after danger of frost. Fertilize daffodils as soon as they quit blooming."

Mrs. Paul Keller and Mrs. J. O. Finley were welcomed as new members. Resignations were read from Mrs. S. L. Williams, Mrs. E. L. Mitchell and Mrs. Paul Peck.

The hostess then served refreshmenst to Mrs. Alfred Brin, Mr. F. Cannon, Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap, Mrs. J. R. Kirby, Mrs. Culbert Lee, Mrs. G. W. Levert, Mrs. C. R. Peterson, Mrs. Vann Pratt, Mrs. E. C. Rowan, Mrs. W. V. Roy, Mrs. H. F. Shepard, Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. J. O. Finley, Mrs. Paul Keller, Mrs. Mary Florence Roy of Nashville, Tenn. and Mrs. Thompson.

St. Anne's Circle To Sponsor Book Review

Monsignor John Marsh To Review 'The Biography Of A Cathedral' Tuesday Evening

On Tuesday evening, September 30, at 7:30 in the Meeting Room of the St. Matthew's Gymnasium-Auditorium, Monsignor John C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic Church, will review the book, "The Biography of a Cathedral." This book review is being sponsored by St. Anne's Circle, and the public is cordially invited.

"The Biography of a Cathedral" was written by Robert Gordan Anderson. Mr. Anderson was born in New Jersey, was a student of the New York University, class of 1902. He studied abroad for several years and was later identified with various newspapers as reporter and columnist; with publishing houses as Sales and Promotion Manager and as Literary Advisor. He was the author of several books with the "Biography of a Cathedral" being published in 1944. Mr. Anderson also contributed to magazines and was collaborator on several well known books. He died on September 25th, 1950.

"The Biography of a Cathedral" is the story of Notre Dame de Paris, covering the whole history of the Cathedral from 52 BC to 1230 AD, with a short final chapter in the twentieth century. It is a story of universal interest with a world-wide theme, the story of man's most beautiful creation, with glimpses through the centuries of the pageant that lead to Notre Dame.

It is an excellent book evidently written with both a labor of love and a hymn of love, addressed to a great Church, a great city and a great civilization. It is a panorama of religion, history, philosophy and art, filled with absorbing detail and blended to make a tapestry of the life around and about the great Cathedral.

A. L. Smith P.-T. A. Meets In Sterlington

The Parent Teachers Association of A. L. Smith School Sterlington held their first meeting Sept. 18th at 7:30 P. M. in the school cafeteria.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Love of Linville who celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, September 7th. Three of their five children and four of their eight grandchildren were with them.

Miss Barbara Kahn Is Bride Of Doyle Raborn

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service In Lovely Home Ceremony

A ceremony of simplicity and dignity in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lanier on Saturday, August 30th united in marriage Miss Barbara Kahn, daughter of Mrs. Clara Kahn and Mr. M. B. Kahn, and Doyle Raborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Raborn, of Golddonna. The wedding was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The guests present were limited to close relatives and friends of the couple.

The Rev. Daniel Stafford of the First Church of the Nazarene in Monroe read the ceremony in front of the fireplace before which had been placed an altar of snow white. Huge twin Boston ferns were placed on either side of the fireplace. Beautiful and rare ginger daisies were placed at vantage points.

Preceding the entry of the bridal party "To A Water Lily" by Edward McDowell was played by Miss Esther Quigley, close friend of the bride. Miss McCormick played the traditional Lohengren's Wedding March for the processional and sang "O, Promise Me" by Clement Scott at the close of the ceremony. She was again accompanied by Miss Quigley.

The petite, brunette bride was lovely in her navy and white two piece suit of faille cloth with navy accessories. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Rheta Kahn. She was attired in soft silk of floral design with red accessories. Mr. Raborn had for best man Mr. Gary Smith.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was given with Mrs. Jack Lanier, Mrs. Alson Smith, Mrs. Victor Irby and Mrs. H. T. Whitman as hostesses. The beautiful three - tiered wedding cake, surrounded by white roses, white double bells and greenery formed the centerpiece of the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth. Pictures were taken as Mr. and Mrs. Raborn cut their wedding cake. Mrs. Victor Irby and Mrs. Alson Smith alternated at the punch bowl while Mrs. Lanier served the cake.

The bride was graduated from Ouachita Parish High School in May of 1952 and is employed by a finance company as a stenographer.

Mr. Raborn graduated from Calvin High School and is employed at the West Monroe post office.

The couple left almost immediately for a short wedding trip. They are making their home at 509 Clayton street in West Monroe.

Mr. And Mrs. R. L. Love Have Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Love of Linville, Louisiana celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, September 7th.

There were three of their five children present. Mrs. Horace Houser of El Dorado, Arkansas, Mrs. Bess Reagan of El Dorado, Arkansas and Mrs. F. H. Reagan Sr. of West Monroe, Louisiana. Also celebrating with them were four of their eight grandchildren.

Punch and cake was served by two of their granddaughters. Miss Patsy Reagan of West Monroe served punch and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis of West Monroe served cake. Others assisting in the courtesies of the house were F. H. Reagan Jr. and Ginger Lee Reagan.

A host of relatives and friends called between the hours of two and five o'clock.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Recent Bride

Mrs. Howard Johnson bride of recent date was honored with a surprise shower in the home of Mrs. James W. Hammond. Co-hostess on this occassion was the mother of the bride Mrs. V. A. Hattaway.

Purple and white bachelor buttons and dwarf zinnias were artfully arranged through the house. Many lovely and useful gifts were received by Mrs. Johnson. A number of interesting games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. C. H. Cruse, Mrs. James Poston, and Mrs. Conway Boyd. who graciously presented them to Mrs. Johnson.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cruse, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boatwright, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hattaway, Mrs. Gayle Albright, Mrs. Ruby Scott, Mrs. Robert Rhone, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. Conway Boyd, Mrs. Billie Poston, Mrs. Lillian Poston, Mrs. Steve Pellegrino, Mrs. James Poston, Miss Aline Cruse, Faye Poston, Verna Hazelton, Norma Johnson, Wynona Boatwright, Rosie Pellegrino, Maurine Rhone, Patricia Ann Hattaway, and the hostess Mrs. James W. Hammond.

LOVELY SEPTEMBER BRIDE

Also present to enjoy the day were Mrs. Holland and Joan who were visiting from New York. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Meredith and Mrs. Rosa Robinson.

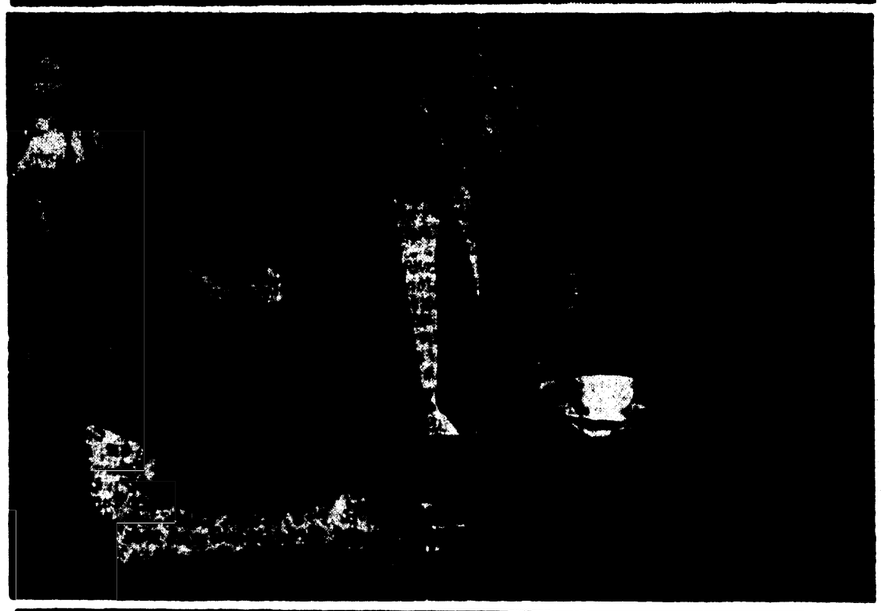

Never scrub a pile upholstery fabric like corduroy, velvet or velour. You will only mat the surface, Much more satisfactory results will be achieved if you brush the fabric, against the nap, with a wet brush when it is almost dry.

Since most rugs are inclined to sprout loose ends of yarn occasionally, be prepared to clip the sprouts even with the surface, using sharp scissors. Never pull.

Reception Honors New Members Of Northeast State Faculty

Newcomers to the Northeast State faculty and staff were honor guests at an informal reception given Sunday by President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater. Scenes above show groups of new members of the college personnel, their husbands and wives, mingling with those who have been at Northeast State long enough to feel at home. Upper left picture includes Miss Frances Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Homer S. Chilton, Mrs. E. J. Upshaw, Mrs. Jerry Rust, Mr. Lorain Mixon and Mrs. James Frank Monroe. In upper right photo, President Slater points to a tree as he tells an interesting story about woodpeckers which had taken possession of it. Listeners include Miss Lelia Mae King, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, Mr. Hollis W. Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. John Howard McCarter. Lower left scene reveals a trio engrossed in conservation, Mrs. Dorothy Younse, Mr. Harry Richard Sullivan, a new member of the English faculty, and Mrs. Sullivan, an alumna of the college when it was a junior institution. Lower right photo shows a group chatting in the entrance hall. They include Mr. Howard W. Morton, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. Ernest Duncan Holloway, Miss May Read, Dr. Holloway and Mrs. Louise Gray Lemert. Lexington Avenue P.T.A. Has First Meeting Of Year

One hundred seventy-two parents, from an enrollment of two hundred fifty-three pupils, attended the first meeting of the Lexington Avenue P.-T. A. at 7:30 on Thursday evening. Mrs. H. V. Brady, president, presided. Reports were heard from committee chairmen, and Mrs. Brady announced that Mrs. E. G. Heller and Mrs. G. L. Morgan would represent Lexington School as delegates to the First District P.-T. A. meeting on October 7, which will be held at 9 a.m. at the new Logstown School. Mrs. Val Nichols and Mrs. Dick Dean will also represent the school by participating on the program at that time. Membership prizes were awarded to Mrs. George Riser, teacher of the second grade, and Mrs. Mary Pevey, fifth grade teacher, whose pupils had the highest number of parents registered as members of the P.-T. A. Attendance prizes for the evening going to these teachers who had the highest number of pupils' parents present for the evening were awarded to Mrs. Bob Burns, first grade teacher, and to Mrs. Frances Rammonds, fourth grade teacher.

Mrs. W. L. Lee, program chairman, introduced Mrs. E. C. Trousdale, who rendered two lovely songs, "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and "Sweet Violets." She was accompanied by Mrs. J. K. Bentley, also the introduced Mrs. C. E. Slade, Sr., P.-T. A. member, Mr. Van Odom, superintendent of schools, Mr. Wayne Huckaby, the commissioner of streets and parks, Mr. Tom Scott, chairman of the school board, and Miss Rosa Belle McDonald, principal of Lexington School, who formed a panel, with Mr. Walter Schubert as mediator, to discuss the policies, aims, and needs of the school. Each of the participants heard and answered most graciously all questions from the floor. Of particular interest to those present was Mr. Huckaby's statement that, although the hard-surfacing of streets leading to the school could not be considered until April, 1953, the beginning of the city's fiscal year, the city would provide as a temporary measure the covering of the streets with washed gravel. He also stated that he was confident there would be no drainage problem for the school, as that problem had been anticipated and taken care of. In discussing the maintenance of the school, the parents enthusiastically complimented the way the cafeteria was being handled and the excellent food being served the children.

The next meeting will be a Halloween frolic to take place at the school on Halloween night. All parents were urged to attend this event with their children.

The New Louisiana Auto Law becomes effective October 1st : : :

Let the Good Hands of Allstate

Protect Your Right to Drive!

Your driver's license, your auto registration—in fact, your savings and other property—may be at stake in case you are involved in an auto accident after the Louisiana Safety Responsibility Law becomes effective October 1st.

But you need not risk such a loss. Allstate Auto Insurance can make your position safe!

Founded by Sears, Roebuck and Co., Allstate Insurance Company is famous for the substantial dividend savings it has always returned to policyholders, and for fair, fast claim settlements without quibbling or red tape.

See the friendly Allstate Agent in your nearest Sears store. He'll be glad to explain the provisions of the new law and show you how completely Allstate will protect your driving privileges and safeguard you up to the full limits of your policy against loss from judgments resulting from an auto accident.

Don't buy auto insurance blind! Compare Allstate now—feature by feature—and you'll see why it will pay to let the Good Hands of Allstate protect your property—and your right to drive.

Here's What the New Auto Law Means to You
Brief Facts About the New Safety Responsibility Law

If you are the driver of a car involved in an accident causing injury or death of others or damage over $100 to another's property, even though you may not be at fault in the accident, you MUST

1. Deposit security in the form and amount required by the State up to $11,000, or
2. Prove to the satisfaction of the State that your car was legally parked or was being driven by another person without your consent at the time of the accident, or
3. Furnish satisfactory evidence to the State that you have settled all claims, or have been released from liability, or finally adjudicated not liable, or have executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for installment payments, or
4. Show that you were insured at the time of the accident by an authorized company such as Allstate for Bodily Injury Liability limits of at least $5,000 for injury or death of one person and $10,000 for two or more persons, and Property Damage Liability limits of at least $1,000.

If you can't comply with at least one of these requirements, your driver's license and car registration in your name will be suspended.

Plans with flat bottoms will stand steady on the stove. Check handles to see if they are securely fastened, so they won't loosen or turn when you lift a hot pan.

LOUISIANA BEAUTY ENTERTAINED

Miss Barbara Barker, "Miss Louisiana of 1952," is shown above with her mother, Mrs. Rex C. Barker, during their recent visit to New York City following the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N. J. They visited the Esso Touring Service Office and secured information about the big city. During their stay they were entertained by Vice-President Cecil Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, a former Louisianian and manager of the Baton Rouge, La., Esso Refinery.

Meet the beautiful new version of the fabulous "Chateau" . . . the shoe beloved by millions of smart women. Its gently curved lines are graceful and flattering on your foot. And its unusually fine-fitting qualities make it a shoe to love . . . and live in.

HOLDS CORONATION SERVICE

Shown above is a group of young people of Ridge Avenue Baptist church, West Monroe, in a special service sponsored by the W. M. U. of the church. Four of the group have world maps. They are stressing the need of the gospel in every land. Adult leaders of the youth group are Mrs. J. E. Muckleray, Mrs. John Pittman and Mrs. Myrtle Smith.

MRS. EARL STOVALL HOSTESS AT MEETING OF CURRENT LITERATURE CLUB

Regular meeting of the Current Literature Club was held September 24, in the home of Mrs. Earl Stovall, 407 Louisville Avenue.

The meeting was opened with the club collect led by the president Mrs. Buddy Tolson.

Bailey reviewed Marguerite Allis' book, "Now We Are Free". Ashbel Field, the most outstanding character in the book, learned "that freedom is not to be bought as a coat, but must be continually fought for if it is to survive."

Members enjoying the program and the hospitality of the hostess were: Mesdames Z. C. Ambrose, R. B. Bailey Leon Dennis, L. M Frey, G. M. Heidenreich, E. A. Porter, Jr., T. E. Regan, George Rietze, Buddy Tolson, W. O. Webb, and W. A. Whitfield, Jr.

JUSTICE IS BLIND—First blind judge to be inducted into office in the history of Puerto Rico is Victor Perez-Collazo, who presides over the San Juan Municipal Night Court. His eyesight began failing when he was in high school. He became a farmer and studied law on the side, taking his degree at the University of Puerto Rico in 1951. He went to Morristown, N. J., where the Seeing Eye Foundation provided him with the guide dog Tuck, who now accompanies him.

Mayor Davis Asking For Game Warden

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27.—(Special)—Mayor L. Woodrow Davis, of Ferriday, president of the Concordia parish Wildlife Association said Thursday that he was requesting that the police jury assist in putting on at least one game warden during the hunting season.

Davis said that the association would contribute $500, with funds to be matched by the jury, to defray expenss. The police jury unanimously agreed to this.

The squirrel season opens October 3. Luther Denham, police juror, asked that the Louisiana Conservation Department be requested to close all hunting in the parish until heavy rains had fallen in the parish in order to prevent a fire catastrophe such as happened here last November.

To amuse a youngster who may be sick in bed, provide a bowl of soap bubbles and a wooden pipe. They are harmless and won't stain.

If you are upholstering a chair at home, choose foam rubber for the seat portion. It is wonderfully comfortable and easy to keep clean.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Room Service," Little Theatre's comedy of situation, the 1952-53 season opener, passed the half way mark this week. As very often happens in the business of Little Theatre there has been a replacement in the cast. Bill Anthony, who claimed one of the leading roles, is moving from our fair city for some place in Texas, I understand, and has been replaced in the cast by N. L. Moncrief, local optometrist.

John Savage, who has been missing for the last four rehearsals because of business reasons, will be back on stage for Monday nights rehearsal. Friday evening found stage manager Gene Ritter out to look the situation over, as well as porperty ladies Roberta Guion and Barbara Addison. When all the back stage workers start ganging up on the scene things are really beginning to hum.

Other things have been happening out Little Theatre way. You wouldn't believe it, because I had to look twice to be convinced, but the playhouse seating capacity has been increased from 112 to 135, to take care of this years increase in membership. Board member Lallage Feazel presented the playhouse with four pair of beautiful linen drapes for the auditorium windows to replace the ones that have been hanging for the past three years.

RANDOM NOTES . . . We are just a week late in reporting, but Lon and Martha Heuer are the proud parents of an eight pound two - ounce baby girl, born in the wee hours of Saturday the 26th. Martha and the baby will join Lon in New Orleans where he is serving as Lt. (jg) Heuer in the Navy, within a month . . . Henry Haas, Jr., tells us that wife Roz has been pretty popular since he has been tied up rehearsing for "Room Service." She and Julius Cahn have been haunting the library hunting up new ideas for parties. That sounds interesting . . . Board member Lallage Feazel and her mother leave today for a fall vacation in New York . . . little Theatre's Beth Breeze will interview the Carrier Boy of the Year, Billy Miller and his mother on her popular "Beth Breese Show" next Friday morning at 9 A.M. over KNOE. Billy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller won first place in competition with more than fifty other boys and has been so honored because of his business management and sales ability. He is a junior at Neville High School . . . Fleta Latham relayed the following story which is of interest. She tells me about a group of players called "The Shadow Players" in Los Angeles, who are totally blind. Their performance of Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak" was the smash hit of California's Annual Anta Monterey Drama festival. According to the critics it would be a top attraction at anybodys boxoffice. Fleta says the actors block the stage off mentally in first rehearsal and their seeing eye dogs are permitted to help them right at first however thereafter they are first row audience and only let out a bark when one of their masters is about to colide with a piece of furniture. These group of ambitious players are another worthy Lion project . . . With that we'll say its "Curtain Call" for today see you again on Monday.

RIVER SPAN HAS ITS TOLLS OFF

FERRIDAY, Sept, 27 (Special)—The Natches-Vidalia bridge across the Mississppi river was freed of all tools at midnight Thursday, and from now on all motorists and pedestrians may use the bridge at no cost.

The decision to free the bridge was made by the Natchez-Vidalia bridge commission. Freedom thus came in the early morning hours of the twelfth anniversary of the opening of the span to traffic under toll conditions.

A gigantic celebration hailing freedom of the bridge was held on Friday with a street parade at 10:50 o'clock a. m. in Natchez. Ribbon-cutting, signing of contracts with the states of Mississippi and Louisiana and other events took place at the bridge at 11 a. m.

When this event was concluded the celebration continued in Vidalia. Freeing of the bridge ended the present public careers of bridge commission members with the exception of Mayor Walter P. Abbett of Natchez, the chairman, who will continue to serve as mayor of the city.

Commission members who went off the job at midnight when tolls were lifted Thursday night were: Charles E. Ratliffe, William J. Byrne, C. C. Goetz, William Stein and W. H. Berdon.

BARNACLES GET ATTENTION

BEAUFORT, N. C. (AP)—Barnacles, a major problem of the shipping industry are undergoing a scientific study at the Duke University Marine Laboratory to discover the secrets of their growth.

Barnacles which attach themselves to plastic panels hung beneath the laboratory boat dock are used in the experiment. The barnacles are then transferred to the laboratory and placed in special solutions which contain tiny enecelled plants or animals. Dr. C. G. Bookhout is studying the effect of the different foods on the barnacles growth and moulting cycle.

Barnacles now must be removed from ships by scraping after the ship has been dry-docked, a process which costs millions of dollars annually.

Men are five times as likely to be color blind as are women.

WOMAN IS FOREMAN

DALLAS (AP)— The foreman of an assembly line in a defense plant here is dainty and dimpled and sometimes wears slacks, a blouse and open-toed shoes.

The foreman is Miss Bonnie Simmons and she presides over the 85-person assembly line at Collins Radio Co. Right now she's boss-man over all women but company officials say men will be integrated into the operations in the near future.

Miss Simmons, 5 feet 2 and weighing 110, began working for the company 10 years ago in Cedar Rapids, Ia., and was transferred here over a year ago.

Plans with flat bottoms will stand steady on the stove. Check handles to see if they are securely fastened, so they won't loosen or turn when you lift a hot pan.

HOLDS CORONATION SERVICE

Shown above is a group of young people of Ridge Avenue Baptist church, West Monroe, in a special service sponsored by the W. M. U. of the church. Four of the group have world maps. They are stressing the need of the gospel in every land. Adult leaders of the youth group are Mrs. J. E. Muckleray, Mrs. John Pittman and Mrs. Myrtle Smith.

LOUISIANA BEAUTY ENTERTAINED

Miss Barbara Barker, "Miss Louisiana of 1952," is shown above with her mother, Mrs. Rex C. Barker, during their recent visit to New York City following the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N. J. They visited the Esso Touring Service Office and secured information about the big city. During their stay they were entertained by Vice-President Cecil Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, a former Louisianian and manager of the Baton Rouge, La., Esso Refinery.

Meet the beautiful new version of the fabulous "Chateau" . . . the shoe beloved by millions of smart women. Its gently curved lines are graceful and flattering on your foot. And its unusually fine-fitting qualities make it a shoe to love . . . and live in.

MRS. EARL STOVALL HOSTESS AT MEETING OF CURRENT LITERATURE CLUB

Regular meeting of the Current Literature Club was held September 24, in the home of Mrs. Earl Stovall, 407 Louisville Avenue.

The meeting was opened with the club collect led by the president Mrs. Buddy Tolson.

Program chairman, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, introduced the speakers. Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr. gave "A Constitution Framed For Ages to Come"; and Mrs. R. B. Bailey reviewed Marguerite Allis' book, "Now We Are Free". Ashbel Field, the most outstanding character in the book, learned "that freedom is not to be bought as a coat, but must be continually fought for if it is to survive."

Members enjoying the program and the hospitality of the hostess were: Mesdames Z. C. Ambrose, R. B. Bailey, Leon Dennis, L. M Frey, G. M. Heidenreich, E. A. Porter, Jr., T. E. Regan, George Rietze, Buddy Tolson, W. O. Webb, and W. A. Whitfield, Jr.

JUSTICE IS BLIND—First blind judge to be inducted into office in the history of Puerto Rico is Victor Pares-Collazo, who presides over the San Juan Municipal Night Court. His eyesight began failing when he was in high school. He became a farmer and studied law on the side, taking his degree at the University of Puerto Rico in 1951. He went to Morristown, N. J., where the Seeing Eye Institution provided him with the guide dog Tuck, who goes everywhere with him.

Mayor Davis Asking For Game Warden

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27.—(Special)—Mayor L. Woodrow Davis, of Ferriday, president of the Concordia parish Wildlife Association said Thursday that he was requesting that the police jury assist in putting on at least one game warden during the hunting season.

Davis said that the association would contribute $500, with funds to be matched by the jury, to defray expenss. The police jury unanimously agreed to this.

The squirrel season opens October 3. Luther Denham, police juror, asked that the Louisiana Conservation Department be requested to close all hunting in the parish until heavy rains had fallen in the parish in order to prevent a fire catastrophe such as happened here last November.

To amuse a youngster who may be sick in bed, provide a bowl of soap bubbles and a wooden pipe. They are harmless and won't stain.

If you are upholstering a chair at home, choose foam rubber for the seat portion. It is wonderfully comfortable and easy to keep clean.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Room Service," Little Theatre's comedy of situation, the 1952-53 season opener, passed the half way mark this week. As very often happens in the business of Little Theatre there has been a replacement in the cast. Bill Anthony, who claimed one of the leading roles, is moving from our fair city for some place in Texas, I understand, and has been replaced in the cast by N. L. Moncrief, local optometrist.

John Savage, who has been missing for the last four rehearsals because of business reasons, will be back on stage for Monday nights rehearsal. Friday evening found stage manager Gene Ritter out to look the situation over, as well as porperty ladies Roberta Guion and Barbara Addison. When all the back stage workers start ganging up on the scene things are really beginning to hum.

Other things have been happening out Little Theatre way. You wouldn't believe it, because I had to look twice to be convinced, but the playhouse seating capacity has been increased from 112 to 135, to take care of this years increase in membership. Board member Lallage Feazel presented the playhouse with four pair of beautiful linen drapes for the auditorium windows to replace the ones that have been hanging for the past three years.

RANDOM NOTES . . . We are just a week late in reporting, but Lon and Martha Heuer are the proud parents of an eight pound two - ounce baby girl, born in the wee hours of Saturday the 26th. Martha and the baby will join Lon in New Orleans where he is serving as Lt. (jg) Heuer in the Navy, within a month . . . Henry Haas, Jr., tells us that wife Roz has been pretty popular since he has been tied up rehearsing for "Room Service." She and Julius Cahn have been haunting the library hunting up new ideas for parties. That sounds interesting . . . Board member Lallage Feazel and her mother leave today for a fall vacation in New York . . . little Theatre's Beth Breeze will interview the Carrier Boy of the Year, Billy Miller and his mother on her popular "Beth Breese Show" next Friday morning at 9 A.M. over KNOE. Billy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller won first place in competition with more than fifty other boys and has been so honored because of his business management and sales ability. He is a junior at Neville High School . . . Fleta Latham relayed the following story which is of interest. She tells me about a group of players called "The Shadow Players" in Los Angeles, who are totally blind. Their performance of Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak" was the smash hit of California's Annual Anta Monterey Drama festival. According to the critics it would be a top attraction at anybodys boxoffice. Fleta says the actors block the stage off mentally in first rehearsal and their seeing eye dogs are permitted to help them right at first however thereafter they are first row audience and only let out a bark when one of their masters is about to colide with a piece of furniture. These group of ambitious players are another worthy Lion project . . . With that we'll say its "Curtain Call" for today see you again on Monday.

RIVER SPAN HAS ITS TOLLS OFF

FERRIDAY, Sept, 27 (Special)—The Natches-Vidalia bridge across the Mississppi river was freed of all tools at midnight Thursday, and from now on all motorists and pedestrians may use the bridge at no cost.

The decision to free the bridge was made by the Natchez-Vidalia bridge commission. Freedom thus came in the early morning hours of the twelfth anniversary of the opening of the span to traffic under toll conditions.

A gigantic celebration hailing freedom of the bridge was held on Friday with a street parade at 10:50 o'clock a. m. in Natchez. Ribbon-cutting, signing of contracts with the states of Mississippi and Louisiana and other events took place at the bridge at 11 a. m.

When this event was concluded the celebration continued in Vidalia. Freeing of the bridge ended the present public careers of bridge commission members with the exception of Mayor Walter P. Abbett of Natchez, the chairman, who will continue to serve as mayor of the city.

Commission members who went off the job at midnight when tolls were lifted Thursday night were: Charles E. Ratliffe, William J. Byrne, C. C. Goetz, William Stein and W. H. Berdon.

BARNACLES GET ATTENTION

BEAUFORT, N. C. (AP)—Barnacles, a major problem of the shipping industry are undergoing a scientific study at the Duke University Marine Laboratory to discover the secrets of their growth.

Barnacles which attach themselves to plastic panels hung beneath the laboratory boat dock are used in the experiment. The barnacles are then transferred to the laboratory and placed in special solutions which contain tiny one-celled plants or animals. Dr. C. G. Bookhout is studying the effect of the different foods on the barnacles growth and moulting cycle.

Barnacles now must be removed from ships by scraping after the ship has been dry-docked, a process which costs millions of dollars annually.

Men are five times as likely to be color blind as are women.

WOMAN IS FOREMAN

DALLAS (AP)— The foreman of an assembly line in a defense plant here is dainty and dimpled and sometimes wears slacks, a blouse and open-toed shoes.

The foreman is Miss Bonnie Simmons and she presides over the 85-person assembly line at Collins Radio Co. Right now she's boss-man over all women but company officials say men will be integrated into the operations in the near future.

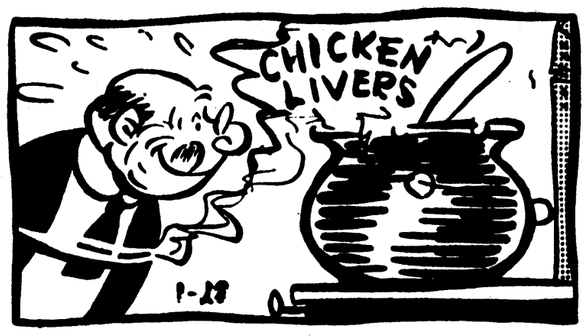

Miss Simmons, 5 feet 2 and weighing 110, began working for the company 10 years ago in Cedar Rapids, Ia., and was transferred here over a year ago.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER
(Chief Skilleteer)

New Orleans Sazeracs Give Conventioneers Big Treat

Chicago at Convention time was an interesting place, and of course newspapers which conduct Skillet Club chapters were well represented. For fourteen of them, we had a quiet clinic of a Sunday morning, and here's what we did to them, starting about 1 p.m. with breakfast. Sunday breakfast is a favorite time for the Skilleteer to express himself in no uncertain terms, and any or all of the following will help to bring about this desired consummation.

We start with New Orleans Sazeracs — an old-fashioned glass for each, into which we put 2 dashes simple (sugar) syrup; 4 dashes Peychaud bitters; 1 dash Angostura bitters; 3 drops absinthe; 1-½ oz. bourbon or rye. Stir with 2 large ice cubes, twist of lemon peel on top. This gets us off to a flying start. A simple wafer or cocktail cracker is a good companion. There are a number of absinthe - flavored substitutes on the market which are suitable for this libation. We served at breakfast hot or iced coffee, chilled beer, and a full bodied sherry.

Chicken livers and mushrooms Francois —12 chicken livers; 1 green onion finely sliced; 12 large mushrooms washed and sliced; ¼ pound butter or margarine; flour, salt and pepper; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; 1 tablespoon dry Marsala; 1-½ cups milk; 1 teaspoon MSG; finely chopped parsley. Clean and separate chicken livers, and shake them in a bag with salt, pepper and flour. Saute in ¼ pound of the butter or margarine plus a little bacon fat for added flavor. In a separate skillet, saute the sliced mushrooms in ¼ pound butter. Just before finishing the livers, add the finely sliced green onion and saute gently. Remove the livers, and combine the butter from the mushroom skillet with that in which the livers have been cooked. Add 2 tablespoons flour, stir until smooth, then add 1-½ cups milk, season with the MSG, perhaps a dash of Worcestershire, lemon juice, salt, pepper and Marsala to taste. Gently stir the mushrooms and livers into this gravy and serve on a hot platter, sprinkled with chopped parsley. This amount will make 4 or 5 generous portions. Left-overs may be chopped and served as canapes on toast rounds to advantage.

Skilleteer John Riedl of Appleton, Wisc., came up with this beauty for pork sausage links. Brown them well in an iron skillet, drain off fat, cover them with beer and simmer for about 25 minutes. Boy, Howdy! These were the hit of the day.

We maintain that bacon is called bacon because it should be baked. We arrange the slices, slightly overlapping, in a baking dish, and cook in a 450 degree oven. Watch them carefully, and drain on a piece of paper toweling when cooked to suit. Save the fat for other uses. We cook Canadian bacon the same way, in thin slices, but we sprinkle a few drops of water on each side to prevent them from becoming too dry while cooking. Both types lie flat, cook evenly and beautifully this way.

Scrambled eggs panos, from Skilleter Peter Panos of Chicago—Chop one or more fresh tomatoes, depending on number to be served. One will do for six eggs. Place tomatoes in sauce pan, salt them liberally, and let stand at least half an hour, then drain liquid that has accumulated. Add 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, cook gently until butter is melted and tomatoes cook down. Season heavily with pepper, MSG, Worcestershire, a few drops of hot pepper sauce, a dash or so of Maggi if you wish. Remember, this is the seasoning for all the eggs you are going to cook. Pour this tomato mixture into a skillet in which you have melted a bit more butter, and scramble the eggs directly in it. Eggs are generally more tender if cooked at not too high a temperature.

We like to split our English muffins with a fork, butter the halves liberally and toast under a hot fire, watching them carefully. A heat - proof serving dish is used at our clinic, and the muffins are carried directly to the table in it.

Don't forget — your favorite recipe and a stamped addressed envelope bring you life-time membership in The Skillet Club — just mail to this newspaper.

DRUGGIST GROUP ELECTS EWING

Veteran Investigator Chosen Secretary And Treasurer Of Board

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 27.—(Special)—Members of the Louisiana State Board of Pharmacy have elected E. E. Ewing of Winner as secretary and treasurer of the board.

Mr. Ewing, a veteran drug investigator, was recently appointed a member of Beta Phi Sigma medner Robert F. Kennon.

Louisiana's Board of Pharmacy regulates the practice of pharmacy in the state.

Mr. Ewing, a Ph. G. graduate of Loyola University, is a former vice - president of the Louisiana State Pharmaceutical Association, a member of Beta Phi Sigma medical fraternity, and is a former mayor of the town of Winnr.

The new board secretary assisted in writing many of the present pharmacy and narcotic laws, and has served as chairman of the association's legislative committee.

Secretary Ewing was appointed a member of the board soon after his graduation from Loyola University, and at that time was the youngest member serving on any state board in the United States. Since that time, and until recently, most of his activities have been devoted to work as an investigator throughout the state for previous boards.

HALE AND M'NEIL TO AID IN TV

Hale & McNeil, located on North Grand Street, dealers in electronic supplies and especially specializing in all that pertains to television, are bringing to Monroe Monday, expert men from the staff of the Precision Apparatus Co., New York City, to conduct a one - night school on television.

It will be held Monday night at the Hale and McNeil headquarters and its purpose is to train television service men how to operate successfully when Monroe gets television.

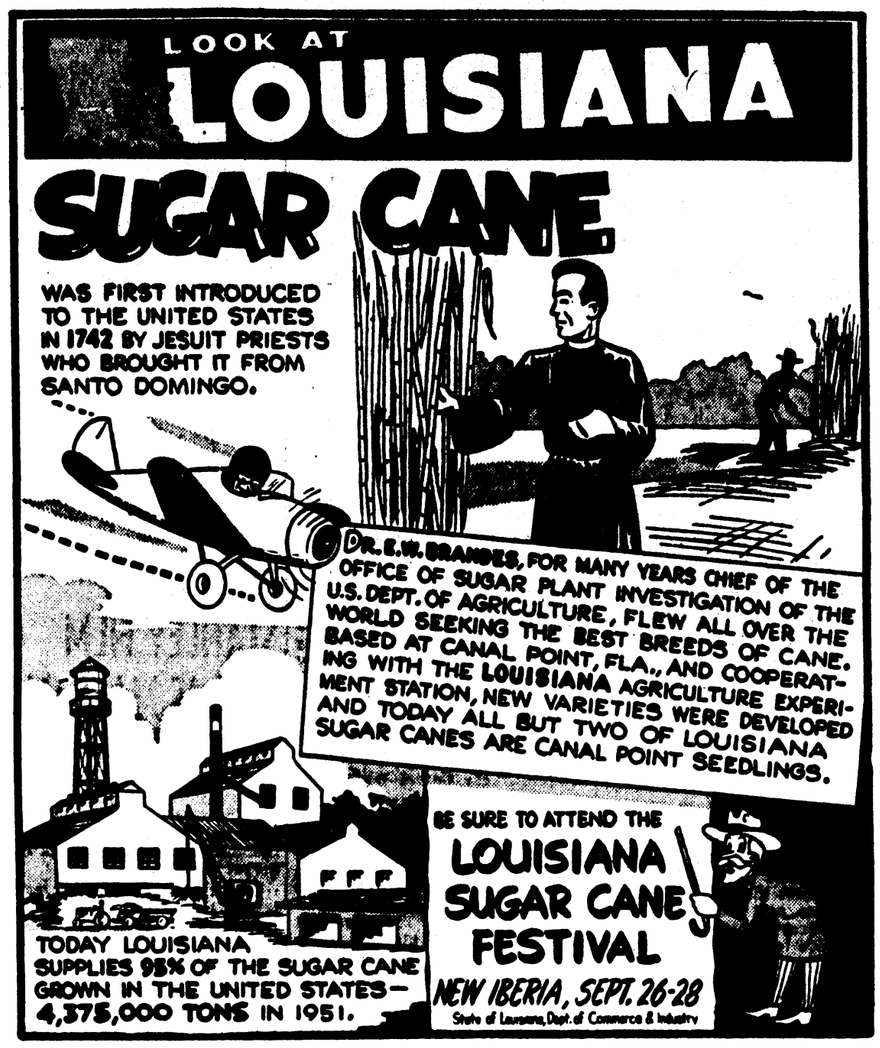

All those dealers and service men interested in the operations of television are invited to attend the demonstrations given Monday night.

Later on, other similar demonstrations will be made here in other branches of the line of television.

Extensive advertising will follow through the press in connection with the servicing of television apparatus when the service becomes available here shortly.

AUTUMN HERALDS LOUISIANA HARVEST

Autumn in Louisiana heralds the annual harvest of Louisiana's major crops, including sugar cane, cotton, sweet potatoes and rice. Dramatizing the harvest of these crops, agricultural areas in the state stage festivals which rank among the top fall events in the United States. Following the Sugar Cane Festival, scheduled for September 26-28 at New Iberia, in quick succession will come the Louisiana Forest Festival (Oct. 1-4 at Winnfield), the Yambilee (Oct. 7-9 at Opelousas), the Louisiana Dairy Festival (Oct. 17-18 at Abbeville), the International Rice Festival (Oct. 22-23 at Crowley), and the Louisiana State Fair (Oct. 18-26 at Shreveport).

GAIN SHOWN IN CHICK HATCHING

Commercial Hatcheries Turn Out 296,000 In Month Of August

Production by commercial hatcheries in Louisiana totaled 296,000 chicks during August, 15 per cent more than the 258,000 chicks produced during August of last year, according to the Louisiana crop reporting service. Except for April and May, hatchery production this year has been at a record high level with the total for the eight-month period (January - August) exceeding the previous record last year by 14 per cent. The August hatch this year was limited by a shortage of eggs but was more than twice the five - year (1946-50) average produced for the month.

The output of chicks by commercial hatcheries during August totaled 75,457,000 — 15 per cent less than the 89,104,000 chicks produced during August last year but 58 per cent more than the 1946-50 average production of 47,815,000. The demand for chicks for broiler production is strong. The supply of hatching eggs is the limiting factor in hatchery production at the present time. The number of eggs in incubators on September 1 was one per cent smaller than on September 1 last year, indicating a September hatch near that of a year ago.

Prices received by farmers for eggs in mid - August averaged 48.3 cents per dozen compared with 43.3 cents in mid-July and the August 1951 price of 49.6 cents. Chicken prices (farm chickens and commercial broilers) averaged 26.5 cents per pound live weight on August 15, compared with 26.0 cents on July 15 and 27.2 cents in August a year ago. Farm chickens averaged 22.3 cents and commercial broilers 30.9 cents, compared with 24.6 and 29.7 cents respectively in mid-August last year. Turkey prices on August 15 averaged 32.6 cents per pound live weight, compared with 35.3 cents a year ago.

The average cost of the United States farm poultry ration in mid-August was $4.24, compared with $4.18 in mid-July and $3.96 in August a year ago. The egg-feed, chicken - feed and turkey - feed price relationships were all less favorable than a year ago.

100TH BIRTH DAY PARTY

The north Louisiana parish of Winn winds up its gala 100th birthday party this week with the Louisiana Forest Festival at Winnfield, set for October 1-4. The festival eulogizes Louisiana's commercial forests, which cover more than half the state with pine and hardwood, and the wood products industries. Meanwhile, with a record breaking rice crop predicted and a two million bushel jump in yam production, other agricultural festivals being readied include the Yambilee (Oct. 7-9 at Opelousas), the Louisiana Dairy Festival (Oct. 17-18 at Abbeville), the International Rice Festival (Oct. 22-23 at Crowley), and the State Fair (Oct. 18-26 at Shreveport). Visitors from here and elsewhere have been invited to attend the Louisiana harvest festivals.

ACCOUNTANTS TO PARTICIPATE in the fifth annual Louisiana Accounting conference to be held at Louisiana Tech on October 29-31 include these five men. Upper left: J. A. TECH CONCERT PROGRAM READY

Seven Top Flight Features Planned For Fall And Winter Season

RUSTON, Sept. 27.—(Special)—With seven top-flight features already scheduled, the Louisiana Tech Concert Association will begin its eighth annual membership drive October 1, according to L. V. E. Irvine, chairman.

The season's first concert will be that of Claire Coci, the first organist to be presented on the Tech concert series. Following Miss Coci's performances on November 13 and 14, Dr. Franz J. Polgar, telephathist and hypnotist, will present a program on November 20.

The St. Louis Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Vladimir Golschmann, will be presented in a concert on December 10.

Hollywood stars Tyrone Power and Raymond Massey will be featured at Tech along with a company of 20 in Stephen Vincent Benet's "John Brown's Body" on January 27.

The latest event to be scheduled for the 1952-53 season is the American Savoyards Company directed by Dorothy Raedler which will present Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Mikado," on February 10 and 11 in Howard Auditorium.

Emlyn Williams as Charles Dickens will be presented on March 13. A joint concert by Marcel Hubert, French cellist, and soprano Suzanne der Derian will be presented on April 15 and 16.

Other attractions will probably be scheduled after the membership campaign is completed and a budget agreed upon, Mr. Irvine said.

BABER'S BACKS TELEVISION SHOW

Baber's, 504 Louisville Avenue, Monroe, local Hotpoint appliance dealer, announced today that the local store has joined with more than 11,000 other Hotpoint dealers across the country to sponsor "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," a new one-half hour radio and television comedy show beginning Friday, October 3.

A. W. Baker, manager, said the new $3 million program will be carried over the ABC network by 325 radio and 56 television stations, the largest number of stations ever to carry any new show presented on a major network.

The program features Ozzie Nelson, his wife Harriet, and their two sons, Ricky, 11, and David, 15, in a series of family home scenes. Action takes place in a studio set that reproduces actual rooms in the Nelson home.

Baker said he helped to select the "Ozzie and Harriet" show because it has a wide appeal to family audiences, and shows a typical American family in everyday situations. Since the program went on the air in 1944, it has won the National Association Award for Better Radio and Television as the best family situation comedy on the air, and was selected by the General Federation of Women's Clubs as the best program for family listening.

Funeral Is Held For Prominent Lumberman

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27. (Special)—Services were held Friday afternoon from Young's Funeral Home chapel in Ferriday with the Rev. Don Alverson, pastor of the Ferriday Sevier Memorial Methodist Church officiating, for James George Sullivan, 66, Clayton lumberman, who died at his residence in Clayton Thursday morning following an illness of several months.

Following the services at the funeral home in Ferriday the cortege wended its way across the Mississippi River bridge to Natchez, where interment took place in the family plot of the Natchez City cemetery.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Carrollton, Miss., and moved to Clayton in 1922 and became manager of the Holloway Sawmill Company. Later he was employed by the Vestal Lumber Company and at the time of his death he was an employee of the Natchez Hardwood Company.

Surviving relatives include the widow: Mrs. Odile Clayton Sullivan, of Clayton, a son, J. G. Sullivan, Jr., stationed at Big Springs, Tex., as an air force pilot cadet; a daughter, Miss Patsy Sullivan, a student at Northwestern State College in the nursing program of the Monroe division; and a brother, W. M. Sullivan of New Orleans.

Serving as pallbearers were: D. A. Williams, Raymond Keithley, Kermit Loomis, Charles Loomis, Bill Crawford and Edward Perkins.

A selection was rendered by Miss Rogers, fourth grade.

The principal introduced the new faculty member, Mrs. Frazier.

In the room count, the room of Mrs. Dillon's kindergarten was winner.

The president made various announcements pertaining to future plans. There will be an executive meeting in the school auditorium Monday Sept. 29 at 2:30 p. m.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. H. Brennan, room chairman.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 28.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER
(Chief Skilleteer)

New Orleans Sazeracs Give Conventioneers Big Treat

Chicago at Convention time was an interesting place, and of course newspapers which conduct Skillet Club chapters were well represented. For fourteen of them, we had a quiet clinic of a Sunday morning, and here's what we did to them, starting about 1 p.m. with breakfast. Sunday breakfast is a favorite time for the Skilleteer to express himself in no uncertain terms, and any or all of the following will help to bring about this desired consummation.

We start with New Orleans Sazeracs — an old-fashioned glass for each, into which we put 2 dashes simple (sugar) syrup; 4 dashes Peychaud bitters; 1 dash Angostura bitters; 3 drops absinthe; 1-½ oz. bourbon or rye. Stir with 2 large ice cubes, twist of lemon peel on top. This gets us off to a flying start. A simple wafer or cocktail cracker is a good companion. There are a number of absinthe - flavored substitutes on the market which are suitable for this libation. We served at breakfast hot or iced coffee, chilled beer, and a full bodied sherry.

Chicken livers and mushrooms Francois —12 chicken livers; 1 green onion finely sliced; 12 large mushrooms washed and sliced; ¼ pound butter or margarine; flour, salt and pepper; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; 1 tablespoon dry Marsala; 1-½ cups milk; 1 teaspoon MSG; finely chopped parsley. Clean and separate chicken livers, and shake them in a bag with salt, pepper and flour. Saute in ⅓ pound of the butter or margarine plus a little bacon fat for added flavor. In a separate skillet, saute the sliced mushrooms in ⅓ pound butter. Just before finishing the livers, add the finely sliced green onion and saute gently. Remove the livers, and combine the butter from the mushroom skillet with that in which the livers have been cooked. Add 2 tablespoons flour, stir until smooth, then add 1-½ cups milk, season with the MSG, perhaps a dash of Worcestershire, lemon juice, salt, pepper and Marsala to taste. Gently stir the mushrooms and livers into this gravy and serve on a hot platter, sprinkled with chopped parsley. This amount will make 4 or 5 generous portions. Left-overs may be chopped and served as canapes on toast rounds to advantage.

Skilleteer John Riedl of Appleton, Wisc., came up with this beauty for pork sausage links. Brown them well in an iron skillet, drain off fat, cover them with beer and simmer for about 25 minutes. Boy, Howdy! These were the hit of the day.

We maintain that bacon is called bacon because it should be baked. We arrange the slices, slightly overlapping, in a baking dish, and cook in a 450 degree oven. Watch them carefully, and drain on a piece of paper toweling when cooked to suit. Save the fat for other uses. We cook Canadian bacon the same way, in thin slices, but we sprinkle a few drops of water on each side to prevent them from becoming too dry while cooking. Both types lie flat, cook evenly and beautifully this way.

Scrambled eggs panos, from Skilleter Peter Panos of Chicago—Chop one or more fresh tomatoes, depending on number to be served. One will do for six eggs. Place tomatoes in sauce pan, salt them liberally, and let stand at least half an hour, then drain liquid that has accumulated. Add 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, cook gently until butter is melted and tomatoes cook down. Season heavily with pepper, MSG, Worcestershire, a few drops of hot pepper sauce, a dash or so of Maggi if you wish. Remember, this is the seasoning for all the eggs you are going to cook. Pour this tomato mixture into a skillet in which you have melted a bit more butter, and scramble the eggs directly in it. Eggs are generally more tender if cooked at not too high a temperature.

We like to split our English muffins with a fork, butter the halves liberally and toast under a hot fire, watching them carefully. A heat - proof serving dish is used at our clinic, and the muffins are carried directly to the table in it.

Don't forget — your favorite recipe and a stamped addressed envelope bring you life-time membership in The Skillet Club — just mail to this newspaper.

GAIN SHOWN IN CHICK HATCHING

Commercial Hatcheries Turn Out 296,000 In Month Of August

Production by commercial hatcheries in Louisiana totaled 296,000 chicks during August, 15 per cent more than the 258,000 chicks produced during August of last year, according to the Louisiana crop reporting service. Except for April and May, hatchery production this year has been at a record high level with the total for the eight-month period (January - August) exceeding the previous record last year by 14 per cent. The August hatch this year was limited by a shortage of eggs but was more than twice the five - year (1946-50) average produced for the month.

The output of chicks by commercial hatcheries during August totaled 75,457,000 — 15 per cent less than the 89,104,000 chicks produced during August last year but 58 per cent more than the 1946-50 average production of 47,815,000. The demand for chicks for broiler production is strong. The supply of hatching eggs is the limiting factor in hatchery production at the present time. The number of eggs in incubators on September 1 was one per cent smaller than on September 1 last year, indicating a September hatch near that of a year ago.

Prices received by farmers for eggs in mid - August averaged 48.3 cents per dozen compared with 43.3 cents in mid-July and the August 1951 price of 49.6 cents. Chicken prices (farm chickens and commercial broilers) averaged 26.5 cents per pound live weight on August 15, compared with 26.0 cents on July 15 and 27.2 cents in August a year ago. Farm chickens averaged 22.3 cents and commercial broilers 30.9 cents, compared with 24.6 and 29.7 cents respectively in mid-August last year. Turkey prices on August 15 averaged 32.6 cents per pound live weight, compared with 35.3 cents a year ago.

The average cost of the United States farm poultry ration in mid-August was $4.24, compared with $4.18 in mid-July and $3.96 in August a year ago. The egg-feed, chicken - feed and turkey - feed price relationships were all less favorable than a year ago.

100TH BIRTH DAY PARTY

The north Louisiana parish of Winn winds up its gala 100th birthday party this week with the Louisiana Forest Festival at Winnfield, set for October 1-4. The festival eulogizes Louisiana's commercial forests, which cover more than half the state with pine and hardwood, and the wood products industries. Meanwhile, with a record breaking rice crop predicted and a two million bushel jump in yam production, other agricultural festivals being readied include the Yambilee (Oct. 7-9 at Opelousas), the Louisiana Dairy Festival (Oct. 17-18 at Abbeville), the International Rice Festival (Oct. 22-23 at Crowley), and the State Fair (Oct. 18-26 at Shreveport). Visitors from here and elsewhere have been invited to attend the Louisiana harvest festivals.

TECH CONCERT PROGRAM READY

Seven Top Flight Features Planned For Fall And Winter Season

RUSTON, Sept. 27.—(Special)—With seven top-flight features already scheduled, the Louisiana Tech Concert Association will begin its eighth annual membership drive October 1, according to L. V. E. Irvine, chairman.

The season's first concert will be that of Claire Coci, the first organist to be presented on the Tech concert series. Following Miss Coci's performances on November 13 and 14, Dr. Franz J. Polgar, telephathist and hypnotist, will present a program on November 20.

The St. Louis Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Vladimir Golschmann, will be presented in a concert on December 10.

Hollywood stars Tyrone Power and Raymond Massey will be featured at Tech along with a company of 20 in Stephen Vincent Benet's "John Brown's Body" on January 27.

The latest event to be scheduled for the 1952-53 season is the American Savoyards Company directed by Dorothy Raedler which will present Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Mikado," on February 10 and 11 in Howard Auditorium.

Emlyn Williams as Charles Dickens will be presented on March 13. A joint concert by Marcel Hubert, French cellist, and soprano Suzanne der Derian will be presented on April 15 and 16.

Other attractions will probably be scheduled after the membership campaign is completed and a budget agreed upon, Mr. Irvine said.

BABER'S BACKS TELEVISION SHOW

Baber's, 504 Louisville Avenue, Monroe, local Hotpoint appliance dealer, announced today that the local store has joined with more than 11,000 other Hotpoint dealers across the country to sponsor "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," a new one-half hour radio and television comedy show beginning Friday, October 3.

A. W. Baker, manager, said the new $3 million program will be carried over the ABC network by 325 radio and 56 television stations, the largest number of stations ever to carry any new show presented on a major network.

The program features Ozzie Nelson, his wife Harriet, and their two sons, Ricky, 11, and David, 15, in a series of family home scenes. Action takes place in a studio set that reproduces actual rooms in the Nelson home.

Baker said he helped te select the "Ozzie and Harriet" show because it has a wide appeal to family audiences, and shows a typical American family in everyday situations. Since the program went on the air in 1944, it has won the National Association Award for Better Radio and Television as the best family situation comedy on the air, and was selected by the General Federation of Women's Clubs as the best program for family listening.

Funeral Is Held For Prominent Lumberman

FERRIDAY, Sept. 27. (Special)—Services were held Friday afternoon from Young's Funeral Home chapel in Ferriday with the Rev. Don Alverson, pastor of the Ferriday Sevier Memorial Methodist Church officiating, for James George Sullivan, 59, Clayton lumberman, who died at his residence in Clayton Thursday morning following an illness of several months.

Following the services at the funeral home in Ferriday the cortege wended its way across the Mississippi River bridge to Natchez, where interment took place in the family plot of the Natchez City cemetery.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Carrollton, Miss., and moved to Clayton in 1922 and became manager of the Holloway Sawmill Company. Later he was employed by the Vestal Lumber Company and at the time of his death he was an employee of the Natchez Hardwood Company.

Surviving relatives include the widow: Mrs. Odile Clayton Sullivan, of Clayton, a son, J. G. Sullivan, Jr., stationed at Big Springs, Tex., as an air force pilot cadet; a daughter, Miss Patsy Sullivan, a student at Northwestern State College in the nursing program of the Monroe division; and a brother, W. M. Sullivan of New Orleans.

Serving as pallbearers were: D. A. Williams, Raymond Keithley, Kermit Loomis, Charles Loomis, Bill Cranford and Edward Perkins.

Central Grammar Has P.-T. A. Meeting

The Central Grammar School held its first Parent - Teacher meeting Sept. 15 in the school auditorium. Mrs. L. D. Melton, presided. Prayer was by Mrs. J. E. Brennan. The retiring president, Mrs. Virgile Crawford, installed the following officers: president, Mrs. Clifford La France; vice-president, Mrs. J. O. Lolley; secretary, Mrs. H. H. Morgan.

A selection was rendered by Mrs. Rogers, fourth grade.

The principal introduced the new faculty member, Mrs. Frazier.

In the room count, the room of Mrs. Dillon's kindergarten was winner.

The president made various announcements pertaining to future plans. There will be an executive meeting in the school auditorium Monday Sept. 29 at 2:30 p. m.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. E. Brennon, hospitality chairman.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 16.

Clifton Webb, Ginger Rogers Spoof TV In "Dreamboat"

Something decidedly different and hilarious in the way of screen entertainment is promised by the Paramount for Wednesday when "Dreamboat," starring Clifton Webb and Ginger Robers, has its local debut.

The Twentieth eCntury - Fox comedy, which also stars Anne Francis and Jeffrey Hunter in charge of the youthful romantic interest, takes the novel approach for movies of spoofing television. The "arch enemy" gets a going-over, all in fun is the assurance, through the clever device of casting Webb as a one-time silent screen lover jolted out of his new respectability as a college professor when his antique films begin to enjoy a wholesale revival on television.

The infant screen medium's reliance on ancient and fuzzy movies comes in for much satire via a number of sequences of "old" movies, modeled on actual films of the silent era, featuring Webb and Ginger Rogers, who plays his co-star of the non-speaking days now making a comeback while serving as television commentator during the screenings of the old-time pictures Webb and Miss Rogers kid prehistoric movies as much as they do television in re-dramas of World War I vintage, and dashing sword-play swashbucklers involving the hero who takes roof-jumping and wall-scaling in everyday stride.

STEP OUT ON 'DREAMBOAT'

Glamorous Ginger Rogers and dapper Clifton Webb prepare to step out on the town in "Dreamboat," Twentieth Century-Fox's new comedy due Wednesday at the Paramount Theatre.

A jail break try in "My Six Convicts", the Stanley Kramer Company production currently showing at the Paramount Theatre. Millard Mitchell, Gilbert Roland and Henry Morgan are featured with John Marley.

This delightful and unique idea guarantees that "Dreamboat" is one of the most clever movie properties of the day. Webb, relieved of his "Mr. Belvedere" character, and Miss Rogers, back in movies to stay after a Broadway change-of-pace and television flirtation, both have stated they had a field day in making "Dreamboat." For Anne Francis, who recently came into her own as "Lydia Bailey," this is a second appearance as Webb's daughter, her first film, "Elopment," having also cast her that way. Young Jeffrey Hunter also has recently been elevated to stardom with the soon due "Lure of the Wilderness" a reward for the promise he has shown to date.

The inspiration for the novel and timely story line of "Dreamboat" stems from a story by John D. Weaver, with pastmaster of high comedy Claude Binyon serving in the dual capacity of writer of screen play and director. Sol C. Siegel produced the picture, which features Elsa Lanchester, Fred Clark, Paul Harvey, Ray Collins, Helene Stanley and Richard Garrick.

When you look for a new refrigerator, check to see if the door is tightly sealed by means of rubber gaskets to keep cold air in and warm air out.

Bfore you wash your bathrobe, pretreat the heavily soiled areas, such as colars and cuffs, with a thorough soap scrubbing.

California Intrigue Seen In 'Conquest'

The story of the birth of California—told in blood, bullets and swashbuckling glory—is recounted in Columbia Pictures' "California Conquest," the Cornel Wilde-Teresa Wright starrer opening Wednesday at the Tem Theatre. The new romantic adventure, filmed in color by Technicolor, features Alfonso Bedoya, Lisa Ferraday and Eugene Iglesias.

Wilde, star of "The Greatest Show on Earth," plays a fiery Don of old California who, weary of Mexican rule, desires to bring the Golden State into the U. S. Miss Wright plays the daughter of an American gunsmith in the little town of Los Angeles who shares Wilde's adventures.

"California Conquest" was written for the screen by Robert E. Kent. Lew Landers directed the new adventure drama for producer Sam Katzman.

STANLEY FILM IS MASS-CAST

The first successful mass casting conference with the Hollywood agent fraternity enabled the Stanley Kramer Company to fill the key roles of "My Six Convicts," new Columbia picture now at the Paramount Theatre.

125 artists' representatives attended the special meeting at the Beverly Hills Hotel. They were told by Kramer that the principal parts in "My Six Convicts" offered actors star-making opportunities. We are not looking for cliche-criminal types," he said, "but for a combination of fresh faces with experience and background, with an electric quality of personality.

"We come to you," Kramer concluded, "because yours is the most professional channel to help us meet this multiple casting problem."

To assist the agents in determining the qualities demanded by the major roles, associate producers Edna and Edward Anhalt, director Hugo Fregonese and Michael Blankfort, who wrote the screen play, described the characters of "My Six Convicts," which is based on the best-selling Book-of-the-Month by Donald Powell Wilson.

As a result of the conference, Kramer and his associates acquired a group of players whom they believe well-nigh perfect for the warm, weird and wonderful story of the prison psychologist who went inside a prison to test the convicts and almost went nuts doing it.

Millard Mitchell plays Connie rogues' gallery Rembrandt who took the prisoners' pictures—and anything else he could lay his hands on. Gilbert Roland plays Punch, the king of the cons. John Beal plays the psychologist and Marshall Thompson plays Scotty, the Big House souse and star pitcher in the under-World Series. Dawson, the psychopathic killer, is played by Henry Morgan. Embezzler Kopac is played by Jay Adler, and stir - crazy Randall is played by Alf Kjellin.

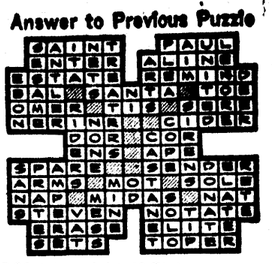

The prison scenes of "My Six Convicts" were photographed in an actual prison, and, according to comments of the real-life cons, the half-dozen actors looked as if they belonged in that penitentiary—a tribute to their thespian abilities and to the Kramer casting conference technique.

Will Reorganize Cub Scout Pack

There will be a meeting Tuesday, September 30, at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe, for the purpose of reorganizing Cub Scout Pack 13.

All parents of boys between the ages of eight and 10 are invited to attend this important meeting. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday School annex.

Parents who are unable to attend the meeting but are interested in getting a boy into the pack are invited to contact W. W. Stevens, 6428.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Two shades of power are essential —one for daytime and one for night.

CHOOSE POWDER SHADE THAT MATCHES SKIN TONE

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today there is every reason why women should take advantage of makeup. There is such a wide variety in color and there are so many new things to help them look their best. Makeup, skillfully used, enhances natural beauty and minimizes defects.

Years ago we heard nothing about matching the shade of powder to individual skin tone. Mama went into a store, bought some face powder, came home and put it on, and if she looked like a woman who had fallen into a flour barrel, that was just too bad. If her brows were light or her hair straight, that was just hard luck. She went about pale-lipped or was apt to look as though she had been hit in the mouth. Makeup today has become a definite art.

The shade of powder you use can make a terrific difference. Many women still fail to realize that two shades are essential, one for daytime and one for night. As a general rule your nighttime powder should have more pink in it. If you live in a large city your problem is simple.

Trained Help

At the cosmetic counters of large stores there are trained people to help you choose a powder. In fact, they will even mix powders for you if necessary. If you live in a small town you may have to do a bit of experimenting on your own. Some cosmetic houses have color charts they will mail out to you. Take the trouble to discover which powder is most becoming.

Here are a few more suggestions.

If your skin is oily you require a powder of heavier texture. If you have a thin dry skin use a very light weight powder.

As women grow older the lighter shades of lipstick are more flattering. The others are too harsh. The color of the skin changes and harshness emphasizes lines.

Avoid Droopy Look

The area over which rouge is applied depends on your facial contour, but as a general rule, beware of placing it too low on the face if you are middle-aged or older. This gives a droopy appearance.

Lots of women wear powder that is too pink. Use this only if you have peaches and cream coloring or are very blonde.

Be sure that your nail polish and lipstick match.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you many tricks in making up, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50, "What's Going On?" to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

BOOSTER CLUB WILL AID BAND

Neville Parents And Friends Organize To Assist In Big Way

The initial meeting of the newly organized Neville High School band Booster Club was held last Tuesday night in the school auditorium with about 150 enthusiastic mothers, fathers and friends of the band children present.

P. J. Newman, temporary chairman, called the meeting immediately after the Back to School night, and explained the purpose of the proposed club and the aims to promote and support the musical activities at the school. He further stated that it was proposed the club membership would not be limited to mothers and fathers but would include those outside of the immediate family, including faculty, alumni and friends.

The chairman next asked W. E. Lawson to read the proposed constitution and by-laws for the new club. After the reading, the constitution and by-laws were unanimously adopted.

Harold Brady made a motion to elect officers from the floor at this meeting and afterward follow the Constitution and by laws, in order that officers could be elected and the club get into active work without any further delay. The motion carried.

S. W. Jackson moved that the executive board be composed of two fathers, two mothers, one of faculty, alumni and friends each. The motion carried.

Mr. Newman asked for nominations for officers and the name of J. H. Scogin, prominent auto dealer of Monroe, was offered, and he was elected as president for the ensuing year. G. L. (Skeeter) Morgan was elected vice - president. L. N. Wadell, corresponding secretary; Herbert Walker, financial secretary; and Charles D. McAdams, treasurer. The executive board elected is composed of P. J. Newman and W. E. Lawson representing fathers.

Mrs. Wade Cotton and Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose were elected to the executive board representing the mothers, Paul Neal representing the faculty and T. H. Harris was elected "friend" representative on the board.

Mr. Newman turned the microphone over to Mr. Scogin, Morgan and other elected officials who expressed their desire to help put this club over in a high degree.

Mr. Scogin said that he would call the officers together this coming Sunday to appoint members to his various committees. He further said that he expected to appoint all the members as near as possible to some kind of work to help this project become an enthusiastic booster organization.

The mothers will be asked to serve sandwiches, coffee and drinks in the Neville cafeteria to the Haynesville High School band upon their arrival next Friday for the Neville - Haynesville ball team.

Pictures of the band, Director John Davis, President Scogins and others were taken at the Rayville game Friday night and will appear in the News-Star—World.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Recently a neighbor woman ran into our house screaming that the Welfare Agency was insulting her. We found that after years of taking care of her and her 15 year-old son (whom she had babied) the agency had been trying to get her sweet baby boy a job. No sirree! She'd starve and let him starve too before she'd lot them put that poor dear boy to work. You find that this is true with many people. You've got to do it their way or not at all. One of the hardest things is to help people and not got in bad with them.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No, in the main it's an effort to compensate for their feelings of inferiority. We all do that about things we'd like to have but can't get. We poor folks say of our rich friends. "Oh well, rich people have their troubles too. Money isn't everything."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Far more. The school grades of sisters are in pretty close agreement—either both high or both low—but there is not much agreement between the grades of these sisters and those of their mothers. Daughters do resemble their mothers in intelligence, on the average (about the same as children in the same family). However, there is not much resemblance in grades between mothers and daughters, because they likely have had different studies and different work and play habits.

HEARS ST. PETER'S BAND

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (AP)—The St. Peter's High School Band was playing just as a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, just across the street, came out from under the anesthetic.

"I hear music," the patient said, bewildered.

"Now, now, don't get excited,' said the nun attending him. "That's just St. Peter's Band."

There was a pause before the patient's next words: "Oh, did I die?"

Catahoula Parish To Screen Pupils

JONESVILLE, Sept. 27.—(Special)—Catahoula parish teachers next Monday and Tuesday will be given lectures and demonstrations on screening children for sight, hearing, dental and general health defects, and should then be able to apply some of their knowledge to the classrooms' health programs.

The state department of education, in connection with other inter - departmental organizations, are sending demonstrators to the parish to give lectures.

Classes will be called off Monday in the white schools and then we will assemble in the new school auditorium at Harrisonburg. There they will be divided into four groups, which will rotate until each group has had the benefit of each speaker.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Two shades of power are essential —one for daytime and one for night.

CHOOSE POWDER SHADE THAT MATCHES SKIN TONE

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today there is every reason why women should take advantage of makeup. There is such a wide variety in color and there are so many new things to help them look their best. Makeup, skillfully used, enhances natural beauty and minimizes defects.

Years ago we heard nothing about matching the shade of powder to individual skin tone. Mama went into a store, bought some face powder, came home and put it on, and if she looked like a woman who had fallen into a flour barrel, that was just too bad. If her brows were light or her hair straight, that was just hard luck. She went about pale-lipped or was apt to look as though she had been hit in the mouth. Makeup today has become a definite art.

The shade of powder you use can make a terrific difference. Many women still fail to realize that two shades are essential, one for daytime and one for night. As a general rule your nighttime powder should have more pink in it. If you live in a large city your problem is simple.

Trained Help

At the cosmetic counters of large stores there are trained people to help you choose a powder. In fact, they will even mix powders for you if necessary. If you live in a small town you may have to do a bit of experimenting on your own. Some cosmetic houses have color charts they will mail out to you. Take the trouble to discover which powder is most becoming.

Here are a few more suggestions.

If your skin is oily you require a powder of heavier texture. If you have a thin dry skin use a very light weight powder.

As women grow older the lighter shades of lipstick are more flattering. The others are too harsh. The color of the skin changes and harshness emphasizes lines.

Avoid Droopy Look

The area over which rouge is applied depends on your facial contour, but as a general rule, beware of placing it too low on the face if you are middle-aged or older. This gives a droopy appearance.

Lots of women wear powder that is too pink. Use this only if you have peaches and cream coloring or are very blonde.

Be sure that your nail polish and lipstick match.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you many tricks in making up, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50, "What's Going On?" to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Get Knocked on Head And You Are A Beauty."

Neville Parents And Friends Organize To Assist In Big Way

The initial meeting of the newly organized Neville High School band Booster Club was held last Tuesday night in the school auditorium with about 150 enthusiastic mothers, fathers and friends of the band children present.

P. J. Newman, temporary chairman, called the meeting immediately after the Back to School night, and explained the purpose of the proposed club and the aims to promite and support the musical activities at the school. He further stated that it was proposed the club membership would not be limited to mothers and fathers but would include those outside of the immediate family, including faculty, alumni and friends.

The chairman next asked W. E. Lawson to read the proposed constitution and by-laws for the new club. After the reading, the constitution and by-laws were unanimously adopted.

Harold Brady made a motion to elect officers from the floor at this meeting and afterward follow the Constitution and by laws, in order that officers could be elected and the club get into active work without any further delay. The motion carried.

S. W. Jackson moved that the executive board be composed of two fathers, two mothers, one of faculty, alumni and friends each. The motion carried.

Mr. Newman asked for nominations for officers and the name of J. H. Scogin, prominent auto dealer of Monroe, was offered, and he was elected as president for the ensuing year. G. L. (Skeeter) Morgan was elected vice - president. L. N. Wadell, corresponding secretary; Herbert Walker, financial secretary; and Charles D. McAdams, treasurer. The executive board elected is composed of P. J. Newman and W. E. Lawson representing fathers.

Mrs. Wade Cotton and Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose were elected to the executive board representing the mothers, Paul Neal representing the faculty and T. H. Harris was elected "friend" representative on the board.

Mr. Newman turned the microphone over to Mr. Scogin, Morgan and other elected officials who expressed their desire to help put this club over in a high degree.

Mr. Scogin said that he would call the officers together this coming Sunday to appoint members to his various committees. He further said that he expected to appoint all the members as near as possible to some kind of work to help this project become an enthusiastic booster organization.

The mothers will be asked to serve sandwiches, coffee and drinks in the Neville cafeteria to the Haynesville High School band upon their arrival next Friday for the Neville - Haynesville ball team.

Pictures of the band, Director John Davis, President Scogins and others were taken at the Rayville game Friday night and will appear in the News-Star—World.

Will Reorganize Cub Scout Pack

There will be a meeting Tuesday, September 30, at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe, for the purpose of reorganizing Cub Scout Pack 13.

All parents of boys between the ages of eight and 10 are invited to attend this important meeting. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday School annex.

Parents who are unable to attend the meeting but are interested in getting a boy into the pack are invited to contact W. W. Brewer, 6483.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Recently a neighbor woman ran into our house screaming that the Welfare Agency was insulting her. We found that after years of taking care of her and her 15 year-old son (whom she had babied) the agency had been trying to get her sweet baby boy a job. No sirree! She'd starve and let him starve too before she'd let them put that poor dear boy to work. You find that this is true with many people. You've got to do it their way or not at all. One of the hardest things is to help people and not get in bad with them.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No, in the main it's an effort to compensate for their feelings of inferiority. We all do that about things we'd like to have but can't get. We poor folks say of our rich friends. "Oh well, rich people have their troubles too. Money isn't everything."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Far more. The school grades of sisters are in pretty close agreement—either both high or both low—but there is not much agreement between the grades of these sisters and those of their mothers. Daughters do resemble their mothers in intelligence, on the average (about the same as children in the same family). However, there is not much resemblance in grades between mothers and daughters, because they likely have had different studies and different work and play habits.

"Come thou with us, and we will do thee good." — Numbers 10:29. Although this passage was written long ago, we feel we can truthfully use it again today in speaking of our place of worship, the Emmanuel Baptist Church. We cordially invite one and all to attend the services this Sunday and whenever possible. You are sure to always find a warm and friendly welcome with us.
We have a place for everyone in our Sunday School and Training Union. Our teachers and leaders are well qualified Christian people and we know you will benefit by being in our classes. Our nursery is always open during services so if you have small children you may rest assured they will be cared for.
We also wish to invite you to our Wednesday night prayer services. These services are exactly what we need to carry us from one Sunday to the next. Choir practice immediately follows prayer service.

Joseph Smith's mission was to restore the gospel in its fulness. He brought back the same gospel that Jesus taught, the same faith and repentance, the same baptism for the remission of sins, and the same laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and the same Holy Ghost with all its powers and blessings. This is the doctrine and these are the principles we profess to believe in. We do not profess to have received our authority from the Church of England or any other sect; it came directly from God by the ministration of holy angels. The gospel that we preach is the everlasting gospel; it reaches back into the eternities that are past; it exists in time and it stretches forward into the eternities to come, and everything connected with it is eternal . . John Taylor, third president of the church.

Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The downfall in tragedy of Saul, first king of Israel, was clear and unmistakable. He died a suicide on the battlefield, in a disastrous rout of the army of Israel. The descent from glory of Solomon, third and last king of a united Israel, may not be so apparent, but it was none the less real.
For rebellion and division followed swift upon the end of Solomon's reign of apparent glory; and the rebellion was definitely associated with the reign of Solomon. It was the demand of the people that Rehoboam, Solomon's son and successor, should lighten their burdens, and Rehoboam's refusal, that brought back Jeroboam from Egypt to lead the successful rebellion in which ten tribes revolted to form the Northern Kingdom.
The story is told in I Kings Chapter 12, how Rehoboam took counsel from two groups, older men and younger men. Rejecting the wise counsel of the older men to ease the people's burdens and rule justly, he followed the counsel of the young hotheads.
"My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions," said Rehoboam.
It was a far cry from the wisdom with which Solomon had begun his reign (I Kings 3:4-9). But when Rehoboam began his reign with such incredible folly, wrecking the kingdom that David and Solomon had built up and consolidated in strength, leaving him only two tribes to rule as the Kingdom of Judah, it must not be forgotten it was the burdens that Solomon imposed upon the people that caused the discontent.
People will stand for a great deal if there is a tradition of wisdom and a show of glamor attached to it. It was a tribute to Solomon that the kingdom of Israel remained strong and united as long as he lived. Nevertheless, it was Solomon who sowed the seeds of that latent, seething discontent that broke out in rebellion so soon after his death when Rehoboam's perversity brought about the climax of disaster.
Nor was all the disaster in that immediate division of the Twelve Tribes of Israel. That was only the beginning. In a shorter period than the entire history of America since its discovery by Columbus, both kingdoms into which the Kingdom of Solomon was divided ceased to exist.
The Kingdom of Isreal, Northern Kingdom of the Ten Tribes, was conquered and destroyed by the Assyrians in 722 B. C. Its people were the "lost ten tribes" of history.
In 586 B. C. the Southern Kingdom of Judah was conquered by the Babylonians and its people carried into exile (See II Kings Chapter 25, and the 137th Psalm).
So the era of peace and Solomon's glory did not last long. A new glory of the prophets arose but the history of Israel from the days of Solomon was of mingled good and deep evil, of lofty faith and vision and of great suffering.
From the career of Solomon, as from that of the tragic Saul, comes the enforcement of a later warning by a great Israelite: "Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall!"

Angelo Patri

Our Children

The birthday party was to be a great affair. Betsy was to be sixteen and her mother and father had said she could have any kind of party she wanted. Now she and her mother were making the list of guests.
"You've left out Roger?" said mother. "He is in your group, too."
"Oh, he's such a griper. He would spoil everything. He is forever finding flaws in everything. Nothing ever suits him. If you have a new dress or something he says, 'Why didn't you get something you could wear?' If you make a good recitation he ups and says, 'She left out the principal point,' and proceeds to state it, even if he doesn't know. He isn't half as smart as he wishes he was. No, we don't want him."
All the other members of the class were being invited and mother, knowing how the boy would feel, said, "I'd hate to have your party spoiled by a thought of a lonely boy looking in the window, as it were."
"Well, all right. You can put his name down. I only hope that the cake will be the right size and that there will be enough sugar in the lemonade."
On the afternoon of the party the Gripe appeared, dressed in his best and carrying a gorgeous box tied with the biggest bow ever. With a bow to Betsy, he handed the box to her mother saying, "For you." "For me," whispered the surprised lady. "You mean Betsy?" "No'm-m. You see, I haven't any mother so I want you to have this."
Later the Gripe and his elderly hostess had a chat. "I live with Granny. My mother died when I was born. My father is in the Navy. I never had an invitation to a party before.
"Oh, sure, I gripe. Makes them mad and makes them talk to me. You get kinda lonesome just talking to yourself. Oh yes, I like Betsy. I like them all. They don't like me much though, do they?"
"The boy seemed to be let loose," said her mother to Betsy that night. "He talked to me as if he had been shut up for years. You'll have to be friendlier, Betsy. Bring him over for dinner some night soon."
"If I do, remember he is coming to see you," laughed Betsy.

Bible Words to Live by

The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

LUKE 9:23—"If any man will come after Me, let him take up his cross daily and follow Me."

* * *

Some time ago, I had the opportunity to visit the Tower of London. I was particularly impressed by a single, meaningful sentence carved by a prisoner on the wall of a cell over three hundred years ago.
It read: "It is not adversity that kills, but the impatience with which we bear adversity."
In merely rebelling against trouble or affliction we often do little more than make a bad situation worse.
It is much more sensible to do something to correct an evil insofar as you can and take the rest with patience.
Christ, Who gladly suffered so much for each of us, expects you and me to be cheerful in meeting adversity.

RAYVILLE F. F. A. HOLDS MEETING

The Rayville F. F. A. Chapter held its regular meeting Wednesday morning, September 24. Charles Vandersliice, president, called the meeting to order.
At the last meeting, September 10, a committee was appointed to make plans to erect a booth at the tri-parish fair in Winnsboro. This committee reported the plans for erecting the booth.
Nominations were then accepted for chapter queen. Six nominations were made and from the lively participation it seems that this will be quite a contest.
After a discussion a committee was appointed to arrange for a chartered bus to carry the F. F. A. members to the State Fair at Shreveport. Nearly all 61 members of the chapter plan to attend.
The chairman and the members of each committee of the chapters program of work was read to the group and then posted on the bulletin board. Every member of the chapter was placed on a committee. Mr. Letlow, advisor, then gave a brief talk on the importance of these committees. Those committees lay the groundwork for all the F. F. A. activities throughout the year.

You can wash shrink-resistant wool socks in lukewarm soapsuds, and rinse them as often as you like. Sock stretchers won't be necessary either. This footwear will hold its shape through many launderings.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
By J. Paul Hewitt

Did you ever think of redecorating your home with music? Music can do a lot to brighten a room, to give a cheerful or luxurious atmosphere to a home, and it's easily done.
All of us have watched movies, and actually seen a room change its feeling because of the music played during the action. We have watched a scene set in a large living room, for example, and before anyone comes into the room, music starts building the mood. The room actually becomes bright and cheerful through gay music before the entrance of the star. Later, perhaps, the same room is a setting for a love scene, with romantic music giving that room a gentle air of expectation. And still later, perhaps, suspenseful music is introduced and then the same room takes on an atmosphere of excitement.
There's no reason why the methods of the movie-makers can't be used to brighten the home when it's so easy to create the exact mood desired with music on radio, records or that we play ourselves.
Another facet to decorating the mood of your home is the way the family will react to the idea. There'll be group singing around the piano in the evenings, and the youngsters will develop new interest in the kind of music you like and will want to learn to play themselves. And what could be easier to play than the new Hammond Chord Organ. Here's an instrument that is really designed for those who want to play without taking lessons. Let us prove it to you. Come in and spend a half-hour alone with the Hammond Chord Organ and the book of self instructions and we promise it will open a whole new world of music to you. HEWITT, INC., 316 Grammont. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
First Church of Christ, Scientist
224 Auburn Ave.

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 28, 1952.
The Golden Text is: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all." (I Chron. 29:11).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose." (Rom. 8:28).
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is natural good, and is represented only by the idea of goodness; while evil should be regarded as unnatural, because it is opposed to the nature of Spirit, God." (p. 119).

Joseph Smith's mission was to restore the gospel in its fulness. He brought back the same gospel that Jesus taught, the same faith and repentance, the same baptism for the remission of sins, and the same laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and the same Holy Ghost with all its powers and blessings. This is the doctrine and these are the principles we profess to believe in. We do not profess to have received our authority from the Church of England or any other sect; it came directly from God by the ministration of holy angels. The gospel that we preach is the everlasting gospel; it reaches back into the eternities that are past; it exists in time and it stretches forward into the eternities to come, and everything connected with it is eternal . . John Taylor, third president of the church.

Bible Comment
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The downfall in tragedy of Saul, first king of Israel, was clear and unmistakable. He died a suicide on the battlefield, in a disastrous rout of the army of Israel. The descent from glory of Solomon, third and last king of a united Israel, may not be so apparent, but it was none the less real.
For rebellion and division followed swift upon the end of Solomon's reign of apparent glory; and the rebellion was definitely associated with the reign of Solomon. It was the demand of the people that Rehoboam, Solomon's son and successor, should lighten their burdens, and Rehoboam's refusal, that brought back Jeroboam from Egypt to lead the successful rebellion in which ten tribes revolted to form the Northern Kingdom.
The story is told in I Kings Chapter 12, how Rehoboam took counsel from two groups, older men and younger men. Rejecting the wise counsel of the older men to ease the people's burdens and rule justly, he followed the counsel of the young hotheads.
"My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions," said Rehoboam.
It was a far cry from the wisdom with which Solomon had begun his reign (I Kings 3:4-9). But when Rehoboam began his reign with such incredible folly, wrecking the kingdom that David and Solomon had built up and consolidated in strength, leaving him only two tribes to rule as the Kingdom of Judah, it must not be forgotten it was the burdens that Solomon imposed upon the people that caused the discontent.
People will stand for a great deal if there is a tradition of wisdom and a show of glamor attached to it. It was a tribute to Solomon that the kingdom of Israel remained strong and united as long as he lived. Nevertheless, it was Solomon who sowed the seeds of that latent, seething discontent that broke out in rebellion so soon after his death when Rehoboam's perversity brought about the climax of disaster.
Nor was all the disaster in that immediate division of the Twelve Tribes of Israel. That was only the beginning. In a shorter period than the entire history of America since its discovery by Columbus, both kingdoms into which the Kingdom of Solomon was divided ceased to exist.
The Kingdom of Isreal, Northern Kingdom of the Ten Tribes, was conquered and destroyed by the Assyrians in 722 B. C. Its people were the "lost ten tribes" of history.
In 586 B. C. the Southern Kingdom of Judah was conquered by the Babylonians and its people carried into exile (See II Kings Chapter 25, and the 137th Psalm).
So the era of peace and Solomon's glory did not last long. A new glory of the prophets arose but the history of Israel from the days of Solomon was of mingled good and deep evil, of lofty faith and vision and of great suffering.
From the career of Solomon, as from that of the tragic Saul, comes the enforcement of a later warning by a great Israelite: "Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall!"

Our Children

The birthday party was to be a great affair. Betsy was to be sixteen and her mother and father had said she could have any kind of party she wanted. Now she and her mother were making the list of guests.
"You've left out Roger?" said mother. "He is in your group, too."
"Oh, he's such a griper. He would spoil everything. He is forever finding flaws in everything. Nothing ever suits him. If you have a new dress or something he says, 'Why didn't you get something you could wear?' If you make a good recitation he ups and says, 'She left out the principal point,' and proceeds to state it, even if he doesn't know. He isn't half as smart as he wishes he was. No, we don't want him."
All the other members of the class were being invited and mother, knowing how the boy would feel, said, "I'd hate to have your party spoiled by a thought of a lonely boy looking in the window, as it were."
"Well, all right. You can put his name down. I only hope that the cake will be the right size and that there will be enough sugar in the lemonade."
On the afternoon of the party the Gripe appeared, dressed in his best and carrying a gorgeous box tied with the biggest bow ever. With a bow to Betsy, he handed the box to her mother saying, "For you." "For me," whispered the surprised lady. "You mean Betsy?" "No'm-m. You see, I haven't any mother so I want you to have this."
Later the Gripe and his elderly hostess had a chat. "I live with Granny. My mother died when I was born. My father is in the Navy. I never had an invitation to a party before.
"Oh, sure, I gripe. Makes them mad and makes them talk to me. You get kinda lonesome just talking to yourself. Oh yes, I like Betsy. I like them all. They don't like me much though, do they?"
"The boy seemed to be let loose," said her mother to Betsy that night. "He talked to me as if he had been shut up for years. You'll have to be friendlier, Betsy. Bring him over for dinner some night soon."
"If I do, remember he is coming to see you," laughed Betsy.

RAYVILLE F. F. A. HOLDS MEETING

The Rayville F. F. A. Chapter held its regular meeting Wednesday morning, September 24. Charles Vanderslice, president, called the meeting to order.
At the last meeting, September 10, a committee was appointed to make plans to erect a booth at the tri-parish fair in Winnsboro. This committee reported the plans for erecting the booth.
Nominations were then accepted for chapter queen. Six nominations were made and from the lively participation it seems that this will be quite a contest.
After a discussion a committee was appointed to arrange for a chartered bus to carry the F. F. A. members to the State Fair at Shreveport. Nearly all 61 members of the chapter plan to attend.
The chairman and the members of each committee of the chapters program of work was read to the group and then posted on the bulletin board. Every member of the chapter was placed on a committee. Mr. Letlow, advisor, then gave a brief talk on the importance of these committees. Those committees lay the groundwork for all the F. F. A. activities throughout the year.

Bible Words to Live by

The following is a scriptural text of special significance to me.

LUKE 9:23—"If any man will come after Me, let him take up his cross daily and follow Me."

* * *

Some time ago, I had the opportunity to visit the Tower of London. I was particularly impressed by a single, meaningful sentence carved by a prisoner on the wall of a cell over three hundred years ago.
It read: "It is not adversity that kills, but the impatience with which we bear adversity."
In merely rebelling against trouble or affliction we often do little more than make a bad situation worse.
It is much more sensible to do something to correct an evil insofar as you can and take the rest with patience.
Christ, Who gladly suffered so much for each of us, expects you and me to be cheerful in meeting adversity.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
By J. Paul Hewitt

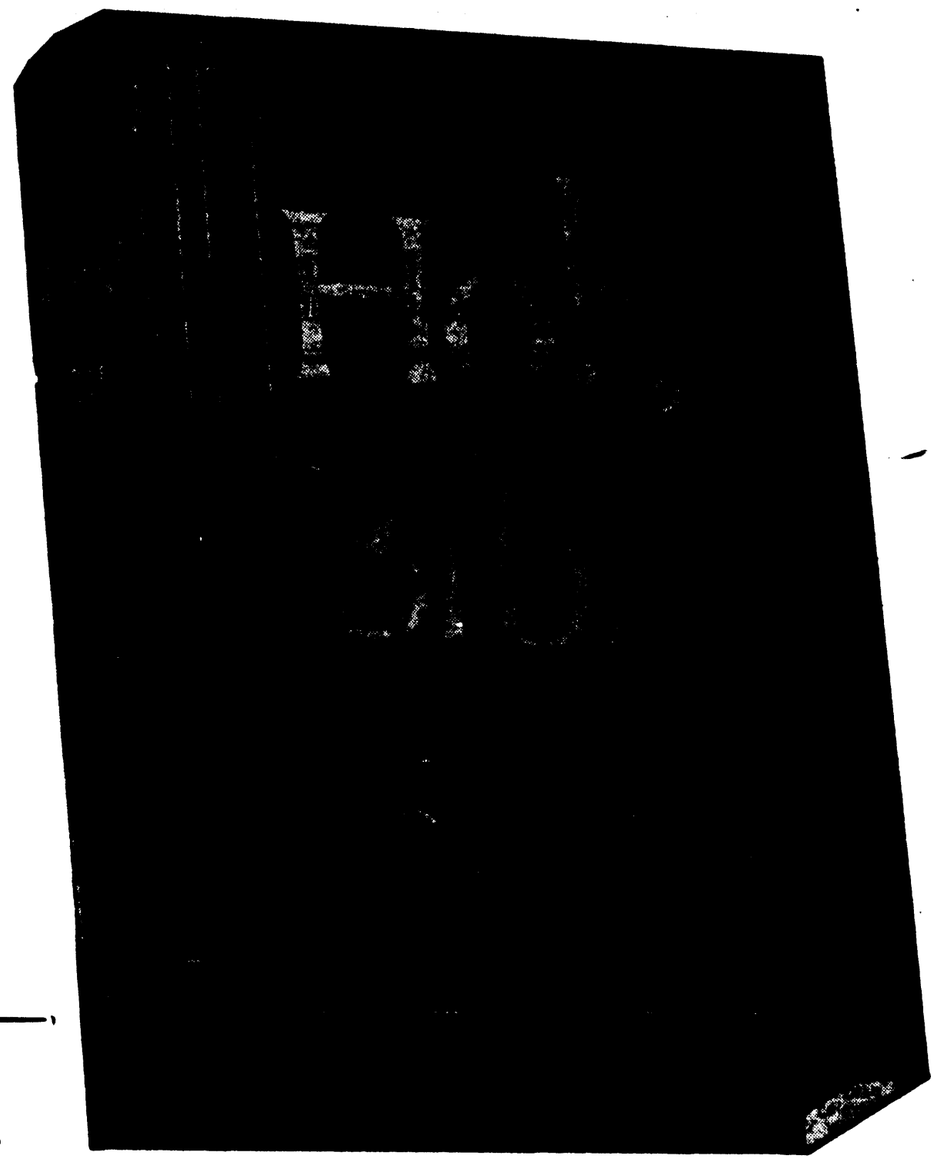

Did you ever think of redecorating your home with music? Music can do a lot to brighten a room, to give a cheerful or luxurious atmosphere to a home, and it's easily done.
All of us have watched movies, and actually seen a room change its feeling because of the music played during the action. We have watched a scene set in a large living room, for example, and before anyone comes into the room, music starts building the mood. The room actually becomes bright and cheerful through gay music before the entrance of the star. Later, perhaps, the same room is a setting for a love scene, with romantic music giving that room a gentle air of expectation. And still later, perhaps, suspenseful music is introduced and then the same room takes on an atmosphere of excitement.
There's no reason why the methods of the movie-makers can't be used to brighten the home when it's so easy to create the exact mood desired with music on radio, records or that we play ourselves.
Another facet to decorating the mood of your home is the way the family will react to the idea. There'll be group singing around the piano in the evenings, and the youngsters will develop new interest in the kind of music you like and will want to learn to play themselves. And what could be easier to play than the new Hammond Chord Organ. Here's an instrument that is really designed for those who want to play without taking lessons. Let us prove it to you. Come in and spend a half-hour alone wth the Hammond Chord Organ and the book of self instructions and we promise it will open a whole new world of music to you. HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. How Two, In Three Bids, Went To Seven

Written for NEA Service

Today's hand shows the most startling bid made in the entire national tournament conducted by the American Contract Bridge League a few weeks ago in Cincinnati. Bill Hanna, of Los Angeles, bid a suit for the first time at the grand slam level—with only a singleton in that suit!

North's opening bid of three no-trump was unusual, but not startling. Most experts use such an opening bid to show a balanced hand of tremendous power, but a few experts use the opening bid of three no-trump to show a solid suit with perhaps some slight hope of winning a trick elsewhere. In other words, the bid is largely gambling and preemptive in nature.

Bill Hanna, holding the South hand, decided to add one gamble to another. His partner could probably win seven tricks with his solid suit. The South hand was good for five tricks in spades or diamonds. Hence there would probably be a good play for twelve tricks if the opening lead happened to be favorable, so Hanna took a shot at six no-trump.

This was more than East could stand. He was going to be on lead against six no-trump, and he could see the ace and king of hearts nestling in his hand! So he doubled with great firmness and even greater speed.

Incidentally, this was one of the most unnecessary doubles ever recorded. The opponents were obviously in an unsound contract. East would surely get a fine score for beating six no-trump even if he failed to double. What could he gain by doubling? Maybe he didn't see what he could lose, but he soon found out.

Hanna looked at the South hand and reflected about that double. It certainly sounded ominous and positive. Evidently East was ready to take the first two tricks against six no-trump. The only hope was that West wouldn't guess the right opening lead.

So South bid seven clubs!

Why did he choose clubs? North's opening bid showed a solid suit, almost undoubtedly a minor suit. It had to be clubs. And, of course, it was.

West would have been a hero if he had led a heart, but he happened to choose a low spade instead. And Hanna rolled thirteen tricks home with great calm, as though he bid grand slams that way every day of the week!

Card Sense

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	1 Heart	?

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-5, Hearts K-Q-9-5, Diamonds 7-3, Clubs K-J-4-2. What do you do?

A—Double. If North is a fine player he will treat your double as a co-operative effort. That is, he will let the double stand if he can help in the defense against hearts; but he will tend to bid again if he has a singleton heart (or none at all).

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-5, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds Q-7-3-2, Clubs K-J-8-4-2. What do you do?

Answer Tomorrow

Always rub polish on silverware before packing it away in newspaper. Then whenever you are ready to unpack the pieces, they can be quickly rubbed down and washed.

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: For the past two and a half years I have been going steady. In the near future I plan to go to college several hundred miles away where I will live on the campus. However, my boy friend objects and says if I really loved him I would change my plans. I could go to a college close enough so that I could live at home. He thinks I should do so and save money for our marriage. Do you think his ideas are right?

REN

ANSWER: I think a boy who is more concerned over the money you can save than over the education you receive is a questionable matrimonial prospect. If he is willing to sacrifice your best interests now, what do you think your chances are of having any independence after marriage? Think it over.

SHOULD SHE TELL?

DEAR MISS DIX: Some time ago I had a love affair with a man who ultimately left me because he wanted to marry someone else. The other woman is a fine person with an unquestionable character. She trusts this man implicitly. He does have a personality that would charm anyone—as I well know. Should I tell her what happened between us? I don't want to tell her out of resentment or hurt, but I know the man is unworthy of her and she will never be happy with him.

E.

ANSWER: Your intentions may be of the best, but the girl will never listen to your warning. Your own affair is over and done with, and there's no use evoking it for a futile purpose. If there were any assurance that the girl is sensible enough to profit by your experience, I'd tell you to go ahead and try to save her from an unhappy marriage, but you must be the judge of the possible outcome. Don't sacrifice yourself needlessly.

DEAR MISS DIX: My mother insists that I be home at ten o'clock when I have a date. My boy friend's father gets home late so we never can get an early start for the movies, ball game or other activity. Even thirty minutes extra would help.

BEVERLY

ANSWER: Ten-thirty is not an unreasonable hour for homecoming, but the extra thirty minutes probably wouldn't satisfy you very long. Couldn't the boy's family make a concession on the other side of the program, and let him out a bit earlier?

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married eleven years and have two children. Since my husband came home from service, he has changed considerably, but I have been able to manage with him. However, three weeks ago his mother was found dead, which was a severe shock to him. Since then he has done nothing but sit around; I can't get him to talk at all.

MRS. M. D.

ANSWER: Give your husband time to recover from his mother's passing; one doesn't recover from so severe a shock in a short time. If the difficulty continues, I suggest that you have him see a psychiatrist. The Veterans' Administration will suggest one for you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am very much in love with a boy 31, three years older than I. We went together over a year, then broke up and he married someone else. Now he and his wife are planning a divorce. He wants me to go out with him, but I don't know whether to wait until he has the divorce or not.

D. G.

ANSWER: Better wait, or you'll be one of that vast army of women who are patiently eating their hearts out waiting for men to get divorces that somehow or other never do seem to materialize. In the meantime, look around for another boy. Don't waste your youth waiting for a woolly-lamb, and not too worthwhile, young man.

Plan Your Gin Rummy Campaign

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

Once you have arranged your hand at gin rummy, your next step is to plan your campaign. Should you go all-out to win the hand quickly, or should you plan to play defensively?

The answer to these questions depends, naturally on your hand. With a hopeless hand, you must plan to defend. With any other type of hand, however, you must preserve some chance to win. Yo can't win by refending; all you can di is reduce the lass.

When you plan to win a hand, yor first choice is between playing for gin and playing for a knock. In most cases you should play for the knock. In general, yo go for gin only if your hand develops late—and particularly when you have the three-meld type of hand.

Some hands begin with possibilities for three melds, and some begin with possibilities for only two melds. The two-meld type is the big winner. Just get your two melds and develop three or four very small cards, so as to get the count down to 10 points or less.

When you have the three-meld type dealt to you there's not much you can do about it. It is usually necessary to sit tight and wait for the third meld to come in.

But if you develop two of your three melds early and you happen to pick up an ace or a deuce think twice before throwing that low card away. You might be able to switch to the two-meld type of hand and this knock early.

Q—In a game of Auction Pinochle recently, the bidder failed to follow suit when he was able to do so. The error was discovered two tricks later. What is the rule?

A—The bidder loses, exactly as though he had failed to make his bid.

Q—How are the points scored in the Italian card game called Scoop or Sweep (in English)?

A—This is a form of Casino. You score one point for getting most of the cards, one point for getting most of the diamonds, one point for winning the seven of diamonds, one point for each time that you "sweep" the table (take all the cards from the table, leaving it bare) and one point for a rather complicated c "settanta."

This combina card of each s cards you have game is very more so than that we play i

PROM home permanent needs no neutralizer!

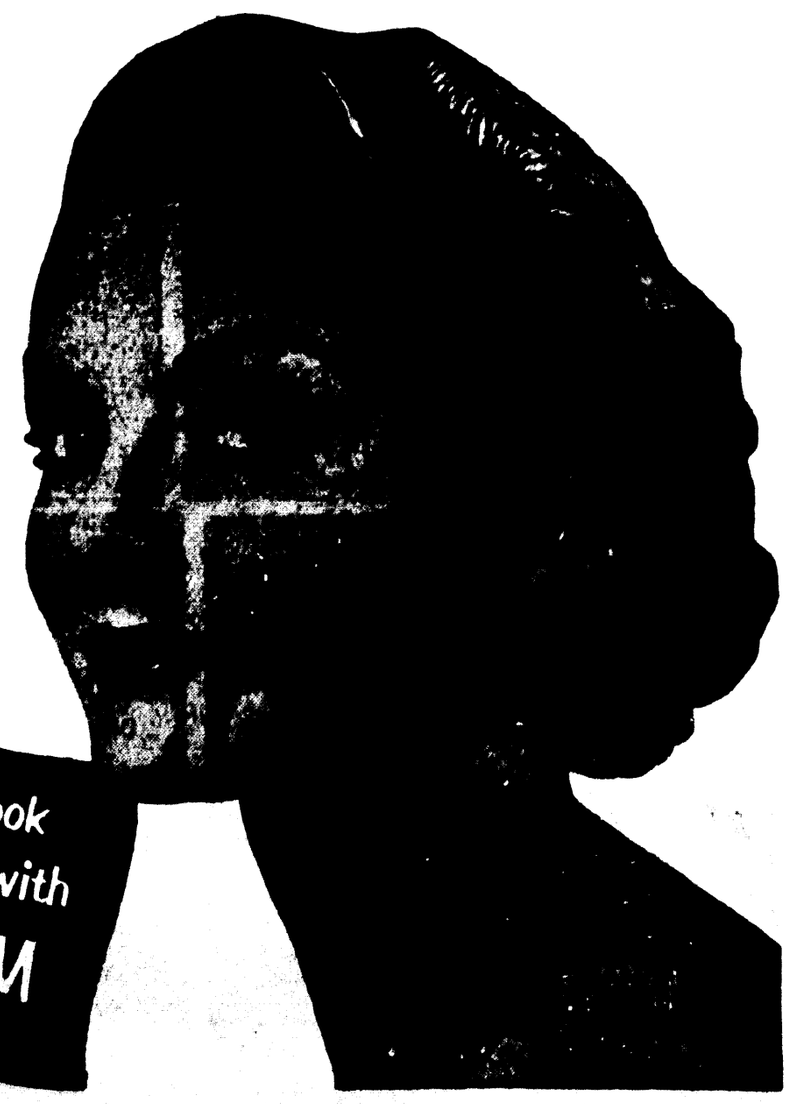

new automatic neutralizing gives better curl with half the work

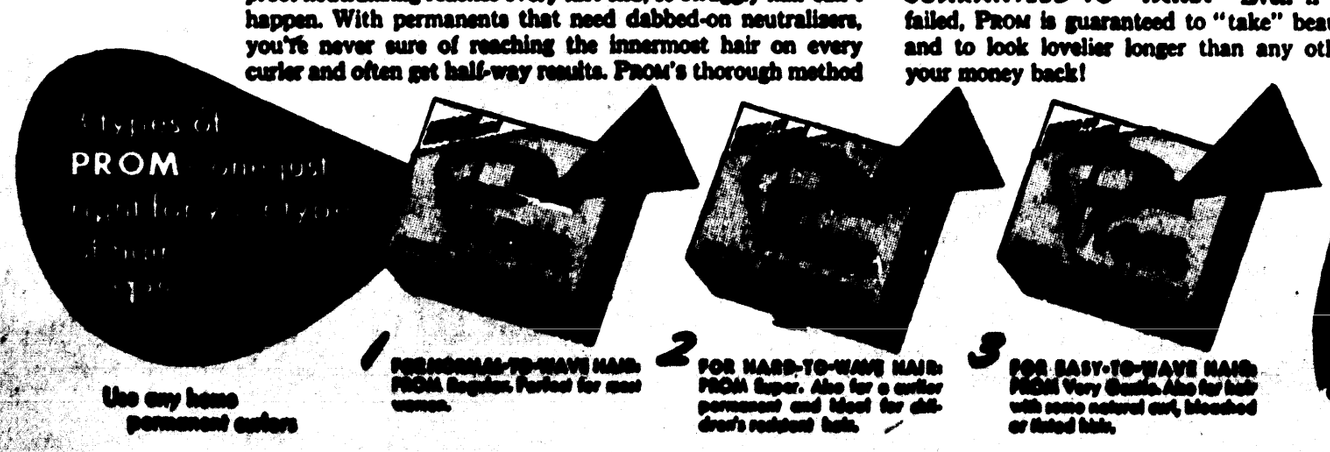

TROUBLE-FREE! NO TIMING WORRIES! PROM's new automatic neutralising ends neutralizer nuisance and clock watching. Simply apply PROM's one wonderful waving lotion as you roll up your curls on any home permanent curlers. Rinse with plain water 30 minutes later. As your hair dries naturally on the curlers, automatic neutralising puts your perfect PROM permanent in to stay!

NO STRAGGLY ENDS! Because it's automatic, PROM's fail-proof neutralising reaches every last end, so straggly hair can't happen. With permanents that need dabbed-on neutralisers, you're never sure of reaching the innermost hair on every curler and often get half-way results. PROM's thorough method always gives the more natural wave you want—with every end in a springier curl.

BETTER HAIR CONDITION! After it is rinsed, PROM neutralises itself naturally, with only the help of air as your hair dries. This gentle process is better for your hair. Leaves it in better condition than any other permanent. And this means that any style you set, lasts longer with a PROM.

GUARANTEED TO "TAKE!" Even if other waves have failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time and to look lovelier longer than any other permanent—or your money back!

3 types of PROM—one just right for your type of hair
$1.50 plus federal tax

Use any home permanent curlers

1 FOR NORMAL-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Regular. Perfect for most women.

2 FOR HARD-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Super. Also for a curlier permanent and ideal for children's resistant hair.

3 FOR EASY-TO-WAVE HAIR: PROM Very Gentle. Also for hair with some natural curl, bleached or tinted hair.

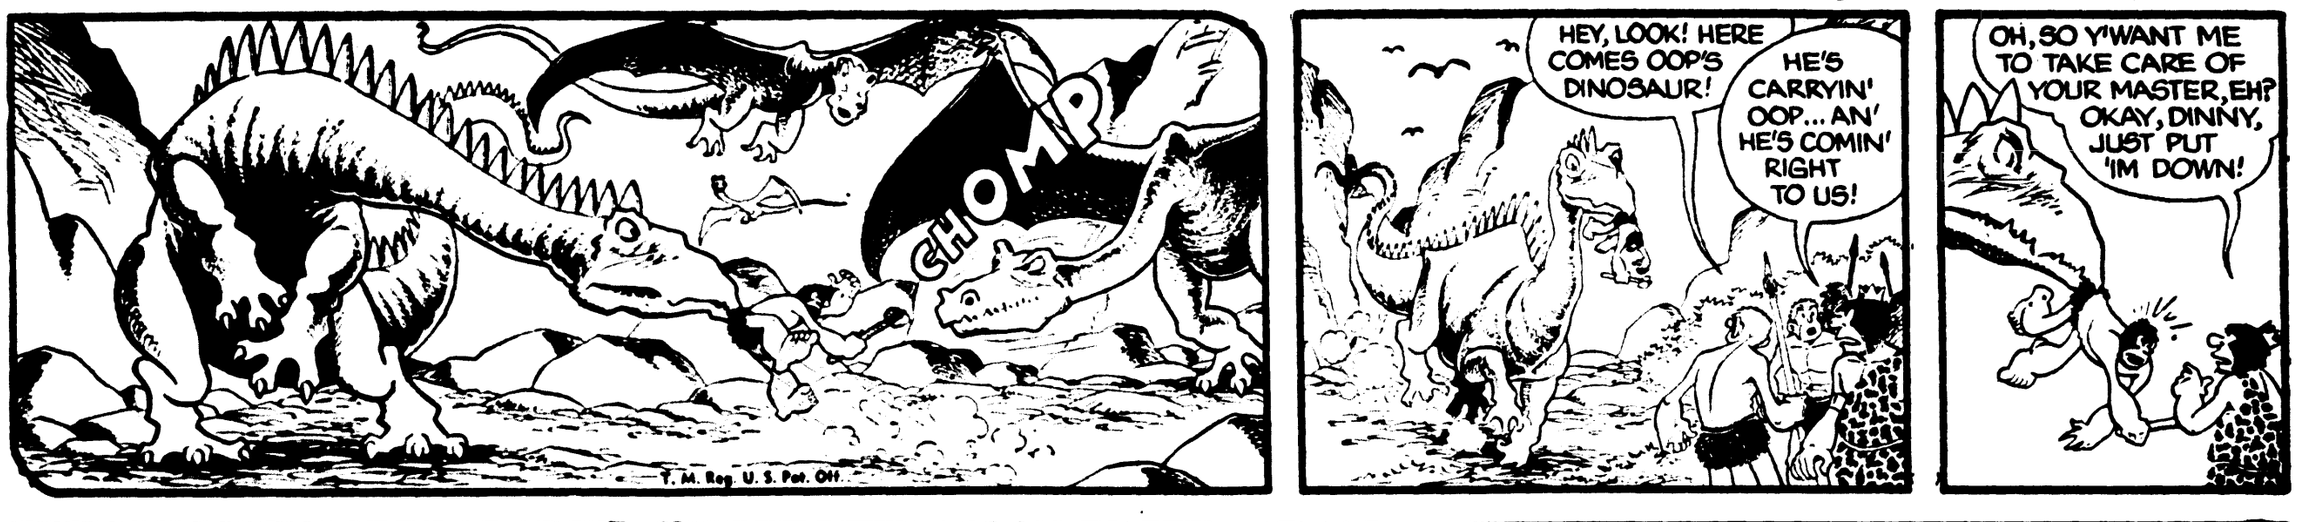

you'll look prettier with a PROM

OF COURSE, CONSTABLE CARMEL, I SUSPECTED ALL ALONG THAT YOU WERE A ROYAL CANADIAN MOUNTED POLICEMAN, BUT I KEPT QUIET IN ORDER TO NOT ALARM TERN BEFORE YOU ARRESTED HIM AS THE JEWEL THIEF!

HM-M-M-YES, OF COURSE!

YOU WERE CERTAINLY REALISTIC WITH THAT KNIFE AND RIFLE—AND YOUR FISTS!

WELL, MAJOR CANYON, I HEARD ON MY TWO-WAY RADIO THAT A BUSH PLANE WAS LOST, WITH THE JEWEL THIEF PROBABLY ABOARD!

NO ONE KNEW WHICH OF YOU WAS GUILTY! WHEN YOU CAME ASHORE I PRETENDED TO BE A FUGITIVE, IN THE HOPE THAT THE RENEGADE WOULD THINK OF ME AS A FRIEND WITH WHOM HE COULD ESCAPE!

DO YOU HEAR THAT, MRS. HIMMERSKORN? TWO PERFECTLY ELIGIBLE BACHELORS—AND THEY ACT AS IF MIZZOU ISN'T EVEN HERE!

IF THAT OFFER TO WEAR SOME OF YOUR CLOTHES STILL HOLDS, I'LL GIVE THOSE LADS A FLASH FASHION SHOW!

TELL ME, GENTLEMEN, DO YOU THINK THIS IS THE RIGHT DRESS IN WHICH TO SIT OUT A STORM WHILE WAITING FOR A RESCUE PLANE TO HAUL US BACK TO CIVILIZATION?

OR WOULD YOU SAY THIS LITTLE OUTFIT IS MORE APPROPRIATE FOR LOUNGING ABOUT THE CANADIAN WOODS?

HOW ARE THEY TAKING IT, MIZZOU?

THEY'RE JUST STARING! DO YOU SUPPOSE THEY ACCIDENTALLY GOT SOME OF THAT CHLOROPHYLL STUFF IN THEIR BLOOD?

IF THIS DOESN'T GET A JINGLE OUT OF YOU LONE SCOUTS, THEN MIZZOU HAD BETTER TURN IN HER CARD IN THE FEMALE UNION!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

BY LYMAN YOUNG and TOM MASSEY

COME ON, LET'S CLIMB TO THE TOP OF THIS THING! WATER IS COMING IN THE DOOR AND IT'S UP TO OUR ANKLES! — AND CROCODILES ARE SWARMING OUTSIDE BY THE HUNDREDS!

WE'RE ALMOST SAFE! — BUT NOT FOR LONG, TIM...THE SHIP IS SINKING RAPIDLY INTO THE QUICK-SAND!

HOW MUCH TIME DO YOU THINK WE HAVE, MR. LUNDY? — ABOUT FIVE OR TEN MINUTES, SPUD!

THEN LET'S GO DOWN FIGHTING! LET'S START SHOOTING CROCS AND FINISH OFF AS MANY AS WE CAN BEFORE THEY FINISH US!

GEE-FOR EVERY ONE WE SHOOT, TWO SHOW UP!

I'M ABOUT OUT OF AMMUNITION! — ME, TOO! AND THE WATER IS ALMOST UP TO OUR FEET!

WELL, THERE'S MY LAST SHOT! — LOOK, LADS! LOOK! — CANOES!

IT-IT'S OUR OLD FRIEND, THE CHIEF OF THE BLACK SWAMP NATIVES!

BOY, ARE WE GLAD TO SEE YOU CHIEF! — ME HEAR SHOOTING...ME COME SEE AND FIND FRIENDS IN TROUBLE! ME TAKE HOME!

ABOARD THE DISABLED COMET-SHIP, FLASH HURRIEDLY TRIES TO REPAIR THE COSMIC-ENERGY STEERING UNIT BEFORE THE COMET PLUNGES INTO THE SUN. ALTHOUGH FLAMMA HAS BEEN UNDER LOCK AND KEY, SHE MANAGES TO ESCAPE THROUGH A SECRET PASSAGE, AND MAKES ONE FINAL, DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO SEIZE CONTROL OF THE COMET-WORLD.

IN HER HASTE TO GRAB THE ALL-POWERFUL COSMIC-GUN, FLAMMA MAKES A FATAL MISTAKE. FLASH WARNS HER: "DON'T SHOOT! YOU'VE LOADED THE GUN WITH AN OVERCHARGE! IT'LL BLOW UP!" BUT FLAMMA SNEERS KNOWINGLY, "THAT OLD TRICK WON'T SAVE YOU, FLASH. YOU'VE SPOILED MY PLANS ONCE TOO OFTEN--THIS TIME I'LL FINISH YOU OFF!"

DOOMED BY HER OWN POWER-MADNESS, NOTHING CAN SAVE THE HEADSTRONG FLAMMA. FLASH BARELY MANAGES TO SHIELD HIMSELF AS THE BACKFIRING EXPLOSION DESTROYS THE BADLY-NEEDED RAY-GUN AND THE INSTRUMENT PANELS CONTROLLING THE COMET'S COSMIC ENERGY.

ZARKOV, WEAK BUT ALERT, RETURNS WITH DALE TO FIND THE CONTROL ROOM A SHAMBLES. WHILE FLASH SALVAGES SOME ROCKET-POWER UNITS, HE EXPLAINS: "THE COMET IS DOOMED TO CRASH INTO THE SUN NOW. WE CAN'T USE ITS POWER ANY MORE. OUR ONLY CHANCE IS TO TURN THIS SPACE-SPHERE INTO A ROCKET-SHIP AND ESCAPE!"

SKILLED IN SPACE SCIENCE, FLASH AND HIS FRIENDS ACCOMPLISH THE SEEMINGLY IMPOSSIBLE, RIGGING POWERFUL ROCKET-BATTERIES AND NEW CONTROLS. AT LAST FLASH CAN ANNOUNCE: "STRAP DOWN FOR BLAST-OFF!" THE TINY SPACE-SPHERE SHUDDERS IN ITS SWIFT TUG OF WAR TO ESCAPE THE TWIN GRAVITIES OF THE COMET AND THE SUN!

THE DOOMED COMET SWEEPS INTO THE SOLAR FURNACE IN A BLAZE OF FATAL GLORY. FLASH'S SPACE-SHIP, EVEN WITH FULL ROCKET-POWER, CAN ONLY CIRCLE PAST THE SUN IN AN ORBIT OF SEARING HEAT. HE HASN'T YET TOLD DALE AND ZARKOV THAT THEY'LL NEVER HAVE ENOUGH POWER TO GET BACK TO THE EARTH!
